Gender and Disability Research in the Nordic Countries
Contents

Author descriptions 7

Foreword 11

Preface 15

Introduction 17
  Rannveig Traustadóttir and Kristjana Kristiansen

PART I – GENDER AND DISABILITY

1 Introducing gender and disability 31
   Rannveig Traustadóttir, Iceland and Kristjana Kristiansen, Norway

2 A new way of thinking: Exploring the intersection of disability and gender 49
   Rannveig Traustadóttir, Iceland

PART II – HISTORY AND GENERATION

3 Implications of being diagnosed as a “feeble-minded woman” 75
   Kristina Engwall, Sweden

4 Three generations: Looking at physically disabled women’s lives 97
   Gisela Helmius, Sweden

© The authors and Studentlitteratur
5  Education and employment: Gender differences among people deaf or hard-of-hearing from childhood  115
  Elina Lehtomäki, Finland

PART III – CHILDREN AND YOUTH

6  Everyday life and gender in Norwegian nursery and primary Schools  137
  Borgunn Ytterhus, Norway

7  The gendered category of ‘special needs’: Teacher interpretations of male and female students  161
  Ingrid Fylling, Norway

8  ‘Just Friends’: A study of friendships among disabled young adults  185
  Dóra S. Bjarnason, Iceland

PART IV – FAMILIES AND PARENTING

9  The impact of gender on parental response to children with disabilities: A study of Pakistani families in Norway  211
  Torunn Arnsen Sørheim, Norway

10  Intellectually limited fathers, their families and formal support services  239
    Hanna Björg Sigurjónsdóttir, Iceland

PART V – DISCOURSE AND IDENTITY

11  Gendered subject positions for the disabled woman and man  257
    Marjo-Riitta Reinikainen, Finland
12 Retaining and regaining womanhood after becoming disabled  277
   Eva Magnus, Norway

13 Exploring obesity through the social model of disability  305
   Hannele Harjunen, Finland

PART VI – VIOLENCE AND CONTROL

14 Violence against disabled women  327
   Vappu Viemerö, Finland

15 Womanhood and disability: Oppression under scrutiny  347
   Karin Barron, Sweden

16 Madness, badness, and sadness revisited: Ontology control in ‘mental health land’  365
   Kristjana Kristiansen, Norway

Index  395