Traffic Safety on two Continents
Malmö, Sweden, September 20–22, 1999
- Road safety policy and programmes
- Road safety audits & costs
CONTENTS

Road safety policy and programmes

Contrasting views within Australia on which factors drive the reduction in numbers of serious road casualties
Chris Dyson

Traffic safety programme of Brandenburg and traffic safety work at the regional level
Hans Joachim Vollpracht

Speed experiment in Estonia – Impacts on road safety and road user behaviour
Dago Antov, Tiia Rõivas

Appropriate speed whose choice is it?
Heather Ward

Speed management in urban areas
Poul Greibe, Puk Kristine Nilsson

Area-wide urban traffic calming schemes: A meta-analysis of safety effects
Rune Elvik

Traffic management and safety in two Greek cities. The DUMAS project
John Frantzeskakis, Magda Pitsiava-Latinopoulou

Improving road safety system in non-EU countries using harmonized ITS solutions
Ivan Bosnjak, Ivan Upanovi, Sefkija Eki

Road safety audits & costs

Benefits of road safety audit
Pat Wells

A review of safety audit practice: Case study of the Iceland ring road
Steve Proctor

Tailoring road safety audits for local US applications
Eugene M Wilson, Martin E Lipinski
PennDOT's road test of the road safety audit process 189
Timothy R Pieples

Emergency bays versus emergency lanes on motorways – A cost benefit analysis 211
Wolfgang J Berger, Peter Maurer

Experience of usage of winter tyres in Estonia 225
Peep Sirje