

Harald Bergbauer | Young-Ryeol Park [eds.]

SUB Hamburg

A 2013/ 9647

Economic and Political Cooperation between Asia and Europe in the Age of Globalisation

Nomos

Table of Contents

I) Modes of Political Cooperation between Countries in East Asia

I) Jong-Yun Bae North Korea's Dilemma and Its Influence on Inter-Korean Relations	19
II) Andreas Wilhelm "Regionalism Matters": East Asian Regionalism and the two Koreas	33
III) Dalchoong Kim The September 19 Joint Statement of the Six Party Talks and Prospect for Multilateral Security Mechanism in Northeast Asia	43
IV) Gottfried-Karl Kindermann Changing Patterns of Relations between Taiwan, China, and the USA	53

II) Economic Cooperation across Continents

V) Young-Ryeol Park Economic Cooperation between Korea and Germany: Trade and FDI Relations	67
VI) Ku-Hyun Jung Korea's FTAs with two Economic Giants and Regionalism in East Asia	85
VII) Wulfdiether Zippel The Free Trade Agreement EU-South Korea: General Economic Implications on EU's Single Market and on the German Economy	99
VIII) Chun-Kyung Paulus Suh The EU Going Global: With a New Generation FTA to a New Era of World Trade Liberalization	113

III) Energy Policy in East and West in the 21st Century

IX) Doowon Lee

The Green Growth Strategy of Korea

129

X) Harald Bergbauer

Germany's New Energy Policy: The Greatest Economic and Political Challenge since Reunification

157

XI) Werner Gumpel

Possibilities of Energy Supply of Asian States by the Successor States of the former USSR

171

IV) A Case Study of Unification: Science and Scientific Institutions

XII) Bruno Schoenfelder

The Transformation of East German Higher Education and Research in the Aftermath of German Reunification. An Economist's View

181

Contributors

197