Preprints of the Contributions to the Paris Congress, 2-8 September 1984

ADHESIVES AND CONSOLIDANTS

Edited by N.S. Brommelle, Elizabeth M. Pye, Perry Smith and Garry Thomson
CONTENTS

Editorial

Introduction

Adhesion and adhesives – some fundamentals
K. W. ALLEN

The procedure of developing an adhesive for paintings: the importance of valid tests
GUSTAV A. BERGER and HAROLD I. ZELIGER

Adhesive testing at the Canadian Conservation Institute, past and future
JANE L. DOWN

Strength testing of adhesives and consolidants for conservation purposes
SUSAN BRADLEY

Risk assessment as applied to the setting of solvent toxicity limits
NORBERT S. BAER

Influence of the modification of dispersions on film properties
E. DE WITTE, S. FLORQUIN and M. GOESSENS-LANDRIE

Polymer dispersions artificially aged
RACHEL HOWELLS, AVIVA BURNSTOCK, GERRY HEDLEY and STEPHEN HACKNEY

Dispersion as lining adhesive and its scope
V. R. MEHRA

Silicone polymers for relining of paintings
ROBERT E. FIEUX

The conservation of leather bookbindings
B. M. HAINES

Methylcellulose and sodium carboxymethylcellulose: an evaluation for use in paper conservation through accelerated aging
CATHLEEN A. BAKER

Graft copolymerization as a method of preserving papers: problems and potentialities
M. L. BURSTALL, C. C. MOLLETT and C. E. BUTLER

Adhesives for the consolidation of textiles
J. VERDU, V. BELLENGER and M. O. KLEITZ

Influence of adhesives on the conservation of textiles
L. MASSCHELEIN-KLEINER and F. BERGIERS

FONDA GHIARDITHOMSEN

Adhesive formulations manipulated by the addition of fumed colloidal silica
GREGORY S. BYRNE

Infrared studies of the kinetics of insolubilization of soluble nylon
FRANK BOCKHOFF, KER-MIN GUO, GEORGE E. RICHARDS and ESTHER BOCKHOFF

The use of silicones in the preservation of a field site – the Lark Quarry dinosaur trackways
NEVILLE AGNEW

Materials used for preserving fossil specimens since 1930: a review
FRANCIS M. P. HOWIE

The consolidation of archaeological bone
STEPHEN P. KOOB
The continued use of shellac as an adhesive – why?
STEPHEN R KOOB

The performance of coatings and consolidants used for archaeological iron
SUZANNE KEENE

The removal of microcrystalline wax from archaeological ironwork
ROSEMARIE JOHNSON

Injection grouting of mural paintings and mosaics
D. FERRAGNI, M. FORTI, J. MALLIET, P MORA, J. M. TEUTONICO and G. TORRACA

Natural adhesives in East Asian paintings
JOHN WINTER

‘Nikawa’ – traditional production of animal glue in Japan
TSUNEYUKI MORITA

The manufacture and use of Japanese wheat starch adhesives in the treatment of Far Eastern pictorial art
PAUL WILLS

Vegetable adhesives used in the workshop of the Hyōgushi, restorer and mounter of Japanese paintings
KATSUHIKO MASUDA

Study of adhesives for marquetry
BERNARD CALLEDE and ANNA ØSTRUP

The conservation of an eighth century BC table from Gordion
R. PAYTON

Some practical aspects in the choice of synthetic resins for the repair of ethnographic skin and gut
JULIA FENN

The examination and treatment of ivory and related materials
CAROL E. SNOW and TERRY DRAYMAN WEISSER

Strength evaluation of deteriorated wood treated with consolidants
ARNO P. SCHNIEWIND and DALE P. KRONKRIGHT

Laboratory evaluation of stone consolidants
JAMES R. CLIFTON

Treatment of stone with synthetic resins for its protection against damage by freeze-thaw cycles
TADATERU NISHIURA, MASAMI FUKUDA and SADATOSHI MIURA

The consolidation of limestone using a lime poultice and limewater
C. A. PRICE

The treatment of calcite-cemented sandstone with acrylic-siliconate mixture in limewater
RAFFAELLA ROSSI-MANARESI and ANTONELLA TUCCI

The treatment of polychrome mediaeval English stone sculpture in the museum environment
JOHN LARSON and JENNIFER DINSMORE

The use of organo-silanes for the treatment of limestone in an advanced state of deterioration
S. B. HANNA

The influence of relative humidity in the polymerization of methyl trimethoxy silane
A. E. CHAROLA, G. E. WHEELER and G. G. FREUND

SEM examination of limestones treated with silanes or prepolymerized silicone resin in solution
A. E. CHAROLA, R. ROSSI-MANARESI, R. J. KOESTLER, G. E. WHEELER and A. Tucci

The use of silanes in glass conservation
RAYMOND F ERETT, MERRILL LYNN and ROBERT H. BRILL

A review of adhesives and consolidants used on glass antiquities
S. DAVISON
Effect of mastics on the behaviour of stained glass windows
JEAN-MARIE BETTEMBOURG, JEAN-JACQUES BURCK, JACQUES DRIVIERE and JEAN-PIERRE HENRY

Field application of stained glass conservation techniques
STEVEN WEINTRAUB and MELVILLE GREENLAND

In situ repair of architectural glass
THOMAS H. TAYLOR Jr

The significance of the refractive index of adhesives for glass repair
NORMAN H. TENNENT and JOYCE H. TOWNSEND

Relevant adhesive terminology

Contributors