Karen Davies

WOMEN AND TIME
Weaving the Strands of Everyday Life
Contents

Introduction 7

1 Timely Reflections 13
   The emergence and solidification of male time 18
   Cyclical and linear time 18
   Linear time consciousness 20
   Scheduling and religion 22
   The introduction of the mechanical clock 24
   Science and technology and the implications of clock time for everyday life 27
   Time and space - male and female worlds 31
   Temporal structures - Women's lives 35
   Relevance for the present day 36

2 Time and Women's Exclusion/Distortion: Conceptual and Methodological Issues 39
   Women's invisibility 39
   Gender blindness 41
   Science and time: the implications 43
   Time-use studies 44
   The abstracted conceptual model 46

3 Time and Women's Inclusion: The Women and Unemployment Study 49
   Background to the study 50
   A feminist phenomenological approach 53
   The women and unemployment study 55
   Selection of women in the study 57
   The qualitative interviews 61
   Interviewing and the issue of time 66
   Further data collection 68
   Analysis 69
   The actual craft work 71
   An analysis around time 74
   Some important findings from the women and unemployment study 75
   Some concluding remarks 80

4 Male Time - Women's Workplaces 82
   FACTORY WORK 83
   Changes in the work process 86
   The implications for work today 92
   Time in the separating of men and women in the same class 97
   The gender division of labour 99
   CARE WORK 104
   Long-term care 110
Why work in long-term care?  111
Routines and times  ,112
'The system'  117
Home care  123
Some concluding remarks  126

5 Time in the Structuring of Everyday Life  128
I DAILY LIFE  131
Women with young children  131
Being a single mother and having a tenuous position in the labour market  137
Ingrid  137
Lena  140
Not only a problem for single mothers...  144
The structuring of time for women without paid work more permanently  145
Unemployment in the long run  145
Housewives  150
II FIVE LIFE COURSES
Carina  155
Marica  159
Marianne  163
Susanne  167
Vera  170

6 Time in Relation to Job Hunting  175
Others' times  175
Time and pressures from authorities  179
Age and linearity  185
Youth  186
Women in their twenties and thirties  189
Older job hunters  192
Education and time  198
The question of time in keeping a job  201

7 Resistance to Male Time  204
A rejection of wage labour as the overriding structure  204
Time before money  205
Part-time work  206
Self-employed  208
Permanent work?  209
Creativity and temporal rhythms  211
Breaking the pattern  217
Margaret  218
Louise  222
8 Time, Identity and Everyday Life  226
The nature of working women's time  230
Continuity and discontinuity in relation to time  233
Time and identity  240
The future of male time  246

Bibliography  248