The Angler in the Environment:
Social, Economic, Biological, and Ethical Dimensions
Proceedings of the 5th World Recreational Fishing Conference

Edited by

T. DOUGLAS BEARD, JR.
U.S. Geological Survey, National Climate Change and Wildlife Science Center
Mail Stop 301, 12201 Sunrise Valley Drive, Reston, Virginia 20192, USA

ROBERT ARLINGHAUS
Department of Biology and Ecology of Fishes
Leibniz-Institute of Freshwater Ecology and Inland Fisheries
Müggelseedamm 310, Berlin 12587, Germany
and
Inland Fisheries Management Laboratory, Faculty of Agriculture and Horticulture
Humboldt University of Berlin, Philippstrasse 13, Haus 7, Berlin 10115, Germany

STEPHEN G. SUTTON
Fishing and Fisheries Research Centre, School of Earth and Environmental Sciences
James Cook University, Townsville 4812, Australia

American Fisheries Society Symposium 75
Proceedings of the “5th World Recreational Fishing Conference”
Held in Dania Beach, Florida, USA
November 10–12, 2008

American Fisheries Society
Bethesda, Maryland, USA
2011
Contents

Acknowledgments ................................................................. vii
Symbols and Abbreviations ...................................................... ix

Introduction .............................................................................. 1
  Jason Schratwieser, Stephen G. Sutton, and Robert Arlinghaus

Governance

A Property Rights-Based View on Management of Inland Recreational Fisheries: Contrasting Common and Public Fishing Rights Regimes in Germany and the United States ......................................................... 13
  Katrin Daedlow, T. Douglas Beard, Jr., and Robert Arlinghaus

Marine Recreational Fishermen and Oceans Governance ................................................. 39
  J. Michael Nussman, Gilbert C. Radonski, and Andrew J. Loftus

Social Management Tools and Issues

Opinions of Fisheries Researchers, Managers, and Anglers towards Recreational Fishing Issues: An Exploratory Analysis for North America ........................................ 51
  Caleb T. Hasler, Alison H. Colotelo, Tobias Rapp, Elizabeth Jamieson, Karyne Bellehumeur, Robert Arlinghaus, and Steven J. Cooke

FishSmart: Harnessing the Knowledge of Stakeholders to Enhance U.S. Marine Recreational Fisheries with Application to the Atlantic King Mackerel Fishery .................... 75
  Thomas F. Ihde, Michael J. Wilberg, David H. Secor, and Thomas J. Miller

Involving Recreational Anglers in Developing Best Handling Practices for Catch-and-Release Fishing of Bonefish: Using Citizen Science to Further Stewardship ....... 95
  Andy J. Danylchuk, Steven J. Cooke, Cori D. Suski, Tony L. Goldberg, David Petersen, and Sascha E. Danylchuk

Interaction between Recreational and Commercial Fisheries: The Importance of Social Capital in Stakeholder Agreements. A Case Study from New Zealand’s Billfish Fishery .... 113
  John C. Holdsworth and Kim A. R. Walshe

Perceived Benefits and Costs of Recreational-Only Fishing Areas to the Recreational and Commercial Estuarine Fishery within North Queensland ........................................... 125
  Renae C. Tobin and Stephen G. Sutton

Biological Management Tools and Issues

Determinants of Hooking Mortality in Freshwater Recreational Fisheries: A Quantitative Meta-Analysis ................................................................. 141
  Daniel Hiihn and Robert Arlinghaus

Injury Frequency for Discarded Summer Flounder in the Recreational Fishery of the Mid-Atlantic Bight: Influence of Landing Size Regulations ........................................ 171
  Eric N. Powell, Eleanor A. Bochenek, John DePersenaire, and Sarah E. King
CONTENTS

Great Cormorant Phalacrocorax carbo Is Threatening Fish Populations and Sustainable Fishing in Europe ................................................................. 189
  Werner Steffens

Effects of Local Climate on Fisheries in Central Queensland, Australia: A Guide to the Impacts of Climate Change ......................................................... 201
  William Sawynok and John R. Platten

Ethics

Five Ethical Challenges to Recreational Fishing: What They Are and What They Mean ................................................................. 219
  Robert Arlinghaus and Alexander Schwab

Fishing Culture, Animal Policy, and New Governance: A Case Study of Voluntary Catch-and-Release Fishing in Finland
  Pekka Salmi and Outi Ratamäki

Development of an Environmental Standard for Recreational Fishing Tournaments ................................................................. 251
  Ben K. Diggles, William Sawynok, and Leonard J. H. Olyott

Survey Methods and Monitoring

Exploring National Marine Fisheries Service Survey Methodologies for Collecting Recreational Angler Expenditure Data ............................................. 265
  Brad Gentner

Collecting Economic Data from the For-Hire Fishing Sector: Lessons from a Cost and Earnings Survey of the Southeast U.S. Charter Boat Industry ................................................................. 279
  Christopher Liese and David W. Carter

Introducing Marine Charter Vessel Registration and Reporting Requirements in New Zealand: Securing Charter Operators' Support for the Improved Management of Shared Fisheries ................................................................. 293
  Edwin J. Massey

Fishing for Today and Tomorrow: Recreational Fisheries Monitoring in Queensland, Australia ................................................................. 307

A Telephone-Diary-Mail Approach to Survey Recreational Fisheries on Large Geographic Scales, with a Note on Annual Landings Estimates by Anglers in Northern Germany ................................................................. 319
  Malte Dorow and Robert Arlinghaus

Indicative Value of Anglers' Records for Fish Assemblage Evaluation in a Reservoir (Case Study Brno Reservoir Czech Republic) ................................................................. 345
  Zdeněk Adámek and Pavel Jurajda

Status of Recreational Saltwater Fishing in Florida: Characterization of License Sales, Participation, and Fishing Effort ................................................................. 355
  Chad W. Hanson and Beverly Sauls