Deglobalization: Ideas for a New World Economy

WALDEN BELLO

NEW UPDATED EDITION

University Press Ltd
DHAKA
White Lotus Co. Ltd
BANGKOK
Fernwood Publishing Ltd
NOVA SCOTIA
Books for Change
BANGALORE
SIRD
KUALA LUMPUR
David Philip
CAPE TOWN
Zed Books
LONDON · NEW YORK
Contents

Acknowledgements and Dedication ix

Foreword: The Crisis of the Globalist Project and the New Economics of George W. Bush xi

The crisis of the globalist project xii Three moments of the crisis of globalization xiii The new economics of George W. Bush xvi The economics and politics of overextension xx

1 Introduction: The Multiple Crises of Global Capitalism 1

From triumph to crisis 2 Multilateralism in disarray 2 The crisis of the neoliberal order 4 The corporation under question 6 Cracks in military hegemony 8 The degeneration of liberal democracy 9 The spectre of global deflation 13 The rise of the movement 16 Contradictory trends after September 11 17 'Imperial overstretch' 22 Liberal democracy loses 25 Porto Alegre and the future 27

2 Marginalizing the South in the International System 32

The rise of UNCTAD 34 The Bretton Woods twins versus the UN Development system 35 The southern challenge in the 1970s 38 Right-wing reaction and the demonization of the south 40 Resubordinating the south 42 The World Trade Organization: third pillar of the system 51 The Group of Seven: an international directorate? 55