ECONOMICS FOR THE MANY

Edited with an Introduction by John McDonnell
Contents

Introduction vii
John McDonnell

1. Democratising Economics in a Post-truth World 1
Antonia Jennings

2. Labour's Fiscal Credibility Rule in Context 12
Simon Wren-Lewis

3. Rising to the Challenge of Tax Avoidance 23
Prem Sikka

4. To Secure a Future, Britain Needs 43
a Green New Deal
Ann Pettifor

5. Fair, Open and Progressive: The roots and Reasons 56
behind Labour's Global Trade Policy
Barry Gardiner

6. 'De-financialising' the UK Economy: 72
The Importance of Public Banks
Costas Lapavitsas
CONTENTS

7. Better Models of Business Ownership
   Rob Calvert Jump 85

8. Beyond the Divide: Why Devolution Is Needed for National Prosperity
   Grace Blakeley and Luke Raikes 98

9. Democratic Ownership in the New Economy
   Joe Guinan and Thomas M. Hanna 108

10. A New Urban Economic System: The UK and the US
    Matthew Brown, Ted Howard, Matthew Jackson and Neil McInroy 126

11. Debt Dependence and the Financialisation of Everyday Life
    Johnna Montgomerie 142

12. Platform Monopolies and the Political Economy of AI
    Nick Srnicek 152

13. A New Deal for Data
    Francesca Bria 164

14. Rethinking Economics for a New Economy
    J. Christopher Proctor 174

15. Public Investment in Social Infrastructure for a Caring, Sustainable and Productive Economy
    Özlem Onaran 186

16. Rentier Capitalism and the Precariat: The Case for a Commons Fund
    Guy Standing 195

List of Contributors 207

Notes 211