Equal Democracies?
Gender and Politics in the Nordic Countries

Editorial board:

Christina Bergqvist (Editor in Chief)
Anette Borchorst
Ann-Dorte Christensen
Viveca Ramstedt-Silén
Nina C. Raaum
Auður Styrmársdóttir

Scandinavian University Press
Oslo
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Introduction ........................................................................................................................................... 1

The Nordic Countries – One Model or Several? ................................................................. 3
Christina Bergqvist

Gender and Democracy .................................................................................................................. 6
Nordic Women’s Studies – Explanatory Models .................................................................... 7
The Rich Diversity of the Nordic Countries ........................................................................... 10
The Structure and Contents of the Book ................................................................................. 11

PART I

The mobilisation of women in the Nordic countries
Theme editors: Ann-Dorte Christensen and Nina C. Raaum

1 Models of political mobilisation .............................................................................................. 17
Ann-Dorte Christensen and Nina C. Raaum

A common Nordic model of women’s mobilisation? .............................................................. 20
Mobilisation in the social movements ....................................................................................... 22
Mobilisation in the parliamentary political system ................................................................. 24
The structure of the analysis ........................................................................................................ 25

2 Women in parliamentary politics:
Historical lines of development ............................................................................................. 27
Nina C. Raaum

The growth and structuring of mass politics ............................................................................. 28
The parliamentary arena ............................................................................................................. 31
The national versus the local – a rejoinder ............................................................................. 37
The state and organised interest groups .................................................................................. 39
Summary ....................................................................................................................................... 46

3 Political citizenship: New participants, new values? ........................................................... 48
Nina C. Raaum

From onlooker to participant? ................................................................................................. 49
Homogeneous or differing patterns in the Nordic countries? ............................................. 53
New participants, new values? ................................................................................................. 59
Conclusion ................................................................................................................................... 63
4 Women in the political parties ......................................................... 65
Ann-Dorte Christensen
Political parties and the mobilisation of women .................................. 66
Developments in party membership .................................................. 68
Women’s organisations in the political parties .................................... 73
Women’s sections in the political parties .......................................... 74
Gender quotas in the political parties ............................................ 77
Conclusion .................................................................................. 84

5 Women’s lists in Iceland – A response to political lethargy .... 88
Auður Styrkársdóttir
The emergence of the women’s lists ............................................. 88
Women’s lists and representation ................................................ 89
Obstacles in the Icelandic electoral and party system ...................... 92
The controversial manner in which the Women’s Alliance was organised 93
The legacy of the Women’s Lists ................................................... 94

6 Women in New Social Movements ................................................ 97
Solveig Bergman
Distinctive Features of Movement Activity in the Nordic Countries .... 98
The New Women’s Movement in the Nordic Countries .................. 102
The Sex-Role Debate .................................................................... 103
Consciousness Raising and Feminist Activity .................................. 104
From Women’s Projects and Feminist Counter-Culture to Movement Institutionalisation .................................................. 109
Women’s Mobilisation through the Peace and Crisis Centre Movements 111
The Peace Issue is also a Women’s Issue ....................................... 111
The Crisis Centre Movement .......................................................... 114
The 1990s: “Post-feminism” and “Backlash”?................................. 115
Conclusion .................................................................................. 116

PART II
Family policy in the Nordic welfare states
Theme editor: Christina Bergqvist

7 Childcare and Parental Leave Models ........................................ 121
Christina Bergqvist
Care and Breadwinner Models ..................................................... 122
The Vision of Equal Parenthood .................................................. 123
The Structure of Parental Leave ................................................... 125
Who Stays at Home? ................................................................. 128
“Let the Cry Ring Out: Daycare For All” ..................................... 131
Forms and Scope of Collective Childcare .................................... 132
More Possibilities for Childcare in the Home ............................. 134
Conclusion .................................................................................. 134
8 The Debate on Childcare Policies

Christina Bergqvist, Jaana Kuusipalo and Áudur Styrkarsdóttir

Sweden: The Vision of Gender Equality
The Party Debate and the Decision to Expand Childcare Provision
From Maternity Benefit to Parental Insurance
The Discussion on Shared Parental Leave
The Act on Childcare, the Home-Care Allowance and the “Father’s Month”
Finland: The Home-Care versus Daycare Debate
Parental Leave – Women’s Political Project
Iceland: Voluntary or Public Childcare?
The Debate in the Alpingi on the Expansion of Daycare Centres
The Debate on Childcare Continues
The Development of the Maternity Allowance
The Debate in the Alpingi on Maternity Allowance
Later Changes of the Maternity Reform
Both Similar and Different

PART III
Institutionalised gender equality

Theme editor: Anette Borchorst

9 What is institutionalised gender equality?

Anette Borchorst

Defining and delimiting gender equality policies
Equality and gender terminology in the Nordic languages
State feminism and femocrats
Between Unfinished Democracy and the present volume

10 Equal status institutions

Anette Borchorst

Organisational models
Policy-advisory and law-enforcing bodies
Administrative responsibility and political leadership in the area of equal status
Organisational restructuring in the Nordic countries
Allocating responsibility for equal status issues
Actors in the field of institutionalised gender equality
International influences
Cost levels
Importance and impact

11 Gender equality law

Anette Borchorst

The contents of equality legislation
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Regulation</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Regulations on differential treatment</td>
<td>194</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Practising positive discrimination</td>
<td>196</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Regulations concerning the gender composition of public bodies</td>
<td>198</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>National plans of action</td>
<td>200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gender equality policy and decision-making processes</td>
<td>202</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Implementing equality</td>
<td>205</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Conclusion</td>
<td>206</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

12 A question of political will? The state, local authorities, and equal status policy .................................................. 208

Ingrid Pincus and Janneke van der Ros

| Legislation and organisation of local-level equal status efforts          | 209  |
| Finland                                                                  | 210  |
| Iceland                                                                   | 211  |
| Denmark                                                                   | 211  |
| Norway                                                                    | 213  |
| Sweden                                                                    | 215  |
| Summary                                                                   | 217  |
| Femocrats – marginalities and conflicts of loyalty                        | 219  |
| Three forms of marginality                                                | 220  |
| Cumulative marginalisation                                               | 221  |
| Three types of loyalty conflicts                                         | 222  |
| Feministisation of the bureaucracy                                       | 223  |
| Male opposition and ambivalent men                                       | 223  |
| Passive and Active Forms of Resistance                                   | 224  |
| Male Ambivalence to Gender Equality Reforms                              | 229  |
| Summary and conclusions                                                  | 231  |

13 The debate on Gender Equality within the Armed Forces – A case study of Finland .................................................... 233

Anne Maria Holli

| Gender Equality and the Military: Some Theoretical Reflections            | 234  |
| The Conceptual Framework for Analysis: Different Ideologies of Gender and Equality | 236  |
| The Controversy over the UN Peace Corps in 1984                          | 238  |
| The Controversy over Voluntary Military Service for Women during the Years 1994–95 | 243  |
| Conclusions                                                              | 247  |

PART IV

Women on the Self-governing Islands

Theme editor: Susanne Jungerstam-Mulders

14 Women's Representation and Gender Equality on the Faeroes, Greenland and Åland .................................................. 253
Susanne Jungerstam-Mulders
The Faeroe Islands ....................................................... 255
Self-government on the Faeroes ........................................ 255
The Party System .......................................................... 256
Women's Political Representation ...................................... 256
The Institutionalisation of Gender Equality .......................... 258
Greenland ..................................................................... 260
Self-government on Greenland ........................................... 260
The Party System .......................................................... 261
Women's Political Representation ...................................... 261
The Institutionalisation of Gender Equality .......................... 263
Åland ......................................................................... 264
Self-government on Åland ................................................ 264
The Party System .......................................................... 265
Women's Political Representation ...................................... 266
The Institutionalisation of Gender Equality .......................... 268
The Importance of Self-government for Women's Political Representation ..................................................... 270
The Growth of Gender Equality Institutions in a
Comparative Perspective .................................................. 272

Conclusions

Equal democracies? Conclusions and perspectives................. 277
Anette Borchorst, Ann-Dorte Christensen, and Nina Raaum

Mobilising Nordic women .................................................. 279
Childcare in the Nordic welfare states .................................. 282
Institutionalised equality .................................................. 283
Women on the self-governing islands ................................... 286
Five different gender profiles ............................................. 286
Perspectives and challenges for further research .................... 289

Appendices

Appendix I
Women in the Nordic countries – a statistical overview

Table 1 Milestones in the history of Nordic women .................... 296
Table 2 The enactment of the right to vote in general elections and elections to local authorities .............................................. 297
Table 3 Proportion of women in the Nordic parliaments 1900–1999(%) .............................................. 298
Table 4.1–4.5: Women's representation in the party groups in the Nordic parliaments

Table 4.1 Denmark. Women's representation in the party groups in the Folketing 1960–1998 .......................................................... 300
Table 4.2 Finland. Women's representation in the party groups in the Eduskunta/Riksdag 1962 – 1995 ............................................ 301
Table 4.3 Iceland. Women's representation in the party groups in the Alþingi ................................................................. 302
Table 4.4 Norway. Women's representation in the party groups in the Storting 1961 – 1997 ......................................................... 303
Table 4.5 Sweden. Women's representation in the party groups in the Riksdag 1961 – 1998 ...................................................... 304

Table 5.1 – 5.5:
Female ministers by ministry 1970–1998
Table 5.1 Denmark ................................................................. 306
Table 5.2 Finland ................................................................. 307
Table 5.3 Iceland ................................................................. 308
Table 5.4 Norway ............................................................... 309
Table 5.5 Sweden ............................................................... 310

Table 6. Representation of women in parliamentary committees; a comparison (in %) ................................................................. 311

Table 7.1–7.3:
Women elected to the parliaments of the self-governing regions 1983–1998
Table 7.1 Women elected to the Faeroese Løgting 1984–1998 .......... 313
Table 7.2 Women elected to the Landsting of Greenland 1984–1995 .... 314
Table 7.3 Women elected to the Lagting of Åland 1983–1995 ......... 314

Table 8. Proportion of women councillors (in %) on local councils in the Nordic countries 1900–1998 .............................................. 315

Appendix II
Overview of the political parties in the Nordic countries

Denmark ............................................................................... 318
   The Faeroes ...................................................................... 318
   Greenland .......................................................................... 319
Finland .................................................................................. 319
   Åland ................................................................................. 319
Iceland .................................................................................. 319
Norway .................................................................................. 320
Sweden .................................................................................. 320

Appendix III
Gender equality, bodies and legislation

1. Gender equality bodies in the Nordic countries ......................... 322
   Denmark ........................................................................... 322
   Finland .............................................................................. 322
   Iceland ............................................................................... 322
   Norway ............................................................................... 323
   Sweden ............................................................................... 323

2. Legislation in the Nordic countries ............................................. 324
   Denmark ........................................................................... 324
   Finland .............................................................................. 324
   Iceland ............................................................................... 324
   Norway ............................................................................... 324
   Sweden ............................................................................... 324