RESEARCH PAPERS

Successful IS Innovations: The Contingent Contributions of Innovation Characteristics and Implementation Process
Philip Yetton, University of New South Wales, Rajeev Sharma, University of New South Wales, and Gray Southern, Consultant ................................................................. 1

The Effects of Task Interruption and Information Presentation on Individual Decision Making
Cheri Speier, University of Oklahoma, Joseph S. Valacich, Washington State University, and Iris Vessey, Indiana University ................................................................. 21

The Gestalt of an Information Technology Outsourcing Relationship:
An Exploratory Analysis
Thomas Kern, University of Oxford ......................................................... 37

Evolution of a Virtual Community: Understanding Design Issues Through a Longitudinal Study
Arvind Malhotra, Sanjay Gosain, and Alexander Hars, University of Southern California ................. 59

Designing in the Dark: The Changing User-Developer Relationship in Information Systems Development
Joe Nandhakumar, University of Southampton, and Matthew Jones, University of Cambridge ................. 75

The Impact of CASE on IS Professionals’ Work and Motivation to Use CASE
Juhani Iivari and Jari Maansaari, University of Oulu ........................................ 89

Goal Congruence, Trust, and Organizational Culture: Strengthening Knowledge Links
Judy E. Scott, The University of Texas at Austin, and Guy Gable, Queensland University of Technology ........................................ 107

PANELS

Panel 1
Information Systems Frontiers: Emerging Vistas
Chair: R. Ramesh, State University of New York, Buffalo
H. Raghav Rao, State University of New York, Buffalo
Panelists: Roy Radner, New York University
Will Pape, Verifone/Hewlett-Packard
Larry Reeker, National Science Foundation
Jagdish Chandra, U.S. Army Research Office
S. N. Mukherjee, North American Phillips Corporation
Salvatore March, University of Minnesota
John Pientka, Motorola Space and Systems Technology Group | 507   |

Panel 2
Building Relationships in Electronic Commerce: European and North American Perspectives
Chair: Rolf T. Wigand, Syracuse University
Panelists: Robert Benjamin, Syracuse University
Tawfik Jelassi, Euro Arab Management School
Stefan Klein, Westphalian Wilhelms University | 509   |
Panel 3  A Report from 8.2 to ICIS: Three Points of View on Information Systems and Qualitative Research from the June 1997 Conference of IFIP Working Group 8.2
Chair: Ken Kendall, Rutgers University
Panelists: Eileen Trauth, Northeastern University
          Michelle Brown, Richmond University
          Marie-claude Boudreau, Georgia State University ........................................ 512

Panel 4  Building Relationships with Practice with RURR (Really Useful Rigorous Research)
Chair: Carol V. Brown, Indiana University
Panelists: Lynne Markus, Claremont Graduate University
           Jack Rockart, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
           V. Sambamurthy, Florida State University
           Harvey Shrednick, Arizona State University ........................................ 513

Panel 5  Investigating Virtual Organizations Through Social Network Analysis
Chair: Manju K. Ahuja, Florida State University
Panelists: Ajit Kambil, New York University
           Ron E. Rice, Rutgers University ...................................................... 515

Panel 6  Marketing and MIS: Another Entry on the MIS Dance Card or the True Partner?
Chair: Richard Watson, University of Georgia
Panelists: George Zinkhan, Coca-Cola Professor of Marketing, University of Georgia
           Pierre Berthon, University of Wales
           Ben Dyer, President, Intellimedia Commerce ........................................ 516

Panel 7  Using Multiple Methods in Studying Information Systems: Some Experiences
Chair: Steve Sawyer, Syracuse University
Panelists: Jay Cooprider, Bentley College
           Robert Galliers, University of Warwick
           Michael Gallivan, New York University
           Bonnie Kaplan, Quinnipiac College ..................................................... 518

Panel 8  Wiring the Academy: What’s Working, What’s Not, What’s Next, and Why
Chair: Bradley C. Wheeler, Indiana University
Panelists: Lynda Applegate, Harvard University
           David Brown, Wake Forest University
           Peggy Phillips, University of Maryland at College Park ......................... 520

Panel 9  Playing Politics with Information Technology: A Global Perspective
Chair: Celia T. Romm, University of Wollongong
Panelists: Ron E. Rice, Rutgers University
           Dubravka Cecez-Kecmanovic, University of Western Sydney
           Ernest Jordan, Macquarie University Graduate School of Management
           Nava Pliskin, Ben Gurion University
           Fay Sudweeks, University of Sydney
           Niels Bjørn-Anderson, Copenhagen Business School ................................... 522
Panel 10  Information Systems and Technology Programs: Meeting the Challenges of the New Millennium
Chair: Dan Peak, University of Nebraska, Omaha
Panelists: Justin Stolen, University of Nebraska, Omaha
           Rob Kling, Indiana University
           Jay Nunamaker, University of Arizona ........................................ 524

Panel 11  The Rhetoric, Reality, and Future of the Relationship Dimension in Information Technology Outsourcing
Chair: Thomas Kern, University of Oxford
Panelists: Vijay Gurbaxani, University of California, Irvine
           Mary Lacity, University of Missouri, St. Louis
           John R. Harris, Electronic Data Systems Corporation .................. 525

Panel 12  What is Different with Information Technology Implementation in Less Developed Countries and Why Should We Care?
Chair: Nicolau Reinhard, University of São Paulo
Panelists: Prashant Palvia, University of Memphis
           Joze Gricar, University of Maribor
           Amar Gupta, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
           Mohan Kaul, Managing and Training Division of the Commonwealth General Secretary ...... 526

Panel 13  Service Level Agreements at Texas Instruments: Theory Meets Practice
Chair: Jeanne W. Ross, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Panelists: Cynthia Mathis Beath, Southern Methodist University
           Michael R. Vitali, University of Melbourne
           Deneese Gipson, Texas Instruments Inc. ....................................... 527

Panel 14  German Perspectives on Information Systems: Research Topics, Methodological Challenges, and Patterns of Exchange with IS Practice
Chair: Ulrich Frank, Universität Koblenz
Panelists: Hans Ulrich Buhl, Universität Augsburg
           Wolfgang Koenig, Universität Frankfurt
           Helmut Krcmar, Universität Hohenheim
           Peter Mertens, Universität Saarbrücken
Comments: Bob Zmud, Florida State University
           Heinz K. Klein, Binghamton University ..................................... 529

Panel 15  Pointers in Doing Writing Up Case Research
Chair: Leslie Willcocks, Oxford University
Panelists: Line Dubé, Université du Québec à Montréal
           Guy Paré, École des Hautes Études Commerciales
           Dan Robey, Georgia State University ...................................... 531
Panel 16  IT-Enabled Business Transformation: Comparing Approaches to the Transfer of Business Best Practices
Chair: Gunnar E. Christensen, Norwegian School of Economics and Business
Panelists: Niels Bjørn-Andersen, Copenhagen Business School
Dietrich Seibt, University of Cologne
Han T. M. van der Zee, Nolan Norton Institute ..................................................... 532

Panel 17  Ethnographic Research in Information Systems: An Exploration of Three Alternative Approaches to Ethnography
Chair: Ojelanki K. Ngwenyama, Virginia Commonwealth University
Panelists: Lynda Harvey, University of Technology, Sydney
Michael D. Myers, University of Auckland
Eleanor Wynn, Oregon Graduate Institute .............................................................. 533

Panel 18  Project Management Best Practices: Year 2000 and Beyond
Chair: Kate M. Kaiser, Marquette University
Panelists: Jane Fedorowicz, Bentley College
Janis L. Gogan, Bentley College
David J. Jankowski, California State University, San Marcos
Leon Kappelman, University of North Texas
Lauris Nance, Equifax ................................................................. 535

Panel 19  What Don’t We Know About Managing Knowledge Using Information Technology?
Chairs: Michael H. Zack, Northeastern University
Tom Davenport, University of Texas, Austin
Panelists: Kathleen F. Curley, The Lotus Institute
Arthur W. DeTore, Lincoln National Reinsurance
Fran Engoran, Price Waterhouse ................................................................. 536
