Fiscal Federalism in Russia: Problems, Theory, Experiences

Moscow
2001
Chapter 1. The record of interbudgetary relations development in Russia .... 5

The evolution of the budgetary system and interbudgetary relations
in the Russian federation for the period of 1992 - 1993 ................................................. 5

The interbudgetary relations’ reform of 1994 and their development
for the period of 1994 - 1997. ......................................................................................... 8

The evolution of the budgetary system and interbudgetary relations
in the Russian federation for the period of 1992 - 1993. .................................................. 11

The interbudgetary relations’ reform of 1994 and their development
for the period of 1994 - 1997. ......................................................................................... 15

A new stage of interbudgetary relations reforming: 1998 - 2000. .................................. 24

Chapter 2. Legal Aspects of Fiscal Federalism In the Russian Federation . 43

The Budget System Structure in Russia ........................................................................... 43

The principles of pursuing interbudgetary relations .......................................................... 50

The Principle of revenue and expenditure distribution among different levels of budget system ....................................................................................... 52

Revenue and Expenditure distribution among different budget system levels .................. 53

The Forms of federal financial aid provided for RF subjects. .......................................... 64

APPENDIX. The list of expenditure authorities incumbent upon sub-national budget by the Federal Legislation (by the RF Ministry of Finance). .... 76

Chapter 3. Tendencies in the Federal Budget Financial Aid Allocation to the Subjects of the Russian Federation: 1992 to 2001 ......................... 88

The Fund for Financial Support to the Regions Transfers ........................................... 98

Other varieties of the federal financial aid. ........................................................................ 101

Funds transferred to the Subjects of the Federation as mutual settlements............... 106

Varieties of the federal financial aid the the Subjects of the Russian Federation .... 108

Federal Support to the Regions System in 2001. ........................................................... 110

Chapter 4. Review of theoretical aspects of assignment of expenditure responsibilities and taxing powers of subnational budgets ................................................................................................. 115

The Revenues of Sub-National Budgets and the Distribution of Authority for Revenue Assignment Among the Levels of State Power ..................... 115

Sources and Bibliography ............................................................................................... 145