The Practice of Public Diplomacy

Confronting Challenges Abroad

Edited by
William A. Rugh
CONTENTS

Preface vii
Acknowledgments xiii
List of Contributors xv

Part I Public Diplomacy in Europe and in Southwest Asia
1 Ameliorating Strained Relations: Public Diplomacy in Serbia 3
   Lucija Bajzer
2 Revitalizing Relations with Turkey 21
   Nicole E. Farina
3 Iran and the United Kingdom: A Study in Contrasts 37
   Sarah M. Riley
4 Afghanistan and Pakistan: Public Diplomacy during Conflict and Instability 55
   Rachel E. Smith

Part II Public Diplomacy in Africa
5 Kenya’s “Native Son” and Enduring Local Issues 75
   Mabel Ntiru
6 Sierra Leone: Public Diplomacy Unwired 91
   Tulani N. Elisa

Part III Public Diplomacy in Asia
7 The Staying Power of Personal Contact in South Korean Public Diplomacy 109
   Yoon-Jeong Huh
Contents

8 Economic Issues and Anti-Americanism in Japan 125
   Yohei Ogawa

Part IV  New Media or Old?

9 U.S. Public Diplomacy 2.0 in Asia: Beyond Catch-up 143
   Takahiro Yamamoto

10 New Media or “the Last Three Feet” in Africa? 159
   Rachel O. Okunubi

11 New Media or Old in Egypt and South Korea? 175
   John Rahaghi

12 Finding the Right Media Formula—from the Soviet Union to Russia 191
   Elise S. Crane

Part V  New Thinking about Public Diplomacy

13 Should Public Diplomacy Be Privatized? 209
   Nicole Gabrielle Kravec

14 Do Peace Corps Volunteers Do Public Diplomacy? 227
   Minta Madeley

15 Conclusion: Field Experiences and Best Practices 243
   William A. Rugh

Index 259