KARL ERIK HAUG and
OLE JØRGEN MAAØ (eds)

Conceptualising
Modern War

HURST & COMPANY, LONDON
CONTENTS

Notes on the Contributors vii
Preface Karl Erik Haug and Ole Jørgen Maaø xi
Introductory Essay: The Changing Character of War Hew Strachan 1

PART ONE
DEFINING CONTEMPORARY WAR

1. Evaluating Rivalling Interpretations of Asymmetric War and Warfare Jan Angstrom 29
2. Beyond Generations: Breaking the Cycle Antulio J. Echevarria II 49
3. Mary Kaldor's New Wars: A Critique Ole Jørgen Maaø 65

PART TWO
CONCEPTS TO WIN CONTEMPORARY WAR

4. From Guerrilla War to Insurgency Ian F. W. Beckett 89
5. Insurgency Steven Metz 111
6. Terrorism Helen Dexter 139
7. Conducting Counterinsurgency by Alliance: Wave of the Future or Strategic Dead End? Jens Ringsmose 163
CONTENTS

10. A new Chance for Network Centric Warfare in the Context of Modernity
   Arent Arntzen and Tor Olav Grotan 231

11. Transformation: The Key to Victory?
    Olof Kronvall 259

PART THREE AFTERTHOUGHTS

12. Contemporary Wars: Notes Towards a Macro-Level Approach 289
    Torbjørn L. Knutsen

13. Contemporary War is not Modern 303
    Nils Naastad

14. Lawrence's Ladder: Tribal Irregulars and an Actor-Based Theory of Modern War 311
    David Kilcullen

Index 333