SEVENTH INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON AVIATION PSYCHOLOGY

April 22 - 29, 1993

Sponsored by

The Department of Aviation
The Aviation Psychology Laboratory
The Ohio State University
Columbus, OH 43210

The International Journal of Aviation Psychology

and

The Association of Aviation Psychologists

Edited by

Richard S. Jensen and David Neumeister

Richard S. Jensen, General Chair
Paul MacCartney, Technical Chair
Sue Riggs, Registrar

Volume I
CONTENTS

Foreword

---

Opening Plenary Session — **

Keynote Address:

Life in the Second Decade of the Glass Cockpit
Dr. Earl Wiener, University of Miami and NASA Ames Research Center

Workshop Summaries

Understanding and Preventing Aircrew Error - The Sequel
Dr. Al E. Diehl, Aviation Consultant and Georgette Buch, Transport Canada

Shiftwork and Human Performance
Ms. Stacy R. Lonstein, ISM Teaching Systems

Relaxation and Communication Training for CRM Courses
Mr. Thomas Fakoussa, New Training Institute, Germany

CRM Program Development: Defining the State of the Art
Mr. J. Norman Komich, US Air Shuttle

Cockpit Automation Workshop
Mr. Neil C. Krey, FlightSafety International

---

Cockpit Technology

Information Presentation for Expert Systems in Future Aircraft Cockpits
Ms. Esin O. Kiris, Texas Tech. University
M.R. Endsley

Electronic Instrument Approach Plates: The Effect of Selective Decluttering on Flight Crew Performance
Mr. M. Mykityshyn, MIT
R.J. Hansman

Human Engineering Analysis for the High Speed Civil Transport Flight Deck
Dr. David Regal, Boeing Commercial Airplane Group
K. Alter

Managing Systems Faults on the Commercial Flight Deck: Analysis of Pilot's Organization and Prioritization of Fault Management Information
Dr. William H. Rogers, Bolt, Beranek & Newman

A Comparison of Performance with Visual and Localized Auditory Displays in a Simulated Target Localization Task
Ms. Nancy J. Dolan, University of Dayton Research Institute
M. Wells, R. Osgood

The Effect of Pseudo Three-Dimensional Displays on the Type and Quality of General Aviation Pilots' Maneuvering Decisions

---

vii
Design of Head-Up Display Symbology for Recovery From Unusual Attitudes .......................... 58
Ms. Divya Chandra, University of Michigan
D.J. Weintraub

Failure Indications on a Head-Up Display ................................................................. 64
Mrs. Kristen K. Liggett, USAF/FDL
J. M. Reising, & D.C. Hartsock

Attentional Limitations With Head-Up Displays ....................................................... 70
Mr. Robert S. McCann, Sterling Software
D.C. Foyle, & J.C. Johnston

Performance Effects of Instrument Symbology Displayed in Night Vision Goggles During Simulated Contour Flight ................................................................. 76
Dr. John C. Morey, Dynamics Research Corporation
R. Simon & D.K. Leedom

Head-Up Displays: Effect of Information Location on the Processing of Superimposed Symbology ................................................................. 81
Ms. Beverly D. Sanford, NASA Ames Research Center
D.C. Foyle, R.S. McCann, & K. Jordan

Human Centered Requirements for Advanced Commercial Transport Flight Decks ........ 88
Dr. Rolf J. Braune, Boeing Commercial Airplane Group
S.E. Infield, P.M. Harper, & K.W. Alter

Design and Evaluation of Instrument Approach Procedure Charts ............................ 93
Dr. M. Stephen Huntley, DOT / VOLPE National Transportation Systems Center
D.W. Osborne

Crew System Design Alternatives for Single Seat Fighters ........................................ 98
Dr. Gregory J. Barbato, Wright Labs, WPAFB
J. R. McCracken

Encoding Altitude and Rate Information in Cockpit Displays of Traffic Information: Color My World (A Review) ................................................................. 103
Dr. Dennis B. Beringer, New Mexico State University
R.C. Allen

Synthetic Terrain Imagery (STI) for Helmet-Mounted Displays ............................... 108
Dr. William H. Corwin, Honeywell
A. Probert, & R. Royer

Font to Use in Cockpit Documentation ................................................................. 115
Dr. Hans de Ree, KLM Dutch Royal Airlines
G. Blok
Flight Deck Information Management -- Dr. Abbott

Flight Deck Information Management: An Experimental Study of Functional Integration of Approach Data ......................................................... 119
Elfie F. Hofer, Boeing Commercial Airplane Group
L.A. Palen, and A. Possolo

Categorization and Prioritization of Flight Deck Information ........................................... 126
Mr. Jon Jonsson, Douglas Aircraft Co.
W. Ricks

Cognitive Representations of Flight Deck Information Attributes ................................... 132
Mr. Wendell Ricks, NASA Langley Research Center
J.E. Jonsson, & W. Rogers

Performance Effects of Plan-Based Displays in Commercial Aviation ............................. 138
Dr. Valerie L. Shalin, SUNY at Buffalo
B.G. Mikesell, M. Ramamurthy, & N.D. Geddes

Integrating Human Factors into Flight Deck Design -- Dr. Graeber

Human Factors Requirements Definition in Support of System Design in 737 Flight Deck Programs ......................................................... 144
Mr. Stephen Boyd, Boeing Commercial Airplane Group

Role of Human Factors in Developing 777 Flight Deck ................................................ 149
Mr. James E. Veitengruber, Boeing Commercial Airplane Group

Adaptive Automation -- Dr. Morrison

Effects of Allocation and Partitioning Strategies of Adaptive Automation on Task Performance and Perceived Workload in Aviation-Relevant Tasks .................................. 150
Dr. Johnathan P. Gluckman, Naval Air Warfare Center
M.A. Carmody, J.G. Morrison, E.M. Hitchcock, & J.S. Warm

Effect of Task Load and Task Load Increment on Performance and Workload .................. 156
Dr. Peter A. Hancock, University of Minnesota
G. Williams

Operator versus Computer Control of Adaptive Automation .......................................... 161
Mr. Brian Hilburn, Catholic University of America
M. Molloy, D. Wong, & R. Parasuraman

Task Specific Effects of Automation and Automation Failure on Performance, Workload, and Situational Awareness ...................................... 167
Lt. M. A. Carmody, Naval Air Warfare Center
J.P. Gluckman

Prospective Principles and Guidelines for the Design of Adaptively Automated Crewstations 172
Dr. Jeffery G. Morrison, Naval Air Warfare Center
D. Cohen, & J.P. Gluckman
Adaptive Function Allocation Reduces Performance Costs of Static Automation 178
Dr. Raja Parasuraman, Catholic University of America
M. Mouloua, M. Molloy, & B. Hilburn

Air Carrier Operations -- Dr. McCoy

Role of Dispatchers in CRM Training 182
Dr. Thomas Chidester, American Airlines

An Empirical Evaluation of Computerized Tools to Aid in Enroute Flight Planning 186
Dr. Phil Smith, The Ohio State University
C.E. McCoy, & C.F. Layton

The British Airways Confidential Human Factors Reporting Programme 192
Mike J. O'Leary, British Airways, England
S. Fisher

Distributed Problem Solving by Pilots and Dispatchers 198
Dr. Judith Orasanu, NASA Ames Research Center
M. Wich, K. Jobe, C.E. McCoy, R. Beatty, & P. Smith

Cooperative Problem Solving Between Airline Operations Control and ATC Air Traffic Management 204
Mr. Roger Beatty, Airline Dispatchers' Federation

Pilot Judgment

He Who Hesitates is Saved 209
Mr. Robert M. Jenney, Massachusetts Aeronautics Commission

Pilot Judgement - and the Management System 216
Mr. Robert W. Mudge, Cockpit Management Resources, Inc.

Decision Making and Situational Awareness: Implications for Pilot Training Programs 221
Ms. Maureen Pettitt, California State University

New Approaches to Decision Making on the Flight Deck -- Ms Orasanu

A Taxonomy of Decision Problems on the Flight Deck 226
Dr. Judith Orasanu, NASA Ames Research Center
U. Fischer, & R. Tarrell

Determining the Decision Requirements of Complex Flight Crew Tasks 233
Mr. Marvin L. Thordsen, Klein Associates
L. Militello, & G. Klein

Effective Decision Strategies on the Flight Deck 238
Dr. Ute Fischer, NASA Ames Research Center
J. Orasanu, & M. Montalvo

Taking Risks and Taking Advice: the Role of Experience in Airline Pilot Diversion Decisions 244
Dr. Marvin S. Cohen, Cognitive Technologies, Inc.
Aeronautical Decision Making and Consistency of Crew Behaviors:
Implications for Training .................................................. 248
Dr. Carolyn Prince, Naval Training Systems Center
C. Hartel & E. Salas

Cognitive Factors

Expertise in Aeronautical Decision Making: A Cognitive Skill Analysis .......................... 252
Dr. David O'Hare, The University of Otago, New Zealand
M. Wiggins

Error in Time Management During Fighting Mission .................................................. 257
Dr. Jean Yves Grau, CERMA, Division Ergonomie Aerospatiale, France

An Approach to Modeling Pilot Memory and Developing a Taxonomy of Memory Errors ............................................. 263
Ms. Susan J. Mangold, Battelle, Columbus
D. Eldredge

Time Pressure as a Causal Factor in Aviation Safety Incidents: The 'Hurry-Up' Syndrome ............................................. 269
Ms. Jeanne McElhatton, ASRS Office
C.R. Drew

Confusion on the Flight Deck ........................................................................... 275
Mr. Loren J. Rosenthal, Battelle/ASRS Office
R.W. Chamberlin & C.R. Drew

Perception

The Effect of Scene Content on Speed, Time, and Distance Perception .......................... 281
Ms. Cynthia Awe, Western Aerospace Laboratories
W.W. Johnson

Use of Optical Edge and Optical Flow Rate Information in the Perception and Control of Ground Velocity ............................................. 286
Dr. Walter W. Johnson, NASA Ames Research Center
C.A. Awe

Altitude Control: Effects of Global Optical Flow Rate Texture Type .......................... 292
Ms. Leigh Kelly, Wright State University
J.M. Flach, R. Warren, & S. Garness

Effects of Target Vibration on Dynamic Contrast Sensitivity ..................................... 296
Maj. William F. Adams, United States Military Academy
A.M. Prestrude

Natural Scene Templates as Cueing Devices .................................................. 302
Mr. Jan Stiff, Naval Air Warfare Center

Management and Safety

The Costs to Aviation for Sexual Harassment and Sexual Addiction .......................... 307
Ms. Deborah M. Corley, Diamond Mountain Center
Organizational Ergonomics and Aviation Safety ........................................... 309
Dr. Allan E. Diehl, USAF

Understanding Pilots' Performance: An Empirical Scrutiny .......................... 312a-f
Sigmar Malvezzi, University of Sao Paulo, Sao Paulo, Brazil

ATC Human Factors

Future ATC System Integration: Tools for Developing a Shared Vision ........... 313
Dr. Russell A. Benel, The MITRE Corporation
D.A. Domino

Delayed Pilot Recognition in Lost Communication Events ........................... 318
Capt. Charles R. Drew, Battelle/ASRS Office
A.D. Scott & R.D. Matchette

The Influence of Air Traffic Control Message Length and Timing on Pilot Communication .................................................. 324
Dr. Daniel Morrow, Decision Systems
M. Rodvold

Improving Situation Awareness Displays for Air Traffic Controllers ............... 328
Dr. James C. Johnston, NASA Ames Research Center
K.L. Horlitz, & R.W. Edmiston

The Role of Expert Systems in Future Cooperative Tools for Air Traffic Controllers .................................................. 335
Mr. Marcel Leroux, CENA, France

Integrated Voice and Data Communications for Air Traffic Operations and Services .................................................. 341
Mr. Michael D. Jenkins, The MITRE Corporation

Evaluating the Effects of Air Traffic Control Automation .............................. 347
Dr. Carol A. Manning, FAA - Civil Aeromedical Institute

The Behavioral Impact of TCAS III on the National Air Traffic Control System .................................................. 352
Mr. Vince J. Mellone, Battelle/AirAviation Safety Reporting Systems
S. Frank

Preliminary Analysis of Pilot Ratings of "Party Line" Information Importance ........ 360
Ms. Amy Pritchett, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
R.J. Hansman

An Evaluation of Perspective and Stereoscopic Displays as Alternatives to Plan View Displays in Air Traffic Control .................................................. 367
Mr. Mingpo Tham, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign
C.D. Wickens, C. Liang, & R. Carbonari

Computer Human Interface Design in Tower Air Traffic Control for Aircraft
Flight Data Management ........................................................................... 372a-e
Douglas L. Miller, IBM, Federal Systems Company
G. J. Wolfman
Pilot Selection

NATO Systems for the Selection of Pilot Candidates — Dr. Carretta

ATC Selection

A Computerized Selection Test for Canadian Forces Air Traffic Controllers ........................................ 434
Capt. Richard Boswell, Canadian Forces

Validation of the Air Traffic Control Specialist Pre-Training Screen ............................................. 439
Dr. Dana Broach, FAA - CAMI
D. Rosenthal, M. Weltin, K. Goldbach, R. O'Donnell, & J. Brecht-Clark,

The Development of Cognitive Tasks for the Selection of Air Traffic Control Personnel ..................... 444
Dr. Gerald D. Gibb, Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University - Daytona

Personality Factors

Personality Factors as Predictors for Job Success of Airline Pilots ............................................. 450
Hans-Jurgen. Hormann, DLR, Dept. of Aviation and Space Psychology
P. Maschke

Finding the Right Stuff: Personality Studies of Airline Pilots .................................................... 455
Dr. George Shouksmith, Massey University, New Zealand

Suicide by Use of Aircraft, U.S., 1979-1989 ....................................................................................... 461
Dr. Timothy J. Ungs, NIOSH, Division of Safety Research

Crew Resource Management

Trans-Cockpit Authority Gradient in Navy/Marine Aircraft Mishaps ............................................. 466
Dr. Robert A. Alkov, Naval Safety Center
F.W. Patterson

HOTT - A Resource Management Training Course Designed Specifically for the Helicopter Pilot ......... 469
Capt. John Blanch, Psychavia Ltd., UK

The Co-Pilot: Pilot's 'Mate' or Pilot in the Making? A Study of Ambiguity and Conflict in the Cockpit .......... 474
Capt. Roger K. Lambo, The Lambo Foundation
R.T. Lambo

The Dryden Accident: A Crew Resource Training Video ................................................................. 478
Mr. Brent Hayward, Qantas Australian Airlines, Australia

Beyond Reason: The Non-Judgmental Path of Least Resistance to Graceful CRM .............................. 482
Capt. Bert L. Botta, TWA (ret)

Pilot/ATC Communications .............................................................................................................. 486
Capt. Martin Sobel, TWA

Comparison of Fixed versus Formed Aircrews in Military Transport ............................................ 493
Dr. James R. Woody, USAF Academy
E.H. McKinney Jr., J.M. Barker Jr. & C.C. Clothier
Aviation Psychology, Group Dynamics and Human Performance Issues in Anesthesiology ...... 499
Dr. Mark G. Ewell, University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center
R.J. Adams

Delta Air Lines' CRM Program: An Evaluation of NASA/UT Statistics .......................... 505
Capt. Don Smith, Delta Air Lines
M.S. Hayes

The Dynamics of CRM Attitude Change: Attitude Stability ........................................ 509
Dr. Steven E. Gregorich, NASA Ames Research Center

Experiential Learning in Crew Resource Management .................................................... 513
Mr. Steven Lane, Hernandez Engineering, Inc.
J.S. Korb

Control Resource Management in Air Traffic Control .................................................... 517
Mr. Gordon W. Mudge, Cockpit Management Resources
M.H.A. Gidde

Leadership-Behavior in High-Tech Cockpits (A-320) .................................................. 522
Alois Farthofer, Lufthansa, Germany
R. Kemmler,

US Army Crew Coordination Training and Evaluation ................................................... 527
Dr. Dennis K. Leedom, U.S. Army Research Institute (USARI)
R. Simon

Self-Analysis of LOFT as a Strategy for Learning CRM in Undergraduate Flight Training ...... 533
Mr. Guy M. Smith, Montana State University

Validating the Impact of Maintenance CRM Training ...................................................... 538
Dr. James Taylor, USC
M.M. Robertson, R. Peck, & J.W. Stelly

LOS/LOFT Debriefing Skills and Techniques ................................................................. 542a-f
Neil Johnston, Trinity College, Dublin, Ireland

Crew Resource Management Training and Research -- Dr. Helmreich

Whither CRM? Future Directions in Crew Resource Management Training in the Cockpit and Elsewhere .......................................................... 543
Dr. Robert Helmreich, NASA/University of Texas/FAA

Position Specific Behaviors and Their Impact on Crew Performance:
Implications for Training ................................................................................................. 549
Mr. Randy Law, NASA/University of Texas/FAA

Captain Upgrade CRM Training: A New Focus for Enhanced Flight Operations .......... 556
Mr. William R. Taggart, NASA/University of Texas/FAA

Cross-Cultural Attitudes of Flight Crew Regarding CRM .............................................. 561
Ms Ashleigh Merritt, NASA/University of Texas/FAA
Human Factors in Incident Reporting ............................................................... 567
Ms Sharon Jones, NASA/University of Texas/FAA

Effects of Automation on Aircrew Communication -- Dr. Kanki

The Impact of Automation on Crew Communication and Performance .................. 573
Dr. Clint Bowers, University of Central Florida
J. Deaton, R. Oser., C. Prince, & M. Kolb

Automation Design and Crew Coordination ................................................... 578
Mr. Leon Segal, University of Illinois

Analysis of Communication in the Standard Versus Automated Aircraft ................. 584
Ms. Elizabeth Veinott, San Jose State University Foundation
C. Irwin

CRM/ADM/LOFT -- Dr. Lofaro

The Future of LOFT Scenario Design and Validation ............................................. 589
Dr. William R. Hamman, United Airlines
T.L. Seamster, K.M. Smith, & R.J. Lofaro

The Role of LOFT in CRM Integration ............................................................ 595
Dr. Ronald Lofaro, FAA Technical Center
K.M. Smith

CRM Assessment and Instructor Knowledge Structures ......................................... 601
Dr. Thomas L. Seamster, Carlow International Inc.
K.M. Smith, W.R. Hamman, R.J. Lofaro, & W.A. McDougall

Cultural Factors

Cross-Cultural Perspectives in Human Factors Training: The Lessons from the ICAO Human Factors Program ............................................................... 606
Capt. Daniel Maurino, ICAO Montreal

Aeronautical Psychology Model Applied in Venezuela and Latinoamerica ............... 612
Dr. Jose Mirabal, Presidente de la Sociedad Interamericana de Psicologia Aeronautica, Venezuela

Aeroflot Training Practices ........................................................................... 615
Ms. Ellen N. Rukes-Overton, Los Alamos National Laboratory

Physiology

The Prevalence of Fear of Flying Among Icelanders ............................................ 620
Dr. Eirikur Orn Arnarson, ICAA & Lanspitalinn, Iceland
A. Guomundsdottir

Low-Level Alcohol Effects on Pilot Readback Performance: An Exploratory Study .... 624
Ms. Veronika O. Prinzo, FAA - CAMI
T. Britton
