Rethinking the Public Sphere Through Transnationalizing Processes

Europe and Beyond

Edited by

Armando Salvatore
University of Naples "L' Orientale", Italy

Oliver Schmidtke
University of Victoria, Canada

and

Hans-Jörg Trenz
University of Copenhagen, Denmark
Contents

[List of Figures and Tables] vii
Preface viii
Acknowledgments x
Notes on Contributors xi

Introduction: Rethinking the Public Sphere Through Transnationalizing Processes: Europe and Beyond
Armando Salvatore, Oliver Schmidtke, and Hans-Jörg Trenz

Part I  Rethinking the Public Sphere: Beyond the National Arena?

1 Struggling with the Concept of a Public Sphere
_Klaus Eder_

2 The Counterfactual Imagination Punctuated by Triple Contingency: On Klaus Eder's Theory of the New Public Sphere
_Piet Strydom_

3 Ambivalent Representations and Fragile Boundaries: Heroes, Victims, Perpetrators
_Bernhard Giesen_

4 Beyond the Political Mythology of the Westphalian Order? Religion, Communicative Action, and the Transnationalization of the Public Sphere
Armando Salvatore

5 Social Movements and the Public Sphere
Donatella della Porta

Part II  Between European Citizenship and Transnational Collective Identities

6 Europe's Missing Public: Problems and Prospects
Paul Statham and Ruud Koopmans
7 Toward Pan-European Contentions? European Integration and Its Effects on Political Mobilization
Christian Lahusen

8 Toward an Anthropology of the European Union: Insights from Greece
Anna Triandafyllidou, Hara Kouki, and Ruby Gropas

9 Climate Change as a Rhetorical Resource and Masterframe: An Analysis of the Daily Press Coverage and Public Opinion in Italy
Lorenzo Beltrame, Massimiano Bucchi, and Barbara Mattè

Part III Inclusion and Exclusion: Addressing the Cultural Other in Europe

10 Differentiation of Migration Patterns in Europe: Social Integration Amidst Competing Societal Leitbilder of Enclosure of the ‘Other’, Acceptance, and Encouragement of Migration
Roland Verwiebe, Laura Wiesböck, and Roland Teitzer

11 The ‘New Germany’ and Its Transformation Process: Narrating Collective Identity in Times of Transnational Mobility
Naïka Foroutan

12 Jews and Turks in Germany: Immigrant Integration, Political Representation, and Minority Rights
Gökçe Yurdakul

13 Toward a Cosmopolitan and Inclusive European Identity? Negotiating Immigrants’ Inclusion and Exclusion in the New Europe
Oliver Schmidtke

Index

288