Plenary Speaker

Participation and Power: The Role of Collective Voice in Participatory Design ........... xiii
George Kohl, Communications Workers of America

Panel: Flexible and Adaptable Use of Computer Based Systems ............................... 1
Kim Halskov Madsen (moderator), Århus University
Hans Doorewaard, Catholic University of Nijmegan
Joan Greenbaum, La Guardia Community College, City University of New York
Arne Kjær, Århus University
Trond Knudsen, University of California Irvine
Wendy Mackay, Rank Xerox EuroPARC

Paper

Technology and Organization: An Integrated Approach ........................................... 3
Hans Doorewaard, Trond Knudsen, Catholic University of Nijmegen

Papers: Design Practice

Experiences in Reflective Engineering Practice: Co-Development of Product Prototypes ................................................................. 13
William L. Anderson, William T. Crocca, Xerox Corporation

Caught in a Web of Fuzzy Problems: Confronting the Ethical Issues in Systems Design ........................................................................... 23
Ina Wagner, Technische Universität Wien

Design by Anecdote—The Use of Ethnography to Guide the Application of Technology to Practice ................................................................. 31
Julian E. Orr, Norman C. Crowfoot, Xerox Corporation
Papers: Techniques and Practices I: Using Artifacts

Studying Work Language as an Aid in Evolutionary Design Processes:
The Naming Problem ................................................................. .39
Barbara Katzenberg, Stanford University
Peter Piela, Carnegie Mellon University

Participatory Design: Structure in the Toolbox ................................... .47
Finn Kensing, Roskilde University
Andreas Munk-Madsen, Metodica

Using Artifacts as Triggers for Participatory Analysis ............................... .55
Preben Mogensen, Randall H. Trigg, Aarhus University

Papers: Organizational Constraints

Participation and Design: An Extended View .................................... .63
Yoram Reich, Suresh L. Konda, Ira A. Monarch, Eswaran Subrahmanian, Carnegie Mellon University

Enabling Participatory Design in a Hierarchical, Tightly Integrated Setting ................................. .73
Jonathan P. Allen, University of California, Irvine

Plenary Paper: Retrospective

Participatory Design Projects: A Retrospective Look ............................... .81
Andrew Clement, Marc Griffiths, University of Toronto
Peter van den Besselaar, University of Amsterdam

Plenary Panel: From Participatory Design to Democracy: Social Change as Both Cause and Effect .................................................. .91
Steven E. Miller, PARIS Information System
Patricia Sachs, Nynex Science and Technology
Leslie Schneider, Tufts University
Richard Sclove, Loka Institute
Langdon Winner, Renssalaer Polytechnic Institute

Paper

Political Implications of Participatory Design ...................................... .93
Steven E. Miller, PARIS Information System
Workshops

Field Studies of Work and Co-Design .......................................................... 101
   Jeanette Blomberg, Lucy Suchman, Xerox Palo Alto Research Center

Managing the Stresses of Participatory Design ........................................... 103
   Michael K. Epstein, Elaine K. Yakura, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

“Intentional Tension”: Work Systems Design as an Approach to Radical Change ............................................................................................... 105
   Jim Euchner, Patricia Sachs, NYNEX Science and Technology

The “Conducivity Game”: Developing Worker’s Skills for Self-Redesign of Tasks ............................................................................................................. 107
   Robert Karasek, University of Massachusetts Lowell

A Paradigm Shift to Customer Focus ............................................................... 109
   Tom Cocklin, Deborah Mrazek, Hewlett Packard

Participatory Design Research in the Product Development Process ................ 111
   Elizabeth B.-N. Sanders, Fitch RichardsonSmith

Translation in Participatory Design ................................................................. 113
   Marian G. Williams, University of Massachusetts Lowell
   Vivienne Begg, SunSoft, Inc.

Papers: International Comparisons

Participatory Design versus Joint Application Design: Trans-Atlantic Differences in Systems Development .................................................................................... 115
   Erran Carmel, The American University
   Randall Whitaker, Umea University
   Joey F. George, University of Arizona Tucson

The Collective Resource Approach: The Scandinavian Experience .................. 127
   Philip Kraft, SUNY-Binghamton
   Jørgen P. Bansler, University of Copenhagen

Papers: Techniques and Practices II: Hands on the Design

Some Experiences With Cooperative Interactive Storyboard Prototyping ............ 137
   Kim Halskov Madsen, Peter Aiken, George Mason University

Designing a Groupware Implementation of a Manual Participatory
Design Process .................................................................................................. 145
   Michael J. Muller, John G. Smith, David S. Miller, Ellen A. White, and Daniel M. Wildman, Bellcore
Papers: Techniques and Practices III: Diaries

Communication Support for Participatory Design Projects .................................................. 155
   Karlheinz Kautz, University of Oslo

Influencing System Quality by Using Decision Diaries in Prototyping Projects ................... 163
   Kristin Braa, University of Oslo

Papers: Analogies to Non-Computer Fields

Participatory Architectural Modeling: Common Images and Distributed Design Developments .......................................................... 171
   Chengzhi Peng, University of Edinburgh

Scandinavian Design--From Arts to Crafts to IKEA: Lessons and Problems for System Designers: A Slide Show .................................................. 181
   Joan Greenbaum, La Guardia College/City University of New York

Glossary Board .................................................................................................................. 185
   Michael J. Muller, Bellcore

Workshop

Participation and Power ...................................................................................................... 187
   Charley Richardson, University of Massachusetts Lowell

Posters ............................................................................................................................... 189
