THE AMERICAN POLITICAL SYSTEM

Ken Kollman
University of Michigan
CONTENTS

Preface  xviii

CHAPTER 1. Introduction ................................. 3
  • Understanding American Politics       5
    Institutions 5
  • Collective Dilemmas and the Need for Government 10
  • Types of Collective Dilemmas 12
    Collective-Action Problems 13
    Prisoner’s Dilemma Situations 14
    Coordination Problems 16
    Unstable Coalitions 18
  • Principal-Agent Problems 20
  • Designing Institutions 22
  • Types of Government Institutions 24
  • Analyzing Politics and Government 28

Further Reading 30
Key Terms 30

CHAPTER 2. The Constitution ......................... 33
  • What Do Constitutions Accomplish? 35
  • Origins of the American Political System 36
    Colonial Charters 37
    The Revolution 38
    The Declaration of Independence 39
    The Colonial and State Constitutions of the 1780s 40
    The Articles of Confederation 41
    The Constitutional Debates 42
    Difficult Compromises 44
• Institutional Features of the Constitution 46
  A President as Executive 46
  A Bicameral Legislature 47
  An Independent Judiciary 48
  Separation of Powers 49
  Checks and Balances 49
  Federalism with National Authority over the States 50
  Reserved Powers for the States 51
  Amending the Constitution 51

• The Ratification Debate 51
  Federalists versus Antifederalists 52
  The Bill of Rights 53

• In Comparison: National Constitutions 55

• The “Living Constitution” 56
  Relative Powers of the Branches of Government 56
  Slavery 58
  National Power versus States’ Rights 58
  Direct Election of the President and Senators 59
  Rights and Liberties 59

• Consequences of the Constitution 60

Further Reading 64
Key Terms 65

CHAPTER 3. Federalism 67

• Federation and Confederation 69
  Federalism as a Response to Collective Dilemmas 70

• The Dynamics of American Federalism 71

• The Courts and the Constitution 73

• Toward a Stronger National Government 77
  Progressive Era, 1896–1913 77
  New Deal Era, 1933–1952 77
  Great Society Era, 1964–1977 79
  Recent Trends 79

• Federal Financing 80

• Federalism and Race 81

• State Governments 83
  The Institutions of State Government 84
  State Power 85

• Local Governments 85
  Forms of City Government 86
  Special Districts 87

• In Comparison: American Federalism 89
Internal Institutions of Congress 151
An Increasingly Institutionalized Congress 152
Party Leaders 154
Committees 156
Other Internal Features 159

In Comparison: Legislative Institutions 161

The Process of Lawmaking 163
Proposals 163
Referrals 163
Committee Action 165
Moving Bills to the Floor 165
Senate Distinctiveness 167
Floor Action 168
Conference Committees 169
Presidential Signature 169

Making Law in a Separation-of-Powers System 170

Taking Account of Congress 170

Further Reading 172
Key Terms 173

CHAPTER 6. The Presidency .......................... 175

Collective Dilemmas, Principal-Agent Problems, and the Presidency 177

Constitutional Bases of Presidential Power 180

In Comparison: Executive Forms 184

Shaping the Modern Presidency 186
Nineteenth-Century Presidents 187
The Partisan Presidency 188
The Populist Presidency 190

Enhancing Presidential Power 192
Theodore Roosevelt 192
Woodrow Wilson 193
Franklin Delano Roosevelt 194

Today's Powerful Presidency 196
The Veto 197
Appointments 199
Executive Orders, Executive Agreements, and Signing Statements 201
Administrative and Financial Resources 202

Is the Presidency Too Powerful? 207
Investigations and Impeachment 208
Electoral Pressures 209
Institutionalizing Presidential Power 210

Further Reading 210
Key Terms 211
CHAPTER 7. The Bureaucracy .................................. 213

• What Is the Federal Bureaucracy? 215

• Solvers of Collective Dilemmas 217

• Development of the Executive Bureaucracy 221
  Growth in Size 221
  The Spoils System 223
  Civil Service Reform 225
  Modern Reforms of the Bureaucracy 226
  Privatization and Marketization 229

• Principals and Agents in the Executive Bureaucracy 230
  Drift 231
  The Motivations of Bureaucrats 234

• Bureaucrats as Lawmakers 235

• Political Influences on the Bureaucracy 237
  Presidential Appointments 237
  Congressional Budgeting Decisions 238
  Congressional Oversight 240
  Interest Groups 241

• In Comparison: Bureaucratic Traditions 242

• Two Views of Bureaucracy 243
  The Progressive Vision of a Fair, Competent, and Impartial Bureaucracy 244
  The Democratic Vision of a Bureaucracy Responsive to the Wishes of Politicians Elected by the People 244

Further Reading 246
Key Terms 247

CHAPTER 8. The Judiciary ..................................... 249

• Courts and Collective Dilemmas 251
  Prisoner's Dilemmas 251
  Coordination Problems 251
  Independence and Legitimacy 252

• Constitutional Basis 253

• Establishing Judicial Power 253
  Judicial Review 254
  Supremacy of Federal Courts and Federal Law 256
  The Court of Last Resort 256

• Organization of the American Judiciary 259
  Types of Cases 260
  Standing and Class Actions 260
  Federal Courts 261
  State Courts and the Electoral Connection 262
CHAPTER 14. Mass Media and the Press .............. 453

- Mass Media and the Press in a Democracy 455
  - Providing Essential Information 456
  - Evaluating and Interpreting 456
  - Helping Solve Collective Dilemmas 457

- Trends in Media and the Press 458
  - The Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries 458
  - Network Television Comes to Predominate 459
  - Rise of New Media 461

- Mass Media Companies and the Profit Motive 463

- Government Regulation 465

- In Comparison: Mass Media 467

- Are the American Press and Mass Media Biased? 469
  - Discerning Bias 469
  - Types of Bias 470
  - Is Media Bias a Problem? 472

- Media Effects 472
  - Who Chooses Which Media Content, and Why? 473
  - What Is the Effect of Specific Media Content? 475

- The Media as Principals and Agents 477
  - The Press and Mass Media as Principals 477
  - The Press and Mass Media as Agents 479

Further Reading 480
Key Terms 481