POLITICAL MARKETING

VOLUME III

Ethics, Practices, and Advances in Political Marketing

Edited by

Paul R. Baines
Contents

Volume III
Ethics, Practices, and Advances in Political Marketing

45. The Political Brand: A Consumer Perspective 1
   Gareth Smith and Alan French

46. Friends and Relations: Long-term Approaches to Political Campaigning 19
   Dianne Dean and Robin Croft

47. Political Advertising: Why Is It So Boring? 41
   Margaret Scammell and Ana I. Langer

48. Political Advertising and Information Seeking: Comparing Exposure via Traditional and Internet Channels 63
   Lynda Lee Kaid

49. The Professionalization of Political Communication: Continuities and Change in Media Practices 79
   Ralph Negrine and Darren G. Lilleker

50. Constructivist Mind: False Memory, Freedom, and Democracy 97
    Wojciech Cwalina and Andrzej Falkowski

51. Marketing the Political Message: American Influences on British Practices 111
    Paul R. Baines

52. The Ethics of Political Marketing Practices, the Rhetorical Perspective 135
    Steve Banker

    David M. Farrell

54. An Investigation into the Relationship between Political Activity Levels and Political Market Orientation 157
    Robert P. Ormrod and Stephan C. Henneberg

55. Machiavellian Marketing: The Development of Corporate Lobbying in the UK 177
    Phil Harris and Andrew Lock

56. Political Relationship Marketing: Some Macro/Micro Thoughts 195
    Stephan C. Henneberg and Nicholas J. O'Shaughnessy

57. Interpreting Discourse: A Critical Discourse Analysis of the Marketing of an Extreme Right Party 225
    Mona Moufahim, Michael Humphreys, Darryn Mitussis and James Fitchett

58. Selling Terror: The Symbolization and Positioning of Jihad 249
    Nicholas J. O'Shaughnessy and Paul R. Baines

59. The Dark Side of Political Marketing: Islamist Propaganda, Reversal Theory and British Muslims 265
    Paul R. Baines, Nicholas J. O'Shaughnessy, Kevin Moloney, Barry Richards, Sara Butler and Mark Gill
60. Toward an Ethical Framework for Political Marketing
   Nicholas O'Shaughnessy
   283

61. The Wisdom of the War Room: US Campaigning
   and Americanization
   Margaret Scammell
   299

62. Does the European Union (EU) Need a Propaganda Watchdog
   Like the US Institute of Propaganda Analysis to Strengthen
   Its Democratic Civil Society and Free Markets?
   Johanna Fawkes and Kevin Moloney
   323

63. The “Americanisation” Myth in European Political Markets:
   A Focus on the United Kingdom
   Paul R. Baines, Christian Scheucher and Fritz Plasser
   339

64. Template Revolutions: Marketing U.S. Regime Change
   in Eastern Europe
   Gerald Sussman and Sascha Krader
   359

65. Measuring the Effect of Political Advertising and the Case of the 1995 Irish Divorce Referendum
   Phil Harris, Andrew Lock and Nicholas O'Shaughnessy
   379

66. When the British ‘Tommy’ Went to War, Public Opinion Followed
   Paul R. Baines and Robert M. Worcester
   393

67. The Labour Campaign
   Dominic Wring
   413

68. Political Marketing: The Cause of an Emerging Democratic Deficit in Britain?
   Darren G. Lilleker
   427