Understanding Cities
Method in urban design

Alexander R. Cuthbert
Contents

List of figures
List of tables
Preface
Acknowledgements

Introduction

Understanding cities 1
Chapter summary 2

1 Theory/heterology

Introduction: intuition, experience and science 6
The method of science 7
The method of social science 12
Science and the urban 15
Urban design heterologies 20
Conclusion 28

2 History

Introduction: history, truth and time 30
History and progress 32
Writing history 34
History and mainstream urban design 37
Prototypes 39
The history of the future 52
Conclusion 53
Contents

3 Philosophy

Introduction: origins 55
Influences 56
Phenomenology 71
Semiotics 74
Political economy 77
Conclusion 81

4 Politics

Introduction: ideology and capital 83
The urban political agenda 85
Land rent 87
The state and urban planning 90
The public and counter-public realms 95
Conclusion 100

5 Culture

Introduction: capital, culture and the sign 102
The urban symbolic 104
Monuments and design 113
Heterology and the New Urbanism 121
Conclusion 130

6 Gender

Introduction: the missing component 132
The historical nexus 134
Sex, gender and the female mind 142
A feminist method? 144
Flânerie as heterology 148
Heterology, gender and design 153
Conclusion 157

7 Environment

Introduction: market meltdown, density and urban form 158
Suburb-urbs 159
Natural capitalism 162
(Natural) ecology 167
Density: form fundamentals 170
High-rise buildings or vertical architecture? 176
The edible city 180
Density and the New Urbanism 184
Conclusion 190
CONTENTS

8 Aesthetics

- Introduction: issues in aesthetic judgement 192
- Aesthetic production, art and the city 196
- The contextualist method and aesthetic production 207
- The rationalist method and aesthetic production 215
- Regulation and design control 220
- Conclusion 224

9 Typologies

- Introduction: form and process 225
- Globalisation and urban form 227
- The mega-project and the spectacle 234
- Iconic space and neocorporatism 244
- Ambiguous space and the citizen 248
- Invisible space and the global migrant 251
- Slum and superslum space 257
- Conclusion 259

10 Pragmatics

- Introduction: the power of polemic 261
- Language and communication 265
- Origins 270
- Urbanism and the manifesto 275
- The manifesto: 1900–45 276
- The manifesto: post-1945 284
- Conclusion 289

Postscript 291

References 298

Index 324