ED-MEDIA 2011
World Conference on Educational Multimedia, Hypermedia & Telecommunications

June 27 - July 1, 2011
Lisbon, Portugal

Edited by
Theo Bastiaens
Martin Ebner

Volume 4
Pal Molnar, Centre for Science Communication and Unesco Chair for Multimedia in Education Eötvös Loránd University, Hungary

A Network for Learning about Networks: A Model and an Innovative Approach to Teaching
Network Engineering
Stefano Renzi, Bocconi University, Italy; Stefano Giordano, University of Pisa, Italy; Jane Klobas, University of Western Australia and Bocconi University, Australia

Using the Community of Inquiry Framework Survey for Multi-Level Institutional Evaluation and Continuous Quality Improvement
Jennifer Richardson, Purdue University, USA; Phil Ice, Wallace Boston, Karen Powell, Angela Gibson, American Public University System, USA

Performance-centered E-learning and M-learning OFCS Course
Silviya Stoyanova-Petrova, Nadezhda Kafadarova, Plovdiv University, Bulgaria

Assessing and analyzing the need of an automated workflow management system at the University of Wisconsin-Stout
Subharoj Dahal, Steve Schlough, University of Wisconsin-Stout, USA

New Methodological and Spatial Configurations: Virtual Ethnography
Bruno Galasso, University of São Paulo, Brazil

Wiki Design for Student Assignments: Should it be Prescribed or Emergent?
Paul Jackson, Stuart Garner, Edith Cowan University, Australia; Jane Klobas, University of Western Australia & Bocconi University, Australia

Using Data to Drive Improvement in e-Learning Documentation
Jonathan Langton, IE Business School, Spain

A Framework for Designing Multimedia Remedial Programs for Children with Specific Learning Difficulties
Anjum Asma, King Saud University, Saudi Arabia; Amal Alsuwaidan, King Abdulaziz City for Science and Technology, Saudi Arabia

The media in multimedia for learning: differentiating form from content, technology and domain
Wendy Doube, Swinburne University, Australia

Building your multimedia team
Tara Lynn Fulton, Eastern Michigan University, USA; Carlos Morales, Ana G. Mendez University, Puerto Rico; Brandi Porter, Mount Aloysius College, USA; Gene Spencer, Gene Spencer Consulting, USA

Online Library for Graduation Projects Management: The OGPL System
Lamia Ketari, King Saud University, Saudi Arabia

A Learning Analytic Approach to Identify Attributes of Learners and Multimedia Instruction that Influence Learning
Gwen Nugent, University of Nebraska, USA; Kevin Kupzyk, Lee Miller, Leyla Masmaliyeva, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, USA; Leen-Kiat Soh, University of Nebraska, USA; Ashok Samal, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, USA

Extending Babelium Project with a revolutionary method for preparing Second Language Speaking exam using Web 2.0 tools in a collaborative way
Juan A. Pereira, Inko Perurena, Silvia Sanz, Julian Gutierrez, Dept. of Computer Languages and Systems, University of the Basque Country, Spain

Writing Support for Non-native Learners of Japanese using Web search APIs
Kazuki Ando, Yohei Furukawa, Kagawa University, Japan

Digital Process Books as a Tool to Reduce Cognitive Load for Novice Designers
Lori Brunner, Bennett Stone, Iowa State University, USA

Work Smarter: How an Experimental Learning Management System (LMS) Supports Better Teaching
Kym Buchanan, Greg Ormes, UW Stevens Point, USA

After the Decision: Lessons Learned During a Campus-wide Learning Management System Change
Melissa Koenig, DePaul University, USA

The Development of Rapid e-learning Tools selection process for Cognitive and Psychomotor Learning Objectives
David Tawei Ku, Yung-Hsin Huang, Tamkang University, Taiwan

eCLASS: System to Support Alternative In-class Learning
Greg Lee, National Taiwan Normal University, Taiwan; Fu-Hao Yeh, Fooyin University, Taiwan; Ling-Chian Chang, Pei-Lun Lee, National Taiwan Normal University, Taiwan

Competence-based System for Recommending Study Materials from the Web: Design and Experiment
Akitaya Nitchot, Lester Gilbert, Gary Wills, Learning Society Lab, ECS, UK

Mediawikis for research, teaching and learning ................................................................. 2084

Daniel K. Schneider, Kalliopi Benetos, TECFA, FPSE, University of Geneva, Switzerland; Martine Ruchat, Section des sciences de l'éducation, FPSE, University of Geneva, Switzerland

Design and Implementation of a Web-based Interactive Whiteboard System for Classrooms ... 2094

Kai-Hsiang Yang, National Taipei University of Education, Taiwan, Taiwan; Chen-Tao Chuang, Grit Nirundornraichai, Ming-Jui Huang, National Taiwan University, Taiwan, Taiwan

Student’s Interactivity in School Assembly: The Case of Master’s Degree on Creation and Innovation Management .................................................................................. 2102

Elba Patricia Alatorre Rojo, Adriana Margarita Pacheco Cortés, Carlos Manuel Pacheco Cortés, Daniel Montes Ponce, Universidad de Guadalajara, Mexico

The Evolving Roles of Learner and Instructor ....................................................................... 2113

Lisa Allen, The University of British Columbia, Canada

Play games to learn: Pre-service teacher development .......................................................... 2119

Alan Amory, University of Johannesburg, South Africa

The Shape of Disruption: Student Independence in the 5th Grade Classroom ..................... 2129

Gerald Ardito, Pierre Von Cortland Middle School/Pace University, USA

Using Formative Assessment to Improve Instruction in Online Courses ............................. 2134

Marius Boboc, Selma Vonderwell, Cleveland State University, USA

A Professional Development Website in Molecular Biology May Prompt Technology Integration in High-School Classrooms .............................................................................. 2138

Monica Boon, Catherine Fulford, Rachel Bouley, Alex Parishy, University of Hawaii, USA

More than code: The significance of social interactions in young people’s development as interactive media creators ........................................................................................ 2147

Karen Brennan, MIT Media Lab, USA; Amanda Vaquerdo, Joe Prempeh, Harvard University, USA; Ricarose Roque, Michelle Chung, MIT Media Lab, USA

A Comparative Study of Design and Implement for PBL and Action Learning ...................... 2157

Kyungwon Chang, Kyonggi University, Korea (South); Soo-Jung Park, Chungnam National University, Korea (South)

A community portal for professional development .................................................................. 2163

Barbara Class Abboud, Daniel Schneider, University of Geneva, Switzerland

Joining the “D Team”: Strategies for Geographically Distant Online Faculty to Enhance Teaching 2173

Paul Thomas Clements, Drexel University, College of Nursing and Health Professions, USA; Karyn Holt, Cindy Little, Dorit Breiter, Drexel University College of Nursing and Health Professions, USA

The Role of the Tutor: Preparing Learners to engage in collaborative learning using a Wiki as part of a blend .................................................................................................................... 2177

Martina A. Doolan, University of Hertfordshire, UK

A Study of University Students’ Learning Conceptions and Approaches of Web-Searching bases on the Disciplinary Differences ........................................................................ 2187

Jui Feng, Fo Guang University, Taiwan; Meliun Shih, National Taiwan University, Taiwan; Chia-Pin Kao, Southern Taiwan University, Taiwan; Chin-Chung Tsai, National Taiwan University of Science and Technology, Taiwan

Designing Serious Games in a Socio-Cultural Context ............................................................. 2190

Josef Froeschauer, Max Arends, Doron Goldfarb, Martin Weingartner, Dieter Merkl, Vienna University of Technology, Austria

Using Multimedia for Pre-learning in the Online Graduate Research Classroom .................. 2197

Karyn Holt, Paul Thomas Clements, Drexel University, USA

Educational Technology: Pedagogical tools in Physical Education ....................................... 2200

Susana Juniu, Montclair State University, USA

Experiential Learning for Students to acquire a sense of International Collaboration .......... 2209

Makoto Kageito, Shinichi Sato, Gary Kirkpatrick, Nihon Fukushi University, Japan

Facilitators’ and Students’ Conceptions of Teaching and Learning in Simulation-Based Learning Environment ................................................................. 2215

Tuulikki Keskitalo, Heli Ruokamo, University of Lapland, Faculty of Education, Centre for Media Pedagogy, Finland; Olli Väisänen, Arcadia University of Applied Sciences, Arcadia Patient Safety and Learning Centre, Finland

Building Student Understanding and Interest in Science through Embodied Experiences with LEGO Robotics ................................................................................................................. 2225

Carol M. Lu, Seokmin Kang, Shih-Chieh Huang, John B. Black, Teachers College, Columbia University, USA

Content Restructuring with Authentic Learning Strategies in a Multimedia Learning Environment (MMLE) ......................................................................................................................... 2233

Mai Neo, Ken Tse-Kian Neo, Heidi Yean-Ju Tan, Faculty of Creative Multimedia, Malaysia
Using, adapting and authoring OER with Web 2.0 tools ................................................................. 2243
Alexandra Okada, The Open University, UK; Daniela Barros, Universidade Aberta, Portugal

Allowing Students to Select Deliverables for Peer Review: Analysis of a Free-Selection Protocol 2249
Pantelis Papadopoulos, Carnegie Mellon University in Qatar, Qatar; Thomas Lagkas, University of Western Macedonia, Greece; Stavros Demetriadi, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece; Frank Fischer, Ludwig Maximilian’s University, Germany

Tagging learning objects in Moodle for personalisation and re-use ................................................. 2259
Sophie Peter, Lachlan Mackinnon, Elizabeth Bacon, The University of Greenwich, UK; Mohammad Dastbaz, The University of East London, UK

Writing Learning Journals with Weblogs: Didactic Principles and Technical Developments in the www.learninglog.org Open Source Project ........................................................................................................................................ 2267
Dominik Petko, Institute for Media and Schools, University of Teacher Education Central Switzerland, Canton of Schwyz, Switzerland

Tagging learning objects in Moodle for personalisation and re-use ................................................. 2267
Sophie Peter, Lachlan Mackinnon, Elizabeth Bacon, The University of Greenwich, UK; Mohammad Dastbaz, The University of East London, UK

Simulating real workplace problems using Digital Storytelling in a University Educational Technologies course ........................................................................................................................................ 2272
Corrado Petrucco, University of Padua, Italy

A framework to support individual learners in diverse learning ecosystems .................................. 2279
Andrew Pyper, Martina Llitory, Jill Hewitt, Paul Wernick, University of Hertfordshire, UK

Learning and Teaching through Collaboration: Planning the Future through Retrospection .......... 2285
Stephen Rose, Penny Garcia, University of Wisconsin Oshkosh, USA

Supporting Teachers’ Technology Integration: A Case Study ......................................................... 2295
Laia Santana, Min Liu, University of Texas at Austin, USA

Technological Hybridism in Teaching Practices Grounded on collaboration and cooperation in Online Education Processes ........................................................................................................................................ 2305
Elliane Schlemmer, Daiana Trein, Universidade do Vale do Rio dos Sinos - UNISINOS, Brazil

Language Teaching Communication Technologies ............................................................................ 2314
Rodica Stan, University of Agricultural Sciences and Veterinary Medicine, Romania

New Role Models for IT-Students to Improve their Motivation to Learn ........................................ 2318
Kerstin Stöckelmayr, Michael Tesar, Alexander Hofmann, Robert Pucher, University of Applied Sciences Technikum Wien, Department of Computer Science, Austria; Fritz Schmöllerbeck, University of Applied Sciences Technikum Wien, Department of Electronic Engineering, Austria

Digital Storytelling “Tegami (A Letter to My Future Myself)” Project by Japanese Junior High Students ........................................................................................................................................ 2324
Hitoshi Susono, Tomoka Ikawa, Mez University, Japan; Ai Kagami, Tokan Junior High School, Japan; Tsutomu Shimomura, Mez University, Japan

Providing Effective Assessment Through Technology ........................................................................ 2328
Mary Lauren Wood, Annika Silfviast-Kaiser, University of Texas at Austin, USA; Tandra Tyler-Wood, University of North Texas, USA

Broadcasting U.S. history: An experiment in teaching reading, writing, and history with a radio newsroom simulation ........................................................................................................................................ 2332
Aaron Zachmeier, Jim Wunsch, State University of New York, Empire State College, USA

Pedagogical Requirements in a University-Context Characterized by Online and Blended Courses: Results from a Study Undertaken through Fifteen Canadian Universities ........................................................................................................................................ 2339
Dodzi Amemado, Federal Government of Canada & University of Montreal, Canada

Project-Based International Collaborative Learning using Web 2.0 Tools for Authentic Learning of Foreign Language and 21st Century Skills ........................................................................................................... 2349
Kumiko Aoki, The Open University of Japan/ Nagaoka Institute of Technology, Japan; Pal Molnar, Karol Gaspár University, Hungary

A knowledge capitalization approach based on a Task/Method paradigm for teachers’ training and professional development ................................................................................................................ 2354
Hanae Barramou, LISA, Faculté des Sciences et Techniques de Fès, Morocco; Thierry Condamin, Laboratoire MIS, Université de Picardie Jules Verne, France; Rachid Ben Abbou, LISA, Faculté des Sciences et Techniques de Fès, Morocco

Weblogs and Wikis: Potentials for Seminars at University .................................................................... 2360
Petra Bauer, Johannes Gutenberg-Universitlit Mainz, Germany

Ubiquitous Learning Environments: Notions of Context, Application Scenarios and Reflective Stories ........................................................................................................................................ 2366
Henning Breuer, Technical University Berlin, Germany; Mitsufi Matsumoto, Waseda University, Japan
Platforms and methods for the integrated use of educational resources in the processes of e-learning
Pasquita Campanella, University of Bari, Italy

A Case Study of Teacher Professional Development Course Model: Integrating Information and Communication Technology and Knowledge Management
Chih-Ming Chang, Chien Chou, Institute of Education, National Chiao Tung University, Taiwan

Faculty Collaboration in Adapting E-Portfolios for Teaching
Mi-Hyun Chung, Jungkang Miller, Mercy College, USA

Between the Lines: Transforming Learning via a Digital Books Initiative
Fran Cornelius, Faye Meley, Mary Gallagher Gordon, Drexel University, USA

Diverse Ideas and Experiences: Learning in a Cross-Cultural Online Environment
Christopher Devers, University of San Diego, USA

University Students' Collaboration in On-line Courses
Maria del Rocio Dominguez Gaona, Myriam Romero Monteverde, Ana Rosa Zamora Leyva, Universidad Autonoma de Baja California, Mexico

Obstacles and Difficulties Encountered Using Wikis at a Japanese University
James Duggan, Dokkyo University, Japan

College Student Perceptions of Foreign Language Learning Delivery: The Case for Multimedia Enriched Learning Environments
Jason Ellis, Carla Abreu-Ellis, Abbie Carle, Larissa Berry, Ashland University, USA

Engaging Students Through Participation in Keypals Exchanges
Susan Peatoo, Wilkes University, USA

The Sense of Community Using Virtual Environments: The Collective Act of Writing
Bruno Galasso, University of São Paulo, Brazil

Teaching the Net Generation: Exploring Networked Learning and Digital Collaboration Methods
Natalia Gilewicz, Ryerson University, Canada

Learning Spaces Framework Qualitative findings
Luis Borges Gouveia, UFP, Portugal

Virtual Environment Design for a Collaborative Experience Amongst Participants
Milagros Guia-Ezkauriata, Universitat de les Illles Balears, Spain/UABC, Mexico; Jesus Salinas, Alicia Garcia-Blasquez, Universitat de les Illles Balears, Spain, Spain

The Use of Micro-Blogging in the Teaching and Learning Process
Shohreh Hadian, Camosun College, Canada; Maria Elena Froese, University of Victoria, Canada; Mary Sanseverino, University of Victoria, Canada

Students Taking Charge of their Learning in Digital Environments
Roberta Hammett, Memorial University, Canada; Deborah Toope, Eastern School District, Canada

A Facebook® Production Planning Gaming App as a Part of a Knowledge Management and Extension Concept
Helge Hemmer, Wolfgang Klüh, University of Wuppertal, Germany, Germany

Cross-Cultural Collaboration Through a Virtual Community of Practice Using Video and Social Networking
Curtis Ho, Bert Kimura, University of Hawaii at Manoa, USA; Mary Kimura, Kenichi Kubota, Kansai University, Japan

The use of collaborative application and interactive worksheet for media literacy education
Mizuho Iinuma, Tagiru Nakamura, Hiroaki Chiyokura, Tokyo University of Technology, Japan

Diplomacy in Action: Interstate Student Diplomats
Nicholas Lawrence, East Bronx Academy for the Future, USA; Joseph O'Brien, University of Kansas, USA

Using 3D Virtual Worlds – OpenSim, Quest Atlantis – to Teach International School Students Computer Science and Human Values
David W. Deeds, Alexander Makosz, Changchun American International School, China

Communication Management and the Dialogue in Education: an Educommunication Theme
Luci Mello, Núcleo Comunicação e Educação - USP, Brazil

Combining Discussion Tools and Inductive Instruction to Teach Software Engineering Principles
Isabel Moura, University of Minho, Portugal

Analysis of Adult Students' Self-Directed Learning Readiness, Affective Learning Outcomes, Prior E-learning Experience, and Age in Hybrid and Online Courses
Gleb Nikitenko, University of San Francisco, USA
Learning Through the Collaborative Development of Learning Objects .......................................................... 2514
Claudia Pérez-Lezama, J. Alfredo Sánchez, Ofelia Cervantes, Universidad de las Américas Puebla, Mexico

Learner Generated Content: quality from students' point of view ................................................................. 2520
Maria Pérez-Mateo, Marcelo F. Maina, Marc Romero, Monse Guitert, Open University of Catalonia, Spain

The student, technology and learning: a postphenomenological analysis .................................................. 2530
Stephen Reif, Charles Sturt University, Australia; Jennifer Sappey, Charles Sturt University, Australia

Mobile Phone-Based Classroom Response System ....................................................................................... 2539
Geoff Rubner, University of Manchester, UK

Increasing Collaboration and Autonomy among Pre-Service Foreign Language Teachers with the Help of Thematic Blogs: A Case Study from Turkey .......................................................... 2540
Perihan Savas, Middle East Technical University, Turkey

Collaboration and Cooperation in Online Education: from teacher education to network teaching action using Metaverse Technology .................................................................................. 2548
Eliane Schlemmer, Daniel do Queiroz Lopes, Universidade do Vale do Rio dos Sinos - UNISINOS, Brazil

Learning Presence in the Community of Inquiry Model: Towards a Theory of Online Learner Self- and Co-regulation ............................................................................................................. 2556
Peter Shea, University at Albany, State University of New York, USA

An Authoring and Peer Reviewing Activity in the Master’s Program of eLearning Pedagogy: The Teacher and Students’ Perspectives ...................................................................................... 2566
Maria Silva, Maria Spilker, Marina Moleirinho, Lina Morgado, Universidade Aberta, Portugal

Supporting Collaborative Web-based Education via Annotations ..................................................................... 2576
Marian Simko, Michal Barla, Vladimir Mihal, Maroš Uncík, Mária Bieliková, Slovak University of Technology, Slovakia (Slovak Republic)

Expanding the Georgia Tech Arts Education Program in High-Definition ...................................................... 2586
Leslie Smee, Georgia Tech Research Institute, USA; Virginia Sheppard, Georgia Institute of Technology, USA

Envisioning new learning environments through gaming. A 21st Century Digital Workforce Apprenticeship. .................................................. 2591
Joshua Squires, Mark Evans, MoWerks Learning, USA; Lucas Jensen, University of Georgia, USA; Michael Orey, The University of Georgia, USA

Using Cognitive Flexibility Theory as an instructional and collaborative model for teaching students in higher education ........................................................................................................ 2599
Konstantina Tavoulari, Fotini Paraskeva, University of Piraeus, Greece; Emmanouil Choustoulakis, University of Athens, Greece

Digital technologies and new literacies: Transforming teachers’ pedagogies ............................................. 2605
Deborah Toope, Eastern School District, Canada; Roberta Hammett, Memorial University, Canada

Adding technology to the learning process ...................................................................................................... 2610
Teresa Torres-Coronas, María-Arantzazu Vidal-Blasco, Ricard Monclus-Guitart, Mario Arias-Oliva, Maria José Simón-Olmos, Universitat Rovira i Virgili, Spain