

Emerging Europe and the Great Recession

By

Daniel Dăianu

Cambridge
Scholars
Publishing

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	ix
List of Tables	x
Acknowledgements	xi
Preface: Why This Volume?.....	xiv
Introduction	1
Part I. Society and the Great Recession
Chapter One.....	12
Limits of Openness
1. What went wrong?.....	12
2. Reinterpreting globalisation.....	14
Chapter Two	20
When Models Crumble
1. Reform of the regulation and supervision of financial markets	20
2. Revision of financial organisations' business models.....	21
3. Risk modelling needs to change.....	21
4. More suitable cognitive models are needed	22
5. Downsizing the financial sector makes sense	22
6. Economies need to be more balanced to enhance their robustness and resilience.....	23
7. Globalisation may have gone too far, so corrections are needed	23
8. Models of economic integration need re-thinking	24
9. The relationship between governments and society needs to be repaired.....	24
10. Revisiting the rules and institutions of the international regime is a must	25
Chapter Three	26
When Finance Corrodes Economy and Undermines Democracy

Chapter Four	33
Who Creates Money and What This Is Used For?
1. Commercial banks precede central banks	35
2. The money vs. credit debate	36
3. Money creation and financial stability	38
4. Crypto (parallel)-currencies and the money supply	39
5. Financial system overhaul proposals	41
6. What would happen to credit?	42
7. Unconventional policies.....	44
8. What does the future hold for finance?	45
Chapter Five	47
Resilience and Robustness: When Systems are Under Siege
1. Shocks: Conventional and unconventional	48
2. Why has robustness (resilience) been falling?	50
3. What to do now?	55
4. Instead of conclusion: Is a new industrial revolution the solution?	61
Chapter Six	63
The Inward Looking Syndrome (The New Protectionism):
Where Does It Come From and Where Could It Go?
1. A few historical benchmarks.....	64
2. Why is protectionism returning in the developed world?	66
3. Simple analytics of a trade-off	68
4. A resurrection of national interests	70
5 The New Protectionism: Whither?.....	72
 Part II. The European Union and the Great Recession
Chapter Seven.....	76
Domestic Cycles, Financial Cycles, and Policies: What Has Gone Wrong?
1. Introduction.....	76
2. Domestic cycles and the financial cycle: The story of a big bubble ...	79
3. When the financial cycle meets “secular stagnation”	84
4. An Age of ultra-low interest rates?	92
5. The Financial Cycle and macroprudential policies.....	103
6. Elements of a policy agenda	106
7. Final remarks	112

Chapter Eight.....	119
Regaining Financial Stability: Taming Financial Markets is a Must
1. Introduction.....	119
2. Financial stability: Rediscovering structure.....	120
3. A focus on NMSs: The role of structure.....	125
4. Regaining financial stability.....	137
5. Issues to ponder on.....	150
Chapter Nine.....	153
The Euroarea Crisis
1. Introduction.....	153
2. Roots of strain in the EMU.....	154
3. Deceptive aggregate deficits in the EMU: Why there is a need for a fundamental repair?.....	159
4. The EU policy response: Crisis management and reforming the EU (EMU) governance.....	161
5. The policy space challenge.....	170
Chapter Ten.....	173
External Imbalances and the Governance of the Euroarea
1. A global perspective.....	175
2. A European perspective.....	179
3. Conclusion.....	183
Chapter Eleven.....	186
The European Union and the International Policy Regime
1. Why the Bretton Woods logic needs to be rediscovered.....	186
2. The Euroarea needs its own Bretton Woods.....	189
3. Democratic order demands taming financial markets.....	191
4. Rediscovering the logic and spirit of Bretton Woods.....	192
 Part III. Romania and the Great Recession
Chapter Twelve.....	196
A Central Bank's Dilemmas during Highly Uncertain Times
1. Introduction.....	196
2. Romania: Huge correction of imbalances in a highly unfavourable environment.....	197
3. Older vintage policy issues/dilemmas.....	200
4. Recent vintage dilemmas: A new age?.....	206
5. Final remarks.....	218

Chapter Thirteen	219
Whither Romanian Capitalism?
1. Introduction: Romania in a crisis-ridden environment.....	219
2. Where has Romania come from?	220
3. Post-communist transition in Romania	225
4. Romanian capitalism in its post-communist phase	232
5. Romania, the EU, and catching up.....	240
Chapter Fourteen	254
Euroarea Accession: The Question Is Under What Terms?
1. Introduction.....	254
2. The Economic and Monetary Union between theory and practice ...	258
3. Euroarea vulnerabilities and reform limits. Further progress is needed.....	261
4. Conditions for joining the Euroarea: From nominal convergence to real and structural convergence.....	266
5. Conclusions.....	276
Afterthoughts on What Ails Europe and What To Do About It	281
Bibliography	289
Index.....	311