Sustainability in Fashion and Textiles
VALUES, DESIGN, PRODUCTION AND CONSUMPTION

EDITED BY MIGUEL ANGEL GARDETTI AND ANA LAURA TORRES
Contents

Foreword ................................................................. ix
  Kate Fletcher

Introduction ............................................................ 1
  Miguel Angel Gardetti and Ana Laura Torres

Part I: The systemic vision and the value chain in the textile and fashion industry .............................................. 21

  1 Slow fashion: Tailoring a strategic approach for sustainability ........ 22
     Carlotta Cataldi, Maureen Dickson and Crystal Grover

  2 Wisdoms from the fashion trenches ............................. 47
     Lynda Grose

  3 From principle to practice: Embedding sustainability in clothing supply chain strategies ........................................ 61
     Alison Ashby, Melanie Hudson Smith and Rory Shand

  4 Managing chemical risk information: The case of Swedish retailers and Chinese suppliers in textile supply chains ................. 82
     Kristin Fransson, Birgit Brunklaus, Sverker Molander and Yuntao Zhang

  5 Innovation power of fashion focal companies and participation in sustainability activities in their supply network .................. 97
     Harrie W.M. van Bommel
6 Sustainable colour forecasting: The benefits of creating a better colour trend forecasting system for consumers, the fashion industry and the environment ........................................ 111
Tracy Diane Cassidy

7 Fashioning use: A polemic to provoke pro-environmental garment maintenance .............................................................. 125
Tullia Jack

8 Fashion design education for sustainability practice: Reflections on undergraduate level teaching ....................................... 134
Lynda Grose

9 Upcycling fashion for mass production .......................... 148
Tracy Diane Cassidy and Sara Li-Chou Han

10 Creating new from that which is discarded: The collaborative San Francisco Tablecloth Repurposing Project ....................... 164
Connie Ulasewicz and Gail Baugh

PART II: Marketing, brands and regulatory aspects in the textile and fashion industry .................................. 183

11 Sustainable consumption and production patterns in the clothing sector: Is green the new black? ....................................... 184
Ines Welter

12 Redefining ‘Made in Australia’: A ‘fair go’ for people and planet ... 195
Cameron Neil, Eloise Bishop and Kirsten Simpson

13 ‘Sustainability isn’t sexy’: An exploratory study into luxury fashion ... 207
Carla-Maria Streit and Iain A. Davies

14 Ethical fashion in Western Europe: A survey of the status quo through the digital communications lens .......................... 223
Ilaria Pasquinelli and Pamela Ravasio

15 Effectiveness of standard initiatives: Rules and effective implementation of transnational standard initiatives (TSI)
in the apparel industry: An empirical examination ............ 239
Claude Meier
PART III: The practice in textiles and fashion ......................... 261

16 Corporate responsibility in the garment industry: Towards shared value ................................................. 262
Anna Larsson, Katarina Buhr and Cecilia Mark-Herbert

17 Zigzag or interlock? The case of the Sustainable Apparel Coalition ..................................................... 277
Kim Poldner

18 Garments without guilt? A case study of sustainable garment sourcing in Sri Lanka ........................................ 294
Patsy Perry

19 Next one, please: Integrating sustainability criteria in the procurement of operating-room textiles: The case of Germany .......... 308
Edeltraud Günther, Holger Hoppe, Gabriel Weber and Julia Hillmann

20 Development and the garment industry: Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands ........................................ 321
Sarah E. Heidebrecht and Joy M. Kozar

PART IV: Consumer: purchase, identity, use and care of clothing and textiles ........................................ 343

21 Young academic women's clothing practice: Interactions between fast fashion and social expectations in Denmark .................. 344
Charlotte Louise Jensen and Michael Søgaard Jørgensen

22 Connecting meanings and materials: Identity dynamics in sustainable fashion ........................................ 358
Fernando F. Fachin

23 Consumers' attitudes towards sustainable fashion: Clothing usage and disposal ........................................ 376
Helen Goworek, Alex Hiller, Tom Fisher, Tim Cooper and Sophie Woodward

Index ................................................................................. 393