Philosophy of Education

INTRODUCTORY READINGS

4th edition
William Hare and John P. Portelli, editors
Contents

Acknowledgements  ix
Introduction xi

PART I: PHILOSOPHY, THEORY, AND PRACTICE

1 Harold Entwistle, The Relationship between Educational Theory and Practice: A New Look  5
2 Robin Barrow, Empirical Research in Education: Why Philosophy Matters  16
3 Heesoon Bai, Philosophy for Education: Toward Human Agency  35
4 David T. Hansen, The Place of Ideals in Teaching  55

PART II: CLASSROOM DISCUSSIONS AND CONTROVERSIAL ISSUES

5 Andrea R. English, Listening as a Teacher: Educative Listening, Interruptions, and Reflective Practice  71
6 Douglas J. Simpson and William J. Hull, Jr., Discussing Ethical Issues in the Classroom: Leveraging Pedagogical Moments that may Otherwise Undermine Important Discussions  89
7 Claudia W. Ruitenberg, "That's Just Your Opinion!"—American Idol and the Confusion between Pluralism and Relativism 109
8 Michelle Forrest, Sensitive Controversy in Teaching to be Critical 116
9 Eugenie C. Scott, What's Wrong with the "Teach the Controversy" Slogan? 138

PART III: DEMOCRATIC EDUCATION AND SOCIAL JUSTICE
10 Laura Elizabeth Pinto, The Case for Critical Democracy 151
11 Kathy Hytten, Philosophy and the Art of Teaching for Social Justice 170
13 Nel Noddings, Schooling for Democracy 197
14 Trudy Conway, Strangers in our Midst: From Tolerance to Hospitality 210

PART IV: STANDARDS, EFFICIENCY, AND MEASUREMENT
15 John P. Portelli and Ann B. Vibert, Standardization and Equity in Education 223
16 Francine Menashy, The End of Efficiency: Implications for Democratic Education 243
17 Trevor Norris, Arendt, Freire, and the Pedagogy of Possession 255
18 Harvey Siegel, High-Stakes Testing, Educational Aims and Ideals, and Responsible Assessment 271
19 Wayne Au, The Idiocy of Policy: The Antidemocratic Curriculum of High-Stakes Testing 286
PART V: RIGHTS, FREEDOMS, AND CONFLICTS IN EDUCATION

20 Frances M. Kroeker and Stephen P. Norris, An Unwarranted Fear of Religious Schooling 307

22 Paul Clarke and Bruce MacDougall, Crossing the Line: Homophobic Speech and Public School Teachers 339

23 William Hare, Propaganda in the Classroom: The Keegstra Case 358

24 Dwight Boyd, Moral Education within Difference: Impediments to Appreciating the Moral Other 374

PART VI: CONCEPTIONS OF EDUCATION AND TEACHING

25 Maxine Greene, Literacy for What? 392

26 Paulo Freire, Reading the World and Reading the Word: An Interview with Paulo Freire 403

27 Jane Roland Martin, Education Writ Large 414

28 Gert Biesta, Teacher Education for Educational Wisdom 432

Contributors 451
About the Editors 455