Aftermaths of War

Women's Movements and Female Activists, 1918-1923

Edited by
Ingrid Sharp
Matthew Stibbe

BRILL

LEIDEN • BOSTON
2011
CONTENTS

Acknowledgements ....................................................... ix

List of Abbreviations .................................................. xi

List of Illustrations .................................................... xv

List of Contributors ................................................... xvii

Introduction: Women’s Movements and Female Activists in the Aftermath of War: International Perspectives 1918-1923
    Ingrid Sharp and Matthew Stibbe ................................ 1

PART ONE

COMMEMORATION, REMEMBERING, REMOBILISATION

The aftermaths of defeat: the fallen, the catastrophe, and the public response of women to the end of the First World War in Bulgaria
    Nikolai Vukov ...................................................... 29

The women's suffrage campaign in Italy in 1919 and Voce nuova ("New Voice"): Corporatism, nationalism and the struggle for political rights
    Emma Schiavon ..................................................... 49

Raps across the knuckles: The extension of war culture by radical nationalist women journalists in post-1918 Germany
    Christiane Streubel ................................................ 69

The Rhineland Horror campaign and the aftermath of war
    Erika Kuhlman ...................................................... 89
PART TWO
THE RENEGOTIATION OF GENDER ROLES

From "Free Love" to Married Love: Gender politics, Marie Stopes, and middlebrow fiction by women in the early nineteen twenties
Ann Rea ......................................................... 113

The disappearing surplus: the spinster in the post-war debate in Weimar Germany, 1918-1920
Ingrid Sharp .................................................... 135

After the vote was won. The fate of the women's suffrage movement in Russia after the October Revolution: individuals, ideas and deeds
Olga Shnyrova .................................................. 159

Women activists in Albania following independence and World War I
Fatmira Musaj and Beryl Nicholson .......................... 179

PART THREE
WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE AND POLITICAL RIGHTS

A bitter-sweet victory: Feminisms in France (1918-1923)
Christine Bard .................................................. 199

Sisters and Comrades. Women's movements and the "Austrian Revolution": Gender in insurrection, the Räte movement, parties and parliament
Gabriella Hauch ................................................ 221

Who represents Hungarian women? The demise of the liberal bourgeois women's rights movement and the rise of the right-wing women's movement in the aftermath of World War I
Judith Szapor ................................................... 245
CONTENTS

Soldiers, members of parliament, social activists: the Polish women's movement after World War I
Sylwia Kuźma-Markowska ........................................... 265

Political and public aspects of the activity of the Lithuanian women's movement, 1918-1923
Virginija Jurėnienė ................................................... 287

PART FOUR
RECONSTRUCTING COMMUNITIES/
VISIONS OF PEACE

Diverse constructions: Feminist and conservative women's movements and their contribution to the (re-)construction of gender relations in Hungary after the First World War
Judit Acsády ............................................................ 309

Elsa Brändström and the reintegration of returning prisoners of war and their families in post-war Germany and Austria
Matthew Stibbe .......................................................... 333

“We stand on the threshold of a new age”: Alice Masaryková, the Czechoslovak Red Cross, and the building of a new Europe
Bruce R. Berglund ....................................................... 355

“Having Seen Enough”: Eleanor Franklin Egan and the journalism of Great War displacement
David Hudson ............................................................ 375

Britain in the Balkans: the response of the Scottish Women's Hospital Units
Jill Liddington ........................................................... 395

Index .............................................................................. 419