Contents

List of figures viii
List of tables ix
Notes on contributors x

1 Introduction: governing shale gas 1
JOHN WHITTON, MATTHEW COTTON, KATHRYN BRASIER AND IOAN CHARNLEY-PARRY

PART I
Regulatory development and property rights 21

2 Regulating unconventional shale gas development in the United States: diverging priorities, overlapping jurisdictions, and asymmetrical data access 23
BETH KINNE

3 A complex adaptive system or just a tangled mess?: Property rights and shale gas governance in Australia and the US 37
JEFFREY B. JACQUET, KATHERINE WITT, WILLIAM RIFKIN, AND JULIA H. HAGGERTY

4 Governing unconventional legacies: lessons from the coalbed methane boom in Wyoming 51
KATHRYN BILLS WALSH AND JULIA H. HAGGERTY

5 Governing shale gas in Germany 66
ANNETTE ELISABETH TÖLLER AND MICHAEL BÖCHER
vi Contents

6 Experimental regulatory approaches for unconventional gas: the case of urban drilling and local government authority in Texas 83
MATTHEW FRY AND CHRISTIAN BRANNSTROM

7 The role of multi-state River Basin Commissions in shale gas governance systems: a comparative analysis of the Susquehanna and Delaware River Basin Commissions in the Marcellus Shale region 98
GRACE WILDERMUTH, JOHN DZWONCZYK, AND KATHRYN BRASIER

PART II
Information, communication, scientific assessment and public participation 115

8 Unlikely allies against fracking: networks of resistance against shale gas development in Poland 117
ALEKSANDRA LIS AND AGATA STASIK

9 Community representations of unconventional gas development in Australia, Canada and the United States, and their effect on social licence 130
HANABETH LUKE AND DARRICK EVENSEN

10 Evidence-based and participatory processes in support of shale gas policy development in South Africa 149
GREGORY O. SCHREINER, MEGAN J. DE JAGER, LUANITA SNYMAN-VAN DER WALT, ANDILE DLUDLA, PAUL A. LOCHNER, JARRAD G. WRIGHT, ROBERT J. SCHOLES, DOREEN ATKINSON, PAUL HARDCASTLE, HENDRIK KOTZE AND SURINA ESTERHUYSE

11 Campus organizing toward the democratization of shale oil and gas governance in higher education 168
SARAH T. ROMANO AND WENDY HIGHBY

12 Devolved governance and alternative dispute resolution programs: an example from the Bakken 184
KRISTIN K. SMITH AND JULIA H. HAGGERTY
13 Fracking communities, fractured communication: information transfer and transparency of the energy industry 198
PEGGY PETRZELKA, COLTER ELLIS, DOUGLAS JACKSON-SMITH, AND GENE THEODORI

PART III
Actor networks, participation and social justice 211

14 Shale gas governance in the United States, the United Kingdom and Europe: public participation and the role of social justice 213
JOHN WHITTON AND IOAN CHARNLEY-PARRY

15 Shale gas development in England: a tale of two mineral planning authorities 227
IMOGEN RATTLE, TUDOR BAKER AND JAMES VAN ALSTINE

16 Community understanding of risk from fracking in the UK and Poland: how democracy-based and justice-based concerns amplify risk perceptions 242
ANNA SZOLUCHA

17 Seeking common ground in contested energy technology landscapes: insights from a Q-methodology study 256
MATTHEW DAIRON, JOHN R. PARKINS, AND KATE SHERREN

18 Scientized and sanitized: shale gas in the context of New Brunswick's political history 272
KELLY BRONSON AND TOM BECKLEY

Index 288