Food Ingredients Europe
CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS
1989

Porte de Versailles, Paris
27, 28, 29 September 1989

Conference Committee:
A. Turner (Chairman)
Prof. C. Bourgeois, L. Carbillet, Prof. M. Chambolle,
Ph. Delest, Prof. A. Ducastaing, Prof. I. Estienne
A.J. Hoogland, Ms. A.M. Koseda, J.P. Miedema,
Prof. E.H. Reimerdes, Prof. B. Ribadeau-Dumas,
Prof. H.M.J. Richard

Expoconsult Publishers
Maarssen, The Netherlands
1989
Contents

13 Preface A. Turner, Chairman of the Conference Committee

1. STABILIZERS AND EMULSIFIERS
15 Contents
17 Chairman Dr D. Lorient, ENSBANA, France
18 Chapter 1 Emulsifying and stabilising properties of lecithin/carrageenan systems
   W.M. Marrs
22 Chapter 2 Carrageenan and texture of heat treated long shelf-life set and stirred yoghurt
   K. Petersen
29 Chapter 3 Xanthan/Galactomannan synergism: influence of ionic strength and pH
   Dr M. Knipper
33 Chapter 4 The application of cellulose ether-starch interactions in food formulations
   Th. Schwitzguebel
37 Chapter 5 Chemical basis of the level of use of sulphur dioxide in food
   Dr B.L. Wedzicha and S.J. Goddard

2. DAIRY PRODUCTS AS FOOD INGREDIENTS
43 Contents
45 Chairman Prof B. Ribadeau-Dumas, INRA, France
46 Chapter 1 Exponential growth in tangential ultrafiltration and microfiltration
   A. Renard
48 Chapter 2 An advanced chromatographic technology for new whey protein isolates
   B. Maurer
51 Chapter 3 Selecting the correct WPC for your food application via a knowledge of the functional properties of WPCs
   M.J. Rockell
55 Chapter 4 Technological and analytical aspects of milk fat modification
   Dr E. Frede

3. COLOURS AND FLAVOUR
63 Contents
65 Chairman Prof H. Richard, E.N.S.I.A., France
66 Chapter 1 Biotechnology and food flavours development
   D. Joulain
70 Chapter 2 Technical aspects of some natural plant extracts and their use in the colouration of foods and beverages
   C.J. Knewstubb
74 Chapter 3 Supercritical CO₂ extraction applied to food additives: flavouring, antioxidant colouring agents
   Dr B.G. Mayer
79 Chapter 4 Latest developments in microwavable food and flavour ingredients
   Dr N.A. Shaath and N.R. Azzo
85 Chapter 5 Renewed interest for flavonoids of Sandalwood and Roselle as natural red colourant for food
   M.L. Labatut
89 Chapter 6 Influence of flavouring agent product. Interaction on final flavouring effect in various foods
   Prof. N. Barylko-Pikielna and I. Tyszkievicz

4. SPECIAL APPLICATIONS TO DAIRY PRODUCTS
93 Contents
95 Chairman Prof P.P. Resmini, University of Mailand, Italy
96 Chapter 1 The use of enzymes in the dairy industry
   Dr M. Desmazesaud, J. Cerning and J.C. Gripon
104 Chapter 2 Use of recombinant calf chymosin from kluveromyces lactis in the manufacture of Emmental cheese
   Dr J.F. Chamba
5. INGREDIENTS AND FOOD PROCESSING

5.1 INGREDIENTS AND FOOD PROCESSING

125 Contents
127 Chairman Prof. C. Cantarelli, Distam, University of Milan, Italy
128 Chapter 1 Selection of ingredients for aseptically filled food products
      N.B. Berry
132 Chapter 2 Encapsulation of functional food ingredients
      P.J. Percel
136 Chapter 3 Cyclodextrin molecular encapsulation and its potential applications in food uses
      Dr B. Dalbe
139 Chapter 4 Improvements of powder characteristics
      M. Andersen
141 Chapter 5 Improvements of powder drying
      G.H. Herbertz

6. ADDITIVES, INGREDIENTS AND THE INTERNAL MARKET

6.1 ADDITIVES, INGREDIENTS AND THE INTERNAL MARKET

145 Contents
147 Chairman A. Turner, Food Consultant, United Kingdom
148 Chapter 1 Problems and approaches in defining and harmonizing food additives and their uses
      A. Feberwee
151 Chapter 2 The control of food additives
      N. Zylbermann
153 Chapter 3 Ingredients and additives - Their future role?
      J.A. Pollard
155 Chapter 4 Consumer Perception
      Dr C. Humphries

7. BAKERY

7.1 BAKERY

159 Contents
161 Chairman Prof Dr F. Meuser, University of Berlin, West-Germany
162 Chapter 1 The role of yeast and enzymes in breadmaking: an integral approach
      Ir H.W. van Dam and Dr J.D.R. Hille
167 Chapter 2 New possibilities for reducing the staling rate of baked products
      T. Jonsson
173 Chapter 3 Pentosans as food ingredients
      Prof. C. Cantarelli
178 Chapter 4 Hydrocolloids in the microwaveable chocolate cakes
      B. Villaudy, S.E. Noelck and G. Tilly
184 Chapter 5 The use of starches in microwave baked cakes
      H.L.W. Timmerman
186 Chapter 6 Dietary fibre addition and the water absorption of bakery doughs
      M. Voit

8. HEALTHY LIVING AND LIGHT PRODUCTS

8.1 HEALTHY LIVING AND LIGHT PRODUCTS

193 Contents
195 Chairman Mr J.P. Mareschi, BSN, France
196 Chapter 1 Fat replacers: a revolutionary approach to future dietary regimes and healthy lifestyles
      L.J. Casella
199 Chapter 2 High mono-unsaturated oils for healthy foods
      I. Gawrilow
204 Chapter 3 Beta fibre - A positive route to lower cholesterol
      Dr J.I. Harland
206 Chapter 4 The use of pea fibre as fat replacement
      L. Corlin Christensen
211 Chapter 5 The role of fructose in weight control
      Dr T. Pepper
214 Chapter 6 Flavours and functional ingredients for low calorie foods
      Drs H. de Vor
9. NEW DEVELOPMENTS FOR SAVOURY SNACKS AND MEAT PRODUCTS

219  Contents
221  Chairman  Mr D.E. Blenford, Hildon Associates, United Kingdom
222  Chapter 1  Crispness in coating systems
D.B. Bernacchi, K. Rho and S. Frieders
225  Chapter 2  Studies on the application of disodium 5'-inosinate (IMP) to meat products
J. Sakamoto
228  Chapter 3  Modified starches as partial replacements for sodium caseinate in cooked comminuted meat preparations
A.J. Rapaille and T. Nicolaï
231  Chapter 4  Binding of meat by means of an enzymatically formed protein gel
Dr G. Wijngaards and E.J.C. Paardekooper
234  Chapter 5  Improving the texture in mechanically deboned meat products
B.D. Jensen

10.1 SWEETENER SPECIAL PROGRAMME: INTENSE SWEETENERS

237  Contents
239  Chairman  Mr L. Carbillet, Finnsugar, France
240  Chapter 1  Intense sweeteners and food intake
M.S. Billaux
243  Chapter 2  Development and uses of alitame - A novel dipeptide amide sweetener
Dr R.C. Glowaky
247  Chapter 3  Sucralose - properties and applications
Dr M.R. Jenner
249  Chapter 4  Stability and Synergism - important characteristics for the application of Sunett®
Dr G.W. Von Rymon Lipinski
252  Chapter 5  Consumer preferences in sweetening ingredients
J.F. Dupont

10.2 SWEETENER SPECIAL PROGRAMME: BULK SWEETENERS

257  Contents
259  Chairman  Mr R. de Baynast, Sucre-Union, France
260  Chapter 1  Palatinit, the ideal ingredient for confectionery
Dr P.J. Strätter
267  Chapter 2  Actilight® - A low calorie sweetener
Dr B. Thiriet
271  Chapter 3  Polyols for sugarless confectionery: Sorbitol, Mannitol, Xylitol, Lycasin®
Y. Le Bot
277  Chapter 4  Lacty® - A new reduced calorie sweetener
Ir. C.H. den Uyl
283  Chapter 5  The nutritional aspects of Maltitol, also considering regulations in national laws and in directives of the European Economic Community
Dr R. Lebuhn
287  Chapter 6  Raftilose
M.E. Castille and G. Smiths
288  Chapter 7  Sweeteners and functional food ingredients from chicory
J. Fockeye

11. CONFECTIONERY

291  Contents
293  Chairman  Mr I. Fabry, ZDS, West-Germany
294  Chapter 1  Flavours for confectionery products
Dr R. Enser
298  Chapter 2  Espiron: the alternative for milk in chocolate and caramels
Ir P. de Koster
301  Chapter 3  Developments in lactose hydrolysed dairy ingredients
Dr K.J. Burgess
304  Chapter 4  Application of vegetable fats in chocolate and confectionary
H. Iversen
310  Chapter 5  Sugar alcohols applications in sugarless confectionery and chocolates
C. Krüger

12. BEVERAGES

315  Contents
317  Chairman  Mr Menoret, I.R.A.B., France
318  Chapter 1  The effect of sweetness matching and flavouring on the sensory characteristics and acceptability of cola drinks
Dr J.S. Colwill and J.A. McEwan
Chapter 2
Avoidance of dehydration in track and treadmill running by using a carbonated, isotonic beverage containing glucose polymers
M.A. Ford

Chapter 3
The decarboxylation of L-malic acid in must by direct inoculation with homofermentative lactobacilli
Dr C. Prahl

Chapter 4
Combinations of glucose syrups and intense sweeteners, application in calorie reduced soft drinks
J. Simon, J. Vanhemelrijck and J. Coppin

Chapter 5
Flavouring soft drinks
Dr J. Knights

13. POSTERSESSION
Selection of abstracts of posters, presented at the Food Ingredients Exhibition 1989 (See page 337)