New Directions in Sustainable Design

Edited by Adrian Parr and Michael Zaretsky
Contents

List of Illustrations vii
Illustration Credits ix
Notes on Contributors x
Foreword by Thomas Fisher xv
Acknowledgments xviii

Part I Principles

1 Letter to the Profession of Architecture
   Teddy Cruz 3

2 Art, Politics, and Climate Change
   Adrian Parr 6

3 Interview with Janet Laurence on Public Art and Ecology
   Adrian Parr 13

4 The Brunel Lecture
   Peter Head 20

Part II Ecologies

5 Ecological Modernism and the Making of a New Working Class
   Shannon May 37

6 Back to the Garden: The Ecological Evolution of the Atlantic Yards
   Marshall Brown 53

7 Building Recombinant Ecologies: Triangulating Policy, Models, and Design in Urban Infrastructure
   Stephen Luoni 66

8 Patchworks, Ecologies, and the Contemporary City
   Graham Livesey 84
Part III Resilences

9 Design from the Ground Up: Risks and Opportunities in Humanitarian Design
   Michael Zaretsky 97

10 Constructive Dialogue: Community Building as a Tool of Social Change
   Nick Seemann 115

11 Interview with Durganand Balsavar of ARTES-Human Settlements Development Collaborative
   Adrian Parr 129

12 The Politics of the Southeast Asian Smog Crises: A Classic Case of Rentier Capitalism at Work?
   Kenneth Surin 137

13 Designing Resilience: Sustainable Design from a Complex Systems Perspective
   Carl S. Sterner 152

Part IV Techniques

14 Technique Is the Architecture of Sustainability
   Kiel Moe 173

15 How Is LEED Faring after Five Years in Use?
   Nancy B. Solomon 185

16 LEED after Ten Years
   Michael Zaretsky 191

17 Interview with Christof Jantzen of Behnisch Architekten
   Michael Zaretsky 202

18 Reinventing the Wheel
   Amory B. Lovins 207

Part V Concepts

19 The Sustainability of Concepts: Knowledge and Human Interests
   Claire Colebrook 221

20 Undoing the Subject: Deleuze and the Makings of a Sustainable Life
   Jeffrey A. Bell 229

21 Cultural Symbolizations of a Sustainable Future
   Roland Faber 242

Index 256