CLEANING, RETOUCHING AND COATINGS
Technology and Practice for Easel Paintings and Polychrome Sculpture

Edited by John S. Mills and Perry Smith
CONTENTS

Preliminary study and approach to the cleaning of 'The Raising of the Cross' by Peter Paul Rubens in Antwerp cathedral
NICOLE GOETGHEBEUR

Approaching the cleaning of Whistler’s ‘Peacock Room’: retrieving surface interrelationships in ‘Harmony in Blue and Gold’
WENDY SAMET, JOYCE HILL STONER and RICHARD WOLBERS

Examination and cleaning of paintings by Giambattista Tiepolo in the Scuola Grande dei Carmini, Venice
RAFFAELLA ROSSI-MANARESI, ANTONELLA TUCCI and OTTORINO NONFARMALE

The cleaning and consolidation of Egyptian encaustic mummy portraits
RICHARD and HELENA JAESCHKE

Removal of inorganic deposits from Egyptian painted wooden objects
ZDRAVKO BAROV

The cleaning and removal of surface coatings from a seventh-century BC sandstone shrine from Nubia
SEAMUS HANNA and MARK NORMAN

The treatment and examination of painted surfaces on eighteenth-century terracotta sculptures
JOHN LARSON

The surface layers of baroque gildings: examination, conservation, restoration
CHRISTINE CESSION

Relief decoration on sculptures and paintings from the thirteenth to the sixteenth century: technology and treatment
MYRIAM SERCK-DEWAIDE

Care of polychromy and paintings on Austrian gothic and baroque retables in a non-museum environment
MANFRED KOLLER

English polychromed church screens and the problems of their conservation in situ
PAULINE PLUMMER and ANNA HULBERT

The conservation of the 100,000th Steinway piano
JIA-SUN TSANG, NANCIE RAVENEL, JOHANNA BERNSTEIN and SCOTT ODELL

Conservation treatment of globe surfaces
SYLVIA SUMIRA

Cleaning and retouching: an analytical review
MARCO CIATTI

Varnish and early Italian tempera paintings
JILL DUNKERTON, JO KIRBY and RAYMOND WHITE

Aspects of varnishes and the cleaning of oil paintings before 1700
TOM CALEY

Eastlake revisited: some milestones on the road to ruin
WESTBY PERCIVAL-PRESCOTT

British nineteenth-century oil painting instruction books: a survey of their recommendations for vehicles, varnishes and methods of paint application
LESLIE CARLYLE

Examination of paintings treated by Pettenkofer’s process
SIBYLLE SCHMITT

A physical model of varnish removal from oil paint
STEFAN MICHALSKI
The extractable components of oil paint films
DAVID ERHARDT and JIA-SUN TSANG

A study of the mechanical and surface properties of oil paint films treated with organic solvents and water
GERRY HEDLEY, MARIANNE ODLYHA, AVIVA BURNSTOCK, JANE TILLINGHAST and CAMILLA HUSBAND

Cleaning of a nineteenth-century painting with deoxycholate soap: mechanism and residue studies
JOHANN KOLLER

The effects of selected solvents and soaps on a simulated canvas painting
AVIVA BURNSTOCK and RAYMOND WHITE

A radio-isotopic assay for the direct measurement of residual cleaning materials on a paint film
RICHARD C. WOLBERS

Vincent van Gogh’s triptych of trees in blossom, Arles (1888). Part I. Examination and treatment of the altered surface coatings
CAROL STRINGARI

Vincent van Gogh’s triptych of trees in blossom, Arles (1888). Part II. On egg-white varnishes
CORNELIA M. PERES

The Rothko chapel: treatment of the black-form triptychs
CAROL MANCUSI-UNGARO

Blanching of unvarnished modern paintings: a case study on a painting by Serge Poliakoff
JOHANN KOLLER and ANDREAS BURMESTER

Studies on the photochemical stability of synthetic resin-based retouching paints: the effects of white pigments and extenders
PAUL M. WHITMORE and CATHERINE BAILIE

Inpainting using PVA medium
GUSTAV A. BERGER

Egg tempera as a retouching medium
HERBERT LANK

The artist’s intention and the varnishing of German Expressionist paintings: two case studies
KENNETH B. KATZ

The effect of a hindered amine light stabilizer on the aging of dammar and mastic varnish in an environment free of ultraviolet light
E. RENE DE LA RIE and CHRISTOPHER W. McGLINCHEY

A further examination of the barrier properties of Tinuvin 327 ultraviolet absorber in the protection of dammar films
JAMES BOURDEAU

New synthetic resins for picture varnishes
E. RENE DE LA RIE and CHRISTOPHER W. McGLINCHEY

Some observations on the use and appearance of two new synthetic resins for picture varnishes
MARK LEONARD

The Munich Dürer attack: the removal of sulphuric acid and acid compounds by use of a conditioned ion-exchange resin
ANDREAS BURMESTER, JOHANN KOLLER and HEINRICH KAWINSKI

The Munich Dürer attack: conservation and restoration of the damaged panels
BRUNO HEIMBERG