Sven E O Hort

Social Policy, Welfare State, and Civil Society in Sweden

Volume II

The Lost World of Social Democracy
1988–2015

Third enlarged edition

Arkiv förlag
Contents of Volume II

Introduction. Tax-financed Welfare after the Latest Crisis  9

1. Mapping Comparative Welfare State Research  15
   First-generation welfare state studies and their research objects  16
   Second-generation welfare state studies and their research objects  21
   Varieties of third-generation welfare state studies: globality and sustainability  25

   Introduction: the sustainability of the welfare state  29
   The imagined communities of the social welfare–industrial complex  31
   Agricultural subsidies: the European salvage  35
   Full (un)employment: the institutional downscaling of NLMB  37
   Income maintenance: social insurance schemes as a public safety net  42
   Needs-based in-kind welfare services: the deregulation and recalibration of health, education, and personal social services, including disability and old age  50
   Housing: the disappearance of a policy area  55
   Taxation and the financing of the social welfare–industrial complex  58
   Conclusions: from permanent austerity to volatile globality?  64

3. The Lost World of the Social Democratic Welfare Regime Type, 1988–2014  67
   Introduction: from welfare administration to market administration?  67
   The secular social state in a world of tribal nations of extended clans and families  69
   Urban demographics: class intersectionality, ethno-stereotypes, and social generations  72
The political economy of the mature welfare state 78
The central welfare state as a meta-institution and policy arena 89
The end of the national movement-state:
   class and gender, minus ethnicity and race 97
Conclusions: the central state strikes back 107

4. Civil Society: Challenging the Welfare State since the 1990s 113
   Introduction: the invention of civil society in an imagined welfare community 113
   Civil society as a tax-financed welfare practice 117
   Are the episcopate and the municipality part of Swedish civil society? 124
   Mapping the new “free churches”
      and non-profits in contemporary civil society 130
   Welfare protests in civil society
      during and after the decennium horribile 135
   Adieu to civil society: enter bourgeois–Christian society? 138
   The sell-out of Sweden Incorporated:
      from take-off to bonanza – a summary 141

5. A Republican–Secular Society under the Umbrella of the Nordic Model? Notes for a Comparative Survey 147
   Introduction: a contested model in the epoch of the post-colonial spectacle 147
   The flexicurity of the Danish model 151
   Finland: a model that cracked but was temporarily sustained by the Nokia cell phone 154
   Norway: saviour of the Nordic model
      during the decennium horribile? 157
   Sweden: from Mr. Crosland’s to David Cameron’s dreamland? 159
   Conclusion: the resurgence of the Nordic model 161

Appendix. In the Tracks of the Welfare State:
Research by Walking Around 175
References 183
Acknowledgements 203
Contents of Volume I 207