Arctic Security in an Age of Climate Change

Edited by

JAMES KRASKA
U.S. Naval War College and
Foreign Policy Research Institute
Contents

List of Figures and Tables  page ix
Contributor Biographies  xi
Foreword – Arctic Futures: The Politics of Transformation  xxi
Oran R. Young

PART I INTRODUCTION: CIRCUMPOLAR PERSPECTIVES

1 Arctic Security: The Indirect Approach  3
   Franklyn Griffiths

2 The Challenges and Security Issues of Arctic Marine Transport  20
   Lawson W. Brigham

3 The Arctic Meltdown and Its Implication for Ports and Shipping in Asia  33
   Joshua H. Ho

PART II EUROPEAN SECURITY INTERESTS IN THE ARCTIC

4 Arctic Security and Norway  47
   Rolf Tamnes

5 Norway and the Arctic: Between Multilateral Governance and Geopolitics  64
   Geir Flikke
Contents

6 Military Aspects of Russia's Arctic Policy: Hard Power and Natural Resources
   Katarzyna Zysk

7 The Russian Arctic in the Twenty-First Century
   Caitlyn L. Antrim

8 The Rise of the Arctic on the Global Stage
   Pauli Järvenpää and Tomas Ries

9 The Arctic Challenge to Danish Foreign and Security Policy
   Nikolaj Petersen

10 Arctic Security: A Greenlandic Perspective
    Adam Worm

11 Territorial Discourses and Identity Politics: Iceland's Role in the Arctic
    Valur Ingimundarson

PART III NORTH AMERICAN SECURITY INTERESTS IN THE ARCTIC

12 Canada and the Newly Emerging International Arctic Security Regime
    Rob Huebert

13 Polar Race or Polar Saga? Canada and the Circumpolar World
    P. Whitney Lackenbauer

14 The New Arctic Geography and U.S. Strategy
    James Kraska

15 Arctic Security Considerations and the U.S. Navy's "Arctic Roadmap"
    David W. Titley and Courtney C. St. John

Afterword: A United Kingdom Perspective on the Role of Navies in Delivering Arctic Security
    Lee Willett

Index