Contents

Contributors  ix
Foreword  xvi
Acknowledgements  xxiii

Introduction  1

1 Bridging the Mythical Divide: Political Economy and Cultural Studies Approaches to the Analysis of Media  7
   Natalie Fenton

2 The Media Industry: Structure, Strategy and Debates  32
   David Croteau and William Hoynes

3 Mass Media and New Media Technologies  55
   Michael J. Breen

4 Unravelling the Web of Discourse Analysis  78
   Philippa Smith and Allan Bell

5 News Content Studies, Media Group Methods and Discourse Analysis: A Comparison of Approaches  101
   Greg Philo

6 Framing and Frame Analysis  134
   Jenny Kitzinger

7 Mass Media Re-Presentations of the Social World: Ethnicity and ‘Race’  162
   Amanda Haynes

8 Media Representations of Social Structure: Gender  191
   Joke Hermes

9 Media, Power and Political Culture  211
   John Corner
10 Proximity and Scope as News Values
   Pamela J. Shoemaker, Jong Hyuk Lee, Gang (Keven) Han and Akiba A. Cohen

11 Text and Textual Analysis
   Peter Hughes

12 Analyzing Fictional Television Genres
   Kim Akass and Janet McCabe

13 From Family Television to Bedroom Culture: Young People’s Media at Home
   Sonia Livingstone

14 Fan Culture - Performing Difference
   Jeroen de Kloet and Liesbet van Zoonen

15 Community Media and the Public Sphere
   Kevin Howley

16 Media and Diaspora
   Karim H. Karim

Index