

A/574040

Anti-militarism

Political and Gender Dynamics of Peace Movements

Cynthia Cockburn

Visiting Professor, Department of Sociology, School of Social Sciences, City University London, UK, and Honorary Professor, Centre for the Study of Women and Gender, University of Warwick, UK

palgrave
macmillan

Contents

Acknowledgments	x
Glossary of Acronyms	xi
Introduction	1
Choosing where to look: a panel of cases	2
A quest for coherence	4
Research funding and approach	5
Starting out: conceptual resources	8
Sequence of chapters	13
1 Finding a Voice: Women at Three Moments of British Peace Activism	19
The Peace Society: public men, silenced women	23
The Great War: the masculine birth of nations	27
Nuclear weapons: internationalism, direct action and women-alone	33
Towards a holistic analysis of war	42
2 War Resisters and Pacifist Revolution	46
For nonviolent revolution	47
Cold War and hot liberation movements	50
Emerging from the brotherhood of man	51
Feminist anti-militarism and the 'continuum of violence'	54
The struggle for the feminist agenda	58
War resistance today	62
Active nonviolence: Vredesactie	63
New Profile, Israel	65
Transcending and surviving	68
3 Legitimate Disobedience: An Anti-militarist Movement in Spain	74
Collectivizing many individual acts of refusal	75
Denying legitimacy to the militarist state	78
Post-professionalization: a state-wide anti-militarist movement	80
Doing disobedience	83
Anti-militarism, prefigurative movements and the left	85

	Antipatriarchalism: the principle and the practice	90
	Inventing feminist anti-militarism	93
	Double militancy: careful choices	96
4	Midlands City: Faiths and Philosophies Together for Palestine	103
	Spontaneous response to an act of violence	105
	Interfaith relations put to the test	109
	Leicester's Muslim organizations: for 'peace' or 'Palestine'?	112
	Belief in God, faith in humanity	115
	Feminism, faiths and peace activism	119
	Towards a realistic and sustainable alliance	121
5	Saying No to NATO: Divergent Strategies	126
	The elements of a campaign	128
	Peace and anti-war movements	128
	The parliamentary parties	130
	Radical left and anarchist tendencies	131
	Preparing a weekend of action: hopes and fears	132
	Reasons for opposing NATO	135
	A feminist case against NATO	138
	NATO, nations and patriarchy	139
	NATO's overbearing presence in member states	140
	The militarization of daily life	141
	NATO as a perpetrator of wars	142
	The rally goes up in flames	143
	Picking through the ashes	146
6	Seeing the Whole Picture: Anti-militarism in Okinawa and Japan	152
	Cynthia Cockburn and Naoko Ikeda
	War, occupation and war again	154
	Anti-Bomb and anti-Treaty: the emergence of a peace movement	156
	The Okinawan anti-base movement	161
	Okinawa Women Act against Military Violence	165
	Making connections between sources, forms and scales of violence	169
	'Comfort women' and the rightwing agenda	171
	The right, the peace movement and patriarchy	174

7	A State of Peace: Movements to Reunify and Demilitarize Korea	180
	Building two Koreas	182
	The movement for reunification	185
	Crossing the Line	188
	A different left: anti-militarist, anti-war and peace movements	190
	Two women's initiatives	194
	The once and future 'nation' of Korea	196
	Attitudes towards North Korea	199
	Roads to peace	204
8	Guns and Bodies: Armed Conflict and Domestic Violence	211
	A movement to stop the proliferation of small arms	212
	Gender and guns	216
	Women's anti-gun activism	220
	Uganda: awash with weaponry	223
	Ugandan government measures to control arms	225
	Women's projects of disarmament	226
	The gun, or the hand that holds it?	231
9	Towards a Different Common Sense	237
	Divergences of thought and action	240
	Capitalism and state as causes of war: a plural left	241
	War in 3-D: the feminist anti-militarist standpoint	244
	Choice of strategy: the significance of nonviolence	246
	Co-existence or cohesion?	250
	Making connections: a 'continuum' of violence	253
	The movements' problematic: where to draw the line?	256
	Violence and nonviolence as choices	258
	References	264
	Index	277