ED-MEDIA 2005
World Conference on Educational Multimedia, Hypermedia & Telecommunications

Edited by
Piet Kommers
Griff Richards

Proceedings of ED-MEDIA 2005
WORLD CONFERENCE ON EDUCATIONAL MULTIMEDIA, HYPERMEDIA & TELECOMMUNICATIONS
June 27-July 2, 2005; Montréal, Canada

Volume 4
Factors for Successful Online Collaborative Learning: Experiences from Malaysian Secondary School Students ......................................................... 2031
Ah-Choo Koo, Chien-Sing Lee, Weng-Ping Chin, Multimedia University, Malaysia

Using Massively-Multiplayer Online Role-Playing Games to Enhance Collaborative Learning and Teaching in the Australian High School Classroom ................................................................. 2039
Mark Lee, Ken Eustace, Geoff Fellows, Allan Bytheway, Charles Sturt University, Australia; Leah Irving, Deakin University, Australia

Considerations into Nature of Virtual Teaming in Online MBA Program: A Case Study .......................... 2047
Seung-hee Lee, Curtis J. Bonk, Richard J. Magjuka, Xaojing Liu, Bude Su, Mengyu Zhai, Kyong-Jee Kim, Shijuan Liu, Min Shi, Indiana University, USA

Interplay Between Self-Directed Learning and Group Interactions in Online Problem-Based Discussions .............................................................. 2055
Wen-Yu (Silvia) Lee, University of Michigan, USA

Facilitating medical decision making with collaborative tools ............................................................... 2062
Jingyan Lu, Suanne Lajoie, McGill University, Canada

The Post and Vote Model of Web-Based Peer Assessment .................................................................. 2067
Bruce Mann, Memorial University, Canada

Achieving Diversity through Online Inter-institutional Collaborations .............................................. 2075
Shari McCurdy, Ray Schroeder, University of Illinois at Springfield, USA

Learning Support in Multi-Cultural Collaboration - design and analyses of online communication - ................................................................. 2080
Yoshiro Miyata, Chukyo University, Japan; Nobuyuki Ueda, Doshisha Women's University, Japan; Hillel Weintraub, Hakodate Future University, Japan

Learning for Understanding: A Web-based Model for Inquisitive Peer-review Learning Activities .............................................................. 2083
Joseph Mohan, City University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong; Paul Lam, Chinese University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong

A Case in the Design of Generative Learning Objects (GLOs): Applied Statistical Methods .......... 2091
Raquel Morales, Dawn Leeder, UCEL, Cambridge University, UK; Tom Boyle, London Metropolitan University, UK

Using learning protocols for knowledge acquisition and problem solving with individual and group incentives ......................................................... 2098
Michael Oehl, Hans-Rüdiger Pfister, University Lüneburg, Germany

Visual Tools to Facilitate Discussion in Online Reading Clubs for Children ........................................ 2110
Constanza Pacher, University of Alberta, Canada

Examining the Impact of Computer Supported Intercultural Communication on Learners' Language-Learning Beliefs and Motivation ................................................................. 2118
Hsinyi Peng, Institute of Education, National Chiao Tung University, Taiwan; Wei-Hsin Lu, School of Information Science and Learning Technologies, USA; Chao-I Wang, Institute of Education, National Chiao Tung University, Taiwan

Promoting Trans-Disciplinarity by Active Learner Support ................................................................. 2124
Franz Reichl, Eva Obermüller, Vienna University of Technology, Austria; Jutta Jerlich, eTradeLink, Austria

Theory-Supported Problem-Based Cognitive Partnerships Spanning 3rd Grade To Higher Education: A Case Study .............................................................. 2130
Joette Stefl-Mabry, Jennifer Goodall Powers, University at Albany, State University of New York, USA

A Collaboratory Ubiquitous Pedagogical Environment ....................................................................... 2138
Louis Villardier, Télé-université, Canada; Hamadou Saliah-Hassane, LICEF, Canada; Kim-Lien Do, Télé-université, Canada

Collaborative Ontologies in Knowledge Management ........................................................................... 2145
Michael Vonrueden, Thorsten Hampel, Sabrina Geissler, University of Paderborn, Germany

Integrating Computers in the English Language Arts Classroom based on Vygotsky’s Theory .... 2153
Jenny Wang, Yuehchiiu Fang, National Formosa University, Taiwan

Online Collaboration by Interprofessional Student Teams completing a Mixed-Mode Case Study .............................................................. 2158
Rosemary Waterston, Judith Hunter, Judy Watt-Watson, Michael McGillion, Lalitha Raman-Wilms, Lynn Cockburn, University of Toronto, Canada
Synchronous Vs Asynchronous Learning? Principles, Methodology and Implementation
Policy of a Blended Learning Environment for Lifelong Learning, at the University of Crete 2166
Panagiotes Anastasiades, University of Crete, Department of Education, Greece

Nina Bakisian, University of San Francisco, USA

The Role of Technology in the Portfolio-as-Learning-Tool versus the Portfolio-as-Assessment-System Debate 2177
Maaike Bouwmeester, New York University, USA

Professional Development to Increase Mathematics Classroom Technology Integration To Impact Student Learning: Achievements and Challenges 2182
Evelyn R Brown, LeTourneau University, USA; Caroline Crawford, University of Houston Clear Lake, USA

Teachers’ perceived importance and manageability on the factors in technology integration 2187
Lih-Juan ChanLin, Department of Library & Information Science, Fu-Jen Catholic University, Taiwan

Rapid e-learning: Will Making E-learning a Breeze Lead to Pervasive Use in Schools? 2193
Leong Chee Kian, Ministry of Education, Singapore, Singapore; Wong Chris, Victoria Junior College, Singapore

Utilizing Wireless Mobile Devices to Implement Field-Based Collaborative Learning Strategies and Activities at The University of Tennessee 2198
Shane Colter, Michael Burke, Julie Little, Jerry Riehl, The University of Tennessee, USA

Implementing ICT-integrated education in a corporate training environment: Issues and challenges 2203
Rabelani Dagada, University of South Africa, South Africa

RLO Reality Check: the ACETS Project 2207
Rachel Ellaway, David Dewhurst, MVMLTS, The University of Edinburgh, UK; Dawn Leeder, UCeL, The University of Cambridge, UK; Tammany Allen, CREATE, Suffolk College, UK; Suzanne Hardy, Megan Baxter, Subject Centre for Medicine, Veterinary Medicine and Dentistry, The UK Higher Education Academy, UK

Educational Benefits: Testing and Evaluation of a Collaborative 3D World 2209
Nicoletta DiBlas, Paolo Paolini, Caterina Poggi, Politecnico di Milano, Italy

The Effect of Computer Assisted Instruction (CAI) on High School Students (Girls) in Learning English as a Second Language 2222
Pouran Fazelian, Mohsen Saadatmand, Teacher Training University in Tehran, Iran (Islamic Republic Of); Behnaz Rad Saadat Gholi, Payam Noor University, Iran (Islamic Republic Of)

The Pedagogical Value of Videoconference Technology 2227
Samuel Fee, Lauren Fee, Washington & Jefferson College, USA

Experiences from an Online Course: Voices of an Instructor and Three Asian Students 2233
Yu Feng, Indiana University Bloomington, USA

Embracing Change: Sustainable Integration of Learning Technologies in Higher Education through a Multifaceted Approach 2241
Monique Fuchs, Wentworth Institute of Technology, USA

Networked Interactivity and Classroom Engagement: Changing the Nature of Large Lecture Classes 2247
Jude Higdon, Tu Tran, Center for Scholarly Technology, University of Southern California, USA

Keys to Successful Delivery of Synchronous Online Courses: A Case Study 2249
Stephanie Huffman, Joe Arn, University of Central Arkansas, USA

Synchronous Versus Asynchronous: Delivery of Online Instruction and the Factors that Lead to Success or Failure 2253
Stephanie Huffman, University of Central Arkansas, USA; Kelly Wilkinson, Indiana State University, USA; Cheryl Wiedmaier, University of Central Arkansas, USA; Tena Crews, University of South Carolina, USA; Joe Arn, University of Central Arkansas, USA; Virginia Hemby, Middle Tennessee State University, USA

Developing techniques for teaching Cerebral Palsy Students: Stage 1 Qualitative Interviewing 2258
Paul Kearney, Unitec New Zealand, New Zealand

Management of an eLearning Evaluation Project: e3Learning 2261
Paul Lam, Carmel McNaught, The Chinese University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong

A Conceptual Model of Ubiquitous Learning Community (ULC) 2269
Luyi Li, Yanlin Zheng, Ogata Hiroaki, Yoneo Yano, Tokushima University, Japan
Case Study of School Culture in Responding to Information Age ........................................... 2275
Shinn-Rong Lin, Hsiao-Ting Teng, Huei-Chuan Lin, Graduate Institute of Learning and Instruction, National Central University, Taiwan, ROC, Taiwan

Technology and education - implementation in an Australian context ..................................... 2282
Jean Macnish, Sue Trinidad, Curtin University of Technology, Australia

Does Online Participation Matter? A Case Study of a Hybrid Theatre Arts Course .................. 2286
Sara Marcus, Touro University International, USA

Feelings Experienced by Students in CyberSurfiver ............................................................. 2292
Salome Meyer, Johannes Cronje, Irma Eloff, University of Pretoria, South Africa

Instructional Technology Planning for Significant Learning - An Example ............................. 2301
Pradeep Mohanty, Ohio University - Southern Campus, USA

Development of a Digital Portfolio System for Preservice Teachers ....................................... 2306
Sherrie Pardieck, David McMullen, Bradley University, USA

Squeaking Their Way into Computer Technology: A Study of Middle School Girls and Creative Computer Programming ................................................................. 2311
Alysen Regiec, The Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory, USA

The use of simulations in the online classroom ......................................................................... 2317
Amany Saleh, Arkansas State University, USA

Helping On-Line Learners Construct Mental Models of Physical Systems ............................. 2321
Dotty Sammons, Ernest S. Lohse, Idaho State University, USA

Introducing Blackboard Delivery System in a High School: .................................................. 2328
Pavel Samsonov, Marlene Beard, University of Louisiana at Lafayette, USA

The Effectiveness of Interactive Hypermedia Courseware: The Angeles University Experience .................................................................................................................... 2334
Dennis Ramiro Sangalang, Angeles University - College of Computer Studies, Philippines

CABLE: Creating A Blended Learning Environment ................................................................. 2340
John Savery, University of Akron, USA

Technology in Teaching and Creating Art .............................................................................. 2346
Candice Schilz, Western Michigan University, USA

One Large Technology Leap for Pre-Service Teachers; One Small Step for Humankind .......... 2350
Jane Strickland Strickland, Shane Moulton, Albert Strickland, Idaho State University, USA

Faculty and Students Go Wireless ............................................................................................ 2352
Nancy Todd, Linda Kieffer, Eastern Washington University, USA

Perspectives of Faculty on the Use of e-Learning Dialogues .................................................... 2354
Eileen Webb, Alan Jones, Philip Barker, Paul van Schaik, University of Teesside, UK

Promoting Effective Communication and Interaction in the Asynchronous Learning Environment .................................................................................................................. 2362
Cheryl Wiedmaier, University of Central Arkansas, USA; Tena Crews, University of South Carolina, USA

Using Context-awareness to Support Peer Recommendation .................................................... 2367
Yanlin Zheng, Luyi Li, Tokushima University, Japan; Ogata Hiroaki, Tokushima University, Japan; Yoneo Yano, Tokushima University, Japan

Validating a Process For Use in Assessing Technology Aided Training .................................. 2374
W. Clayton Allen, The University of Texas at Tyler, USA

Unlocking the Spanish Teachers Professional Development: Helping the creation of knowledge communities .................................................................................................................. 2381
Isabel Alvarez, Begoña Gros, Iolanda Garcia, University of Barcelona, Spain

Computer self-efficacy of pre-service vocational teachers ....................................................... 2385
Ab Rahim Bakar, Faculty of Educational Studies, Malaysia; Shamsiah Mohamed, Universiti Putra Malaysia, Malaysia

Learning History in the Constructive Hypermedia Environment of KASTALIA ...................... 2389
Theodora Cavoura, University of Thessaly, Greece; Grammatiki Tsaganou, Maria Grigoriadou, University of Athens Dept. of Informatics & Telecommunications, Greece; Dimitra Koutra, University of Thrace, Greece; Maria Samarakou, Technological Educational Institution of Athens, Greece

Investigating the factors that influence the use of digital learning resources in the K-12 educational context ........................................................................................................... 2391
Sue Bennett, Lori Lockyer, Ian Brown, University of Wollongong, Australia
The study on the teachers’ attitudes and belief on the integration of information technology in teaching .......................................................... 2404
Yung-ta Chang, Dept. of Life science, National Taiwan Normal University, Taiwan; Yi-zuo Lai, Bi-chyi Hwang, Dept. of Life Science, National Taiwan Normal University, Taiwan

Scaffolding: some unplanned consequences of addressing student satisfaction ................................................. 2407
Barnard Clarkson, Chris Brook, ECU, Australia

The Validation and Application of an Online Learning Environment Instrument (OLLES) .......... 2415
John Clayton, Waikato Institute of Technology, New Zealand

Using Communities of Practice to Support Classroom Teaching ............................................................... 2420
Kimiz Dalkir, McGill University, Canada

Exploring Student-Teacher Roles and Educational Affordances of an Instant Messenger Environment ................................................................. 2428
Donna DeGennaro, University of Pennsylvania, USA; Gerri Light, La Salle College High School, USA

Eroding time and space dimensions: using multimedia to enable non-traditional student participation at an inner-city University in the UK .................................................. 2437
Caroline Dobson, London Metropolitan University, UK

Theory to Practice: Technology Enhanced Instruction in an Integrated Language Arts, Literature and Educational Technology Course for Pre-service Teachers ................................................................. 2445
Gail Gaetz, Chery Takkunen, College of St. Scholastica, USA

A Cross-Cultural Exchange via BBS and Internet Video Conferencing: A Project Overview .. 2449
Neal Jost, Dokyo University, Japan; Lumi Tatsuta, Yaeko Nakanishi, Dokkyo University, Japan

Student Response Systems in Education: Past, Present and Future .......................................................... 2454
Kevin Kalinowski, Greg Jones, University of North Texas, USA

Negotiated Assessment: A Case Study ................................................................. 2460
Parivash Khalili, Charl Fregona, Durban Institute of Technology, South Africa

Online Professional Development Using Brain Research Curriculum Serves as an Instructional Intervention for High School Students .......................................... 2466
Katie Klinger, National University, USA; Daniel Amen, The Amen Clinic, USA

Enhancing the Integration of Technology as it intersects with Literacy in Teacher Candidates Fieldwork Sites ................................................................. 2472
Catherine Kurkjian, Central Connecticut State University, USA

A Reflection Of Integrating Information Technology Into Teaching —A Case Study ..................... 2474
Shinn-Rong Lin, Hsiao-Ting Teng, Chuang-Chieh Chiu, Graduate Institute of Learning and Instruction, National Central University, Taiwan, ROC., Taiwan

Power Point Presentations with Sound: an Effective Tool for Managing Individual Differences in Grammar Learning in the English Second Language (ESL) Classroom ........................................................................................................ 2480
Danielle Mackin, Université du Québec à Chicoutimi, Canada; Danièle Allard, ISIR, Osaka University, Japan

Using Recording Software to Enhance Instructional Strategies in Hybrid Course Environment at McGill University ................................................................. 2483
Oksana Maibroda, Adam Finkelstein, McGill University, Canada

Brain-Based Learning With Technological Support ................................................................. 2486
Anita Miller, Dominican University, USA

Classroom IT Use Getting Started with Document Camera and Projector ............................................. 2492
Ryoichi Nishioka, Tatsuya Horita, Shizuoka University, Japan

A Case Study of Pre-service Teachers Learning to Teach with Technology During Internship .................. 2498
Kathleen Nolan, David Friesen, Vi Maaers, Alec Couros, University of Regina, Canada

A Blended Model for Professional Development in Mathematics: Impacts on Teacher Practice and Student Engagement ................................................................. 2501
Ron Owston, Margaret Sinclair, Herb Wideman, Jane Kennedy, York University, Canada

Designing Case-Based Teacher Education Modules To Promote Constructivist Pedagogical Activities With Information Technology: The GIDE ................................................................. 2508
Jonghwi Park, Robert Bracewell, McGill University, Canada

SIG-GLUE Strengthens Competencies and Supports Practitioners in Application of Games for Learning ........................................................................................................ 2512
Maja Pivec, FH JOANNEUM, Dept. of Information Design, Austria; Anastasia Sfiri, FH JOANNEUM, Center for Multimedia Learning, Austria
Teaching IT Online with the Physically Challenged in Mind ................................................................. 2517
Leonard Presby, William Paterson University, USA

Data from a Web-based Homework Tutor can predict Student’s Final Exam Score ................................ 2523
David Pritchard, Rasil Warnakulasooriya, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, USA

Re-Conceptualizing the Undergraduate Core Curriculum: Integrating Multimedia Technology with Thematically-Linked Content ................................................................. 2530
Bernard Robin, Mary Thompson, University of Houston, USA

Quality Quests: Enhancing Curriculum through Integrating Technology ................................................ 2536
Jean Schneider, J. Ana Donaldson, University of Northern Iowa, USA

Integrating Technology into a Learner-Centered Framework: A Design Model for the .......................... 2542
George Semich, Claudia Armani, Lorie Brown, Robert Morris University, USA

Discrepancies between theory and practice in using learning style in primary education: ........................ 2548
Faezeh Seyedarabi, Rachada Monthienvichienchai, London Knowledge Lab, UK

Using Computers and Software in the Classroom ................................................................................. 2556
Dorian Stoilesca, University of Windsor, Canada

Who Said Getting Educators to Talk was Easy? Just Try Online Discussion Groups; the Silence is Deafening! ................................................................. 2562
Jane Strickland, Al Strickland, Idaho State University, USA

The Tablet PC Goes to College: Evaluating the Utility of Tablet PCs for Faculty in the Classroom ........... 2565
Rob Weitz, Bert Wachsmuth, Danielle Mirliss, Seton Hall University, USA

Improving classroom teaching through emphasising pedagogy rather than ICT: An example from a New Zealand secondary teacher education programme .................................. 2571
Noeline Wright, University of Waikato, New Zealand

Community Building in a Co-operative Learning Object Repository ................................................ 2575
Kevin Harrigan, Tom Carey, Waterloo LD Team, University of Waterloo, Canada

Why teachers are reluctant to use new technologies: Supporting teachers’ action learning within a web environment ................................................................................. 2581
Garry Hoban, Anthony Herrington, University of Wollongong, Australia

Online Learning Support ..................................................................................................................... 2599
Carola Salis, Center for Advanced Studies, Research and Development in Sardinia, Italy

A Conceptual Modeling Approach Focusing on Teacher Support ...................................................... 2594
Judit Bajnai, Johannes Lischka, University of Vienna, Austria

Integrating Technology; One Faculty at a Time ..................................................................................... 2603
Laura Battista, McGill University, Canada

Online professional development for e-learning: A critical overview of models and approaches ............ 2606
McLoughlin Catherine, Australian catholic University, Australia; Dorit Maor, Murdoch University, Australia

The Faculty Office Revisited .............................................................................................................. 2611
Robert Cavenagh, Dickinson College, USA

Instructional Design does not equal Game Design - Lessons learned in delivering a course in game design and education ................................................................................. 2617
William Crosbie, Teachers College, Columbia University, USA

The Online Water Cooler: Inviting Faculty into Professional Development through the Entry Point Framework ......................................................................................... 2622
Toby De Loght, University of Antwerp, Belgium; Benay Dara-Abrams, University of San Francisco and BrainJolt, USA; Ann Shortridge, University of Oklahoma, USA

Going Online? Professional Development for Teachers in Inclusive Settings ........................................ 2628
Katia Gonzales, Teachers College, Columbia University, USA; Paul Acquaro, Teachers College, Columbia University, USA

Socio and Sexual Development of Students with Disabilities: An Online Workshop .............................. 2630
Katia Gonzales, Paul Acquaro, Teachers College-Columbia University, USA

Learning To Teach With Technology: The Technology In Mathematics Education Project ................... 2632
Michael Hardy, Saint Xavier University, USA
From Surviving to Thriving: The Use of Information and Communication Technology in an Induction Program for Early Career Teachers in Personal Development, Health and Physical Education .......................................................... 2636

Doug Hearne, Gregg Rowland, Amy Webb, University of Wollongong, Australia

Utilising the educational resource development process to scaffold the professional development of university teachers .......................................................... 2644

Helen Carter Helen, University of Newcastle, Australia

The BEST site on the internet: An online resource for beginning and establishing successful teachers .......................................................... 2646

Anthony Herrington, Jan Herrington, Lisa Kervin, University of Wollongong, Australia

Faculty Integration of Web-based Technologies Workshop: Walking the Talk .......................................................... 2652

Marie-Pierre Huguet, Chris Moowe, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, USA

The UNH Pettie Hall Technology Project: An Interim Report .......................................................... 2656

Michael Kalinowski, University of New Hampshire, USA

Using the personal response system as a cultural bridge from silent absorption to active participation .......................................................... 2660

Yifat Kolikant, Ann McKenna, Bugrahan Yalvac, Northwestern University, USA

Development of Online Materials for Pre-service Teacher Training on Information Studies .......................................................... 2668

Haruo Kurokami, Faculty of Informatics, Kansai University, Japan; Takayuki Uchigaito, Graduate School of Informatics, Kansai University, Japan; Mihoko Kamei, Research Center for Knowledge Networking, Kansai University, Japan; Kosuke Terashima, International Research Institute for Studies in Language and Peace, Kyoto University of Foreign Studies, Japan

The Development and Sharing of Expertise in Teachers’ Online Further Education .......................................................... 2674

Irja Leppisaari, Central Ostrobothnia Polytechnic, Finland; Sini Lehto, Chydenius Institute – Kokkola University Consortium, Finland

Blackboard Institute: An Example of Inter-Institutional Collaboration .......................................................... 2679

Sandra Miller, William Paterson University, USA

Augmenting the Teacher-Training Model with Desktop Videoconferencing .......................................................... 2684

Graham Passmore, William Goodman, Lakehead University, Canada

What do teachers need? Analysis of pedagogical tools supporting teachers online .......................................................... 2690

Jukka Siltanen, Tampere Polytechnic University, Finland; Pentti Hietala, University of Tampere / Department of Computer Sciences, Finland

Impact of Lunch and Learn Sessions on Faculty’s Use of Asynchronous Online Discussion .......................................................... 2699

Swee Kit Alan Soong, Centre for Educational Development, Nanyang Technological University, Singapore; Chun Hu, National Institute of Education, Nanyang Technological University, Singapore

Mathematics, Science, and Technology Educators Creating and Using Instructional Multimedia .......................................................... 2704

Sylvia Sorkin, Donna Tupper, Andrew Beiderman, Veronica Noone, Brian Hoffman, Community College of Baltimore County, USA; Marianne Cinaglia, Rowan University, USA

Utilizing Video-Conferencing and Web-based Tutorials to Provide Professional Growth and Development to Teachers in a Rural School District .......................................................... 2710

Brooks Steele, Irene McIntosh, Mary Ann Robinson, University of South Alabama, USA

Professional Development Situated in a Ubiquitous Computing Classroom .......................................................... 2712

Karen Swan, Pat Mazzer, Annette Kratcoski, Jason Schenker, Yi Mei Lin, Research Center for Educational Technology, USA

Increasing technical self-sufficiency among online instructors in a mid-size university with limited support resources .......................................................... 2720

Elaine Terrell, University of Arkansas, USA; Rebecca Martindale, University of Florida, USA

DOL: Diploma on-line for NT-enhanced teaching .......................................................... 2722

Aldo Torrebruno, Luisa Marini, Politecnico di Milano, Italy

What are the Factors Related to the Successful use of ICTs by Student-teachers at the Elementary-school Level? .......................................................... 2726

Stephanie Villeneuve, Thierry Karsenti, University of Montreal, Canada

Supporting the design of socio constructivist scenarios with ExploraGraph .......................................................... 2732

Emmanuelle Villiot-leclercq, Aude Dufresne, Université de Montréal, Canada

Teachers’ Adoption of Technology in Classrooms: Does School Size Matter? .......................................................... 2740

Hsin-Kai Wu, Ying-Shao Hsu, Fu-Kwun Hwang, National Taiwan Normal University, Taiwan
Factors affecting middle school science teacher's use of distance learning for in service training as professional development in Taiwan ................................................................. 2748
Hsin I Yung, Penn State University, USA

Adult learners and online instruction ................................................................. 2754
Valerie Amber, Lorraine Leavitt, National University, USA

Integrating technology training and language learning .................................... 2757
Zsuzsanna Angeli, Kodály College, Hungary

e-Learning Design for Engineering Education ................................................ 2763
Pitchian Anthonsamy, ITE College West Ang Mo Kio Campus, Singapore

In Defense of the Online “Lecture” ................................................................. 2769
Saul Carliner, Concordia University, Canada

Innovations in On-Line Course Development ............................................... 2770
Carol Carnevale, Linzi Kemp, Nicola Martinez, Susan Oaks, Empire State College, USA

Remedial Instruction for Japanese Language Less Successful Students]|Xthrough Strategies of On-Line Reinforcement .................................................... 2775
Shan-Long Chen, Tamkang University, Taiwan; Chih-Hsiu Wu, National Taichung Institute of Technology, Taiwan; Chi-Man Chiu, Chung Kao Institute of Technology, Taiwan

Beyond Learning Objects: From Tools in the World to Capacity in the Mind .............. 2777
Daniel Churchill, The University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong

Exploring pedagogical uses of technology in statistics education ...................... 2784
Lucy Cumyn, Rhonda Amsel, Susanne Lajoie, McGill University, Canada

Computer-Integrated Assessment: Concepts and Philosophical Underpinnings ...... 2788
Rabelani Dagada, University of South Africa, South Africa

Transitioning to Standards-Based Preservice Teacher Education with Electronic Portfolios .... 2794
David Dalton, Kent State University, USA

Towards the Elaboration of a Profile Scale of Teachers in the New Educational Context at the Era of ICT .......................................................... 2802
Ann-Louise Davidson, University of Ottawa, Canada

SMARTGraph: Adaptive sequencing of the pedagogical progression graph in SMART-Learning .......................................................... 2808
Rachid Elouahbi, Borlli Michel Jonas Somé, Amine Benkiran, RIM-EMI, Morocco

New Curriculum Reform in Action: New Brunswick's pre-service teachers communicate with schoolchildren on mathematical problems via Internet site CAMI ............................................................ 2816
Viktor Freiman, Iseline Gandaho, Université de Moncton, Canada

From Paper to Bits: A Project Manager's View of Teaching with Technology ............... 2821
Richard Garcia, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, USA

Pedagogical Issues in Using Networks for Teachers' Continuous Professional Development in Egypt .................................................................................................................. 2826
Amal Gouda, Frank Banks, The Open University, UK

Do Teachers' Instructional Evolution and Teaching Seniority Affect Educational Innovation with Technology? .......................................................... 2834
Ying-Shao Hsu, Hsin-Kai Wu, Fu-Kwun Hwang, National Taiwan Normal University, Taiwan

College Student Alienation and Use of WebCT ................................................. 2838
Genevieve Johnson, Grant MacEwan College/Athabasca University, Canada; Julia Johnson, Laurentian University, Canada

Relationships among Presence Factors and Perceived Outcomes in Online Collaborative Learning .................................................................................................................. 2844
Myunghee Kang, Ewha Womans University, Korea (South); Heejeon Suh, Kyungae Moon, Electronics and Telecommunication Research Institute, Korea (South)

When Should Dialogues in a Scaffolded Learning System Take Place? .................. 2850
Sandra Katz, John Connelly, Christine Wilson, Learning Research and Development Center, University of Pittsburgh, USA

Supporting Autonomous Learning: How Effective Are Online Tutors? ......... 2856
Abtar Kaur, Mansor Fadzil, Ansary Ahmed, Open University Malaysia, Malaysia

Students in the Director's Seat: Teaching and Learning with Student-generated Video .......................................................................................................................... 2864
Matthew Kearney, Sandy Schuck, University of Technology, Sydney, Australia, Australia