THE MAKING OF FINANCE

Perspectives from the Social Sciences

Edited by Isabelle Chambost, Marc Lenglet and Yamina Tadjeddine
CONTENTS

List of figures ix
List of tables x
List of contributors xi
Acknowledgements xvii

Introduction: finance as social science
ISABELLE CHAMBOST, MARC LENGLET AND YAMINA TADJEDDINE 1

PART I
Critical analysis of mainstream financial theory and its uses 15

1 Financial services: a collection of arrangements
YAMINA TADJEDDINE 17

2 Taming the risk borne by financial products
PIERRE DE LARMINAT 24

3 The political and moral imaginaries of financial practices
HORACIO ORTIZ 30

4 The role of financial analysts in the social construction of financial value
ISABELLE CHAMBOST 37

5 Public–private partnerships (PPP) between financing
requirements and micro-economic governance:
complementary scientific and real-world justifications
GÉRY DEFFONTAINES 44
Contents

6 The risk fluctuation: the consequences of avoiding interest rate risk
   ANNE EA VAN DER GRAAF

7 What makes a price a price? Commensuration work on financial markets
   HÉLÈNE RAINELLI-WEISS AND ISABELLE HUAULT

8 The leptokurtic crisis and the discontinuous turn in financial modelling
   CHRISTIAN WALTER

9 Beyond performativity, how and why American courts should not have used efficient market hypothesis
   FRANCK JOVANOVIĆ

PART II
Structural dynamics in the financial industry

10 Sources of risks in financial innovations: embedded and additional risks in Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs)
    MOHAMED OUBENAL AND LAURENT DEVILLE

11 Junior stock markets and SMEs: an ideal relation? The case of the Alternative Investment Market
    VALÉRIE REVEST

12 Structures and measures for responsible finance
    ELISE PENALVA-ICHER

13 Territories of finance: the Parisian case
    YAMINA TADJEDDINE

14 The workforce and professional training in banks
    MARNIX DRESSEN

15 Cooperative banking: finding a place for the social in finance?
    PASCALE MOULÉVRIER

16 Relationship banking – an “endangered species”? Evidence from Germany
    EILEEN KELLER
17 The future of stock exchanges has a long past: what can we learn from financial history?
PAUL LAGNEAU-YMONET AND ANGELO RIVA

18 Compliance and the regulation of practices: a two-fold paradox
MARC LENGLET

19 Financial regulation: a question of point of view
JACQUES-OLIVIER CHARRON

PART III
A new system of accumulation

20 Sociological domestication of a financial product: the case of derivatives
DAVID MARTIN

21 The work of financialisation
EVE CHIAPELLO

22 Circuits of trust and money: the resilience of the Italian Credito Cooperativo
VALENTINA MOISO

23 Justification and critique in the credit rating system: reaffirming the power of agencies
BENJAMIN TAUPIN

24 The function of finance: an ethnographic analysis of competing ideas
ALEXANDRA OUROUSSOFF

25 At the very heart of financial dominance: the case of LBOs
ISABELLE CHAMBOST

26 The internationalisation of the mutual fund sector and the origin of the financialization: a historical process of production rules
CAROLINE GRANIER

27 Conceptualising finance within the capital–labour nexus: asset management as a new zone of social conflict
SABINE MONTAGNE
Contents

28 Democracy and the political representation of investors: on French sovereign debt transactions and elections 250
BENJAMIN LEMOINE

29 Knitting together finance and our daily lives 260
JEANNE LAZARUS

30 Making sense of the economy: a network of debt network coordinated by currency 266
MICHEL AGLIETTA

Conclusion: what finance manufactures 270
OLIVIER GODECHOT

Index 283