Recovering Reason

Essays in Honor of
Thomas L. Pangle

Edited by Timothy Burns
Contents

Acknowledgements ix

Introduction
Timothy Burns xi

Part I: Pre-Socratic Thought 1

1. Homer and the Foundation of Classical Civilization 3
   Peter J. Ahrensdorf

2. Prometheus and Oedipus: The Arrogance and Limits of Art and Reason 17
   Arlene W. Saxonhouse

3. What War Discloses 31
   Timothy Burns

4. The Classical Rationalism of Thucydides 53
   Steven Forde

5. The Aristophanic Question 67
   Paul A. Rahe

6. On the Power of Rhetoric: Gorgias and the Philosophic Foundation of Sophistry 83
   Michael P. Zuckert

Part II: Socratic Rationalism 99

7. Socrates and the Sophists 101
   Devin Stauffer

8. Thrasymachus’s Blush 117
   David Leibowitz

9. Civic or Human Virtue in Aristotle’s Politics 129
   Robert Goldberg
Contents

10. Happiness in the Perspective of Philosophy
    Christopher Bruell 147

11. Maimonides's Treatment of Providence
    Linda R. Rabieh 161

12. A Slingshot Recoils: The Critique of Philosophy
    in Halevi's Kuzari
    Richard S. Ruderman 179

Part III: On Leo Strauss 193

13. Thinking Nietzsche Through and Strauss's Recovery
    of Classical Political Philosophy
    Christopher Baldwin 195

14. John Toland and Leo Strauss on Esoteric Writing
    J. Judd Owen 209

15. Did Plato Believe in his own Metaphysics? And Did Strauss?
    Waller R. Newell 223

16. Leo Strauss on Machiavelli and the Origins of Modernity
    Nathan Tarcov 239

Part IV: Modern Political Philosophy 249

17. Aristotelian Kingship and Lockean Prerogative
    Ross J. Corbett 251

18. "For Which Human Nature Can Never Be Too Grateful":
    Montesquieu as the Heir of Christianity
    Clifford Orwin 269

19. "They Flock into Cities; Their Situation is Less Precarious":
    David Hume and the Intellectual Origins of the American Founding
    John W. Danford 285
20. Rousseau on the Philosophical Life
Les rêveries du Promeneur Solitaire
Heinrich Meier
305

21. Schiller on Aesthetic Education: Radicalization by Return
Fred Baumann
325

22. Stendhal and the Promise of Happiness:
An Introduction to the Charterhouse of Parma
Robert C. Bartlett
345

23. Tocqueville's Burke, or Story as History
Ralph Lerner
369

Part V: Contemporary Issues and Political Philosophy
377

24. Corrupting or Edifying? Cato the Elder and Cicero on the Role of Philosophy in Roman Civic Education
Bryan-Paul Frost
379

25. Abstract Painting and the Rule of Doubt
Laurie Fendrich
399

26. Kissinger and Thucydides
Donald Kagan
413

27. Charles Taylor as a Theorist of Multiculturalism
Recognition/Authenticity
H. Donald Forbes
421

28. Neuroplasticity, Perfectibility, and Three Ideas of Nature
Norman Doidge
443

Bibliography of the Published Work of Thomas L. Pangle
465

Index
475

About the Contributors
483