Forecasting Nuclear Proliferation in the 21st Century

VOLUME I: THE ROLE OF THEORY

Edited by William C. Potter with Gaukhar Mukhatzhanova
CONTENTS

Acknowledgments vii

1. Forecasting Proliferation:
The Role of Theory, an Introduction
William C. Potter and Gaukhar Mukhatzhanova 1

2. The Study of Nuclear Proliferation and Nonproliferation:
Toward a New Consensus?
Jacques E. C. Hymans 13

3. Domestic Models of Political Survival:
Why Some Do and Others Don’t (Proliferate)
Etel Solingen 38

4. Beyond the Security Model:
Assessing the Capacity of Neoclassical Realism
for Forecasting Nuclear Proliferation
Natasha E. Bajema 58

5. Nuclear Latency and Nuclear Proliferation
Scott D. Sagan 80

6. When Does a State Become a “Nuclear Weapons State”?
An Exercise in Measurement Validation
Jacques E. C. Hymans 102

7. The Little-Known Story of Deproliferation:
Why States Give Up Nuclear Weapons Activities
Harald Müller and Andreas Schmidt 124
CONTENTS

8 Why Do States Proliferate?
Quantitative Analysis of the Exploration, Pursuit, and Acquisition of Nuclear Weapons
Philipp C. Bleek 159

9 A World of Nuclear Powers: A Gedanken Experiment
Lewis A. Dunn 193

Notes 231
Contributors 277
Index 281