Sustained Dialogue in Conflicts
Transformation and Change

- Harold H. Saunders

with

Teddy Nemeroff

Priya Narayan Parker

Randa M. Slim

Philip D. Stewart

palgrave
macmillan
Contents

Preface ix
Acknowledgments and Contributors xiii
Prologue Why Sustained Dialogue? 1

Part I Historical Setting and Conceptual Framework
1 The First Half-Century: Setting and Timeline 11
2 Peace Process: Pre-1982 Roots of Sustained Dialogue 17
3 Framework for Analysis: Sustained Dialogue 23

Part II The First Laboratory
4 Beginning a Dialogue: Dialogue about Dialogue 33
5 How to Talk about Problems and Relationships? The Struggle for Dialogue 39
6 Talking, Listening, and Thinking Interactively: Dialogue Experienced 57
7 Thinking Together about Acting Together: Sustained Dialogue Takes Shape 67
8 Conceptualizing the Process 87

Part III Testing the Five-Stage Process of Sustained Dialogue
9 The First Test: Tajikistan 103
10 Testing the Limits: Armenia, Azerbaijan, Nagorno Karabakh 135

Philip D. Stewart
Randa M. Slim

Part IV Sustained Dialogue in Peacebuilding

12 Mini-Dialogues and Hybrids in Tajikistan 191
Randa M. Slim

13 Place, Process, and People: The Three Ps of Developing a Practice of Sustained Dialogue in Southern Africa 207
Teddy Nemeroff

14 Sustained Dialogue Campus Network 225
Priya Narayan Parker

Part V Reflections

15 Evaluation in an Open-Ended Political Process: Civic Learning and the Citizen Evaluator 249

Epilogue Transforming Relationships... Designing Change 265

Notes 275

Index 287