The International Relations of the Contemporary Middle East
Subordination and beyond

Edited by
Tareq Y. Ismael and Glenn E. Perry
Contents

Contributors ix
Preface xii

PART I
Broad patterns 1

1 Toward a framework for analysis 3
   TAREQ Y. ISMAEL AND GLENN E. PERRY

2 Imperialism and its manifestations in the Middle East 39
   WILLIAM W. HADDAD AND JASAMIN ROSTAM-KOLAYI

PART II
The Center in an age of inequality 71

3 The United States: a hegemon challenged 73
   STEPHEN ZUNES

4 Israel: the limits of conventional and nuclear deterrence 111
   GHADA HASHEM TALHAMI

PART III
Potential counterbalancing forces 139

5 Post-revolutionary Iran: resisting global and regional hegemony 141
   MOJTABA MAHDAVI

6 Egypt: the continuing storm? 174
   KAREN ABOUL KHEIR
Contents

7 Turkey under the AKP: axis change or pragmatic activism? 202
TOZUN BAHCHELİ

8 “Identity politics”: Europe, the EU and the Arab Spring 228
PHILIP MARFLEET AND FRAN CETTI

9 The United Nations and the Middle East: a guide for the perplexed 250
RICHARD FALK

Index 263