Gustav Dieckheuer/Boguslaw Fiedor (eds.)

2002

Competition, Environment and Trade in the Globalized Economy

A 234257

PETER LANG
Europäischer Verlag der Wissenschaften
Contents

Economic Globalization – Causes and Consequences
Gustav Dieckheuer

On Migration in a Globalizing World
Jochen Schumann

Globalization of Takeovers and Mergers from the Perspective of the Polish Economy
Bożena Borkowska and Jolanta Szapiel

Preparing a World Antitrust Framework – An Ordoliberal Approach
Thomas Köhler and Stefan Kooths

Regional Dimensions of National Integration – Some Theoretical and Empirical Aspects of Poland’s Integration in the EU
Thomas Bittner

Structural Change in the Western European Banking Market
Manfred Borchert

Global Information Techniques and their Economic Consequences (with Special Regard to the Internet)
Stefan Forlicz

Internet Economics and the Organization of Open Source Software-Development
Klaus Rahmen-Zurek

Globalisation and Education – Some Remarks on the Future of Public Funded Higher Educational Services
Jürgen E. Blank
Global Ecological Issues, International Trade and Sustainable Development 145
Bogusław Fiedor

Economic Instruments in Coping with Global Ecology Issues 155
Stanisław Czaja and Andrzej Grazyk

Foreign Direct Investment in Polish Agro-Food Sectors – Some Evidence and Careful Assessment 167
Bożena Baborska

The Social Responsibility of Global Corporations 173
Bożena Klimczak

Problems in World Trade before the new WTO round 185
Jerzy Rymarczyk