MANAGEMENT OF INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONS AND NGOs

Frameworks, practices and challenges

Eduardo Missoni and Daniele Alesani

Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group
LONDON AND NEW YORK
CONTENTS

List of illustrations xi
Foreword xv
Acknowledgments xviii
List of Abbreviations xix

Introduction 1
Daniele Alesani and Eduardo Missoni

SECTION 1
The context 11

1 International Institutions: classification and main characteristics 13
Daniele Alesani

1.1 Introduction 13
1.2 Towards a definition of International Institutions 14
1.3 Possible classifications of International Institutions 16
1.4 The United Nations system 18
1.5 Global and regional International Financial Institutions 28
1.6 Other families of IIIs 38
1.7 List of United Nations funds, programs and specialized agencies 42
1.8 List of regional development banks 47
2 International Non-Governmental Organizations: definitions, classification, and relation with the UN system 49
Eduardo Missoni

2.1 Defining NGOs 49
2.2 Non-profits 51
2.3 Civil society 52
2.4 Third sector and social economy 54
2.5 In search of operational definitions 57
2.6 Other transnationally operating non-profits 58
2.7 NGOs and the UN system 64
2.8 Case study: the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation 71

3 Transnational Hybrid Organizations, Global Public-Private Partnerships and Networks 77
Eduardo Missoni

3.1 Introduction 77
3.2 Defining and classifying Transnational Hybrid Organizations and Global Public-Private Partnerships 78
3.3 Organizational arrangements of THOs and other public-private interactions 83
3.4 Lessons learned and challenges 88
3.5 From the idea of "partnership" to Global Public-Private Partnerships. A historical overview 90
3.6 Case study: the UN opening to the corporate sector—the Global Compact 94

SECTION 2
Management of international cooperation 103

4 The evolution of international development cooperation 105
Eduardo Missoni

4.1 The birth of development discourse and international aid 105
4.2 Critics from the south 108
4.3 Applying the "Shock Doctrine": the neoliberal response to crisis 109
4.4 Fight against poverty, partnership and development goals 112
4.5 Financing development 113
4.6 In search of aid effectiveness 115
4.7 The future of international cooperation, aid and development 118
5. Coordination and coherence among the main actors of the development sector: trends, initiatives and ways forward

Daniele Alesani

5.1 New paradigms for international development cooperation and coordination among development actors 122
5.2 Consolidated coordination mechanisms within the UN system 123
5.3 The search for UN system-wide coherence and focus on field operations 125
5.4 The UN system: towards a comprehensive country needs assessment and planning 126
5.5 Consistency, operational efficiency and effectiveness at the country level: the "Delivery As One" initiative 129
5.6 An inconvenient dilemma for the current coordination initiatives in the development sector 137
5.7 Case study: UNAIDS at the crossroad between UN system coordination, modernization of governance settings and management reform 138

6 Changing paradigms for program implementation

Daniele Alesani

6.1 A new role for IIs in technical cooperation programs' implementation: status and challenges 146
6.2 The changing aid environment and a new role for development actors 147
6.3 IIs: from "administration" to "strategic management" of implementing partners 152
6.4 Progress to date and future challenges 161

7 The evolution of funding policies and their impacts on International Institutions

Daniele Alesani

7.1 Introduction 165
7.2 Funding sources and mechanisms 165
7.3 The escalation of voluntary resources and its impacts on financial and operational management 170
7.4 Current initiatives to reform IIs' funding patterns 176
8 General coordination of responses to crisis situations 181
Anna Fiscale and Eduardo Missoni

8.1 Introduction 181
8.2 The increasing need for a coordinated response 181
8.3 The evolution of the relationship between the humanitarian actors and their coordination mechanisms 183
8.4 Humanitarian coordination roles and organs 185
8.5 The humanitarian financing system 187
8.6 The 2005 UN Humanitarian Reform and the cluster system 191
8.7 NGO coordination in the field 193
8.8 Case study: humanitarian intervention in the aftermath of the Haiti earthquake 194

9 Accessing development assistance data and statistics 203
Eduardo Missoni and Luca Citino

9.1 Introduction 203
9.2 OECD aid information and reporting system 203
9.3 Aid flows from NGOs 209
9.4 The UN system aid statistics 210

SECTION 3
Management systems and reforms in International Organizations 213

10 Governance models and reforms 215
Ivano Bongiovanni, Eduardo Missoni and Daniele Alesani

10.1 Governance in IIs and INGOs: definition and key concepts 215
10.2 Institutional governance: organizational arrangements and the "rules of the game" 216
10.3 Decision-making mechanisms in IIs and INGOs 220
10.4 Good governance in IIs and INGOs 225
10.5 International regimes and global governance 231
10.6 Conclusions 232
10.7 Case study: tripartite governance structures at the ILO and the ITU 233
10.8 Case study: UN Security Council—veto power and reform proposals 236
11 Strategic thinking and planning
Daniele Alesani and Ivano Bongiovanni

11.1 Introduction 239
11.2 The notion of strategy and the need for a tailored approach to public sector organizations and NGOs 240
11.3 The growing importance of strategy and strategic management in public and intergovernmental organizations 241
11.4 Towards a working definition of strategy for IIs and INGOs 243
11.5 Strategy formulation in IIs and INGOs: "thinking" and "planning" 249
11.6 Managing strategy in IIs and INGOs 256
11.7 Case study: new strategic decisions made by IFAD 262

12 Results Based Management
Daniele Alesani

12.1 Introduction 266
12.2 Results Based Management: concepts and definitions 266
12.3 The evolution of RBM in international cooperation 271
12.4 Specificities of RBM in International Organizations and the attribution issue 274
12.5 Success factors, best practices and challenges facing RBM implementation in International Organizations 278
12.6 Does performance matter? A donor's perspective 286
12.7 Case study: towards a harmonized and efficient IIs' performance oversight by donors—the "common approach" and MOPAN 292

13 The evolution of budgetary, accounting and financial reporting systems
Daniele Alesani

13.1 Basics of accounting in public and non-profit organizations 295
13.2 Evolution of public sector accounting under the NPM agenda and progressive adoption of accrual accounting 299
13.3 Budgeting processes and budget structure in IIs 301
13.4 Financial accounting and reporting in IIs 307
14 Human Resources Management 325
   Daniele Alesani and Michael Hathorn

   14.1 Introduction 325
   14.2 HRM and reforms in International Organizations 325
   14.3 Strategic HRM 328
   14.4 Reforming the HRM function 335
   14.5 Reform of the HR systems and tools 338
   14.6 The future of HRM reforms in International Organizations 351
   14.7 Case study: preventing and managing work-related disputes—the UN internal justice system 354

SECTION 4
Building and managing the organization’s profile 361

15 Building and managing the organization’s profile 363
   Eduardo Missoni

   15.1 Introduction 363
   15.2 Communication and branding 364
   15.3 Stakeholder management 373
   15.4 Resources mobilization 377
   15.5 Case study: the management of strategic partnerships with civil society organizations at UNICEF 384
   15.6 Case study: social media strategy for IIIs 386

16 Ethics and International Organizations 391
   Eduardo Missoni and Gabriela Lupu

   16.1 Introduction 391
   16.2 Defining ethics 392
   16.3 Ethics of International Organizations 394
   16.4 Ethics in International Organizations 396
   16.5 The ethical versus unethical organizations 399
   16.6 Conclusions 401
   16.7 Appendix: main fields of study in ethics 401

17 Conclusions 406
   Eduardo Missoni and Daniele Alesani

Bibliography 411
Index 436