Public Memory, Public Media, and the Politics of Justice

Edited by

Philip Lee
World Association for Christian Communication, Toronto, ON, Canada

Pradip Ninan Thomas
University of Queensland, Brisbane, QLD, Australia
Contents

Acknowledgements ix
Foreword x
Notes on Contributors xiii

Introduction: Public Media and the Right to Memory: Towards an Encounter with Justice
Philip Lee and Pradip Ninan Thomas 1

1. Rethinking Justice in Peru: Between Public Amnesia and Public Memory
Germán Vargas 23

2. Images of Disappearance in Argentina: How Films, Photos, and Television Buttress Memory
Claudia Feld 41

3. East Timor, the USA, and Mass Atrocities: Remembering and Forgetting
Joseph Nevins 65

4. Justice, Media, and Memory: The South African Transition
Charles Villa-Vicencio 80

5. A Time of Mourning: The Politics of Commemorating the Tutsi Genocide in Rwanda
Rachel Ibreck 98

6. The European Roma: An Unsettled Right to Memory
Anna Marie Reading 121

7. The Chechen Memory of Deportation: From Recalling a Silenced Past to the Political Use of Public Memory
Aurélie Campana 141

8. ‘Media Memories’ in Bosnia and Herzegovina
Zala Volčič and Karmen Erjavec 163
9 Slavery and Emancipation in the Caribbean: Preserving the Public Memory 184
Hopeton S. Dunn

Endnote 200
Philip Lee and Pradip Ninan Thomas

Index 208