Contents

Preface ix
Acknowledgements xi

1 A Crisis or Opportunity?: Constructing a Theory of Terror Response 1

2 To Conquer Fear, You Must Become Fear 23

3 Shaping Fear: The Role of Mass Fear in Civil Liberties Reductions after Terrorist Attacks 55

4 The United States after 9/11: Tracing the Process of How the PATRIOT Act Was Passed 87

5 A New Kind of Enemy: Presidential versus Parliamentary Democracies in the War on Terror 147

6 Balancing Fear: Why Counterterror Legislation Was Blocked after the Oklahoma City and London Bombings 191

7 Living with Terrorism: Executive Power and the Future of Civil Liberties 219

Bibliography 233
Index 243