Beyond Friend and Foe

The Politics of Critical Theory

By

Volker Heins

BRILL

LEIDEN • BOSTON
2011
Contents

Volume Foreword vii
Acknowledgments ix

Introduction: Critical Theory and the Political 1

Chapter One Knowing the Worst: Critical Theory as Trauma Narrative 29

Chapter Two From Factions to Rackets: The Traps of Conspiracy Thinking 54

Chapter Three Flâneurs without Borders: Benjamin and the Cultural Politics of Travel Writing 78

Chapter Four Meanings of Barbarism: Civil Society and Its Others 108

Chapter Five Orientalizing America: Habermas and the Changing Discourse of Europe 137

Chapter Six Age of Access? The Place of Property in Critical Theory 166

Chapter Seven Realizing Honneth: Redistribution, Recognition, and Global Justice 192

Chapter Eight From Persons to Peoples: The Politics of Recognition in International Society 214

Bibliography 241
Index 255