

S. Lentz

---

Restructuring Eastern Germany

With 35 Figures and 5 Tables

 Springer

Contents

	Sebastian Lentz
1	Preface - Introduction		1
	Michael Schädlich, Gerald Wagner
2	Perspectives and Options for Economic Policy in Eastern Germany – With Special Reference to Aspects from the Spatial Sciences		7
	2.1 Key Findings		8
	2.2 Strategic Goals and Approaches		10
	2.3 Essential Strategy Elements in the Focus of the current Discussion		13
	2.4 Summary and Outlook		23
	Karl-Dieter Keim
3	On the Difficulties involved with the Examination of Complex Policy Agendas		27
	3.1 Policy Windows		28
	3.2 Policy Networks		30
	3.3 Policy Topics		33
	3.4 Policy Impacts		35
	3.5 Prospects		37
	Rupert Kawka
4	Regional Disparities in the GDR - Do They Still Matter?		41
	4.1 Data Sources		44
	4.2 Descriptive Interpretation of the Data		45
	4.3 Does History Matter?		50
	4.4 Conclusions		52

---

5	Markus Eltges, Wendelin Strubelt	Equal Living Conditions and their Fiscal Bases	57
	5.1	Regional Disparities as a Societal Challenge	60
	5.2	The national System of financial Balance and equal Living Conditions	62
	5.3	The European Structural Funds and the Guarantee of equal Living Conditions	65
	5.4	Hidden financial Equalization through social Security Systems	70
	5.5	The entire System	74
6	Martin T. W. Rosenfeld	Interregional Support Policy for East German Regions	79
	6.1	What Kind of Interregional Support Policy (ISP) is needed for East German Regions?	80
	6.2	The current System of Interregional Support Policy (ISP) for East German Regions	85
	6.3	Conclusions for reforming the current ISP System	87
7	Günter Herfert, Sebastian Lentz	New Spatial Patterns of Population Development as a Factor in Restructuring Eastern Germany	91
	7.1	Regional Population Movements	91
	7.2	Polarisation of regional Population Development	96
	7.3	Migration into the City and Re-Urbanisation?	97
	7.4	Large Scale Migration Phenomena	103
	7.5	Conclusions	106
8	Ulf Matthiesen	Strengthening the Human Resource Base in Eastern German Regions	111
	8.1	Context Surprise: The Eastern German Knowledge Society	111
	8.2	Education, Knowledge, Science and Research in the East Concepts and empirical Evidence	113
	8.3	New Actor Networks, Spatial Pioneers, Integrated Politics	117

9	Manfred Kühn, Heike Liebmann Strategies for Urban Regeneration – The Transformation of cities in Northern England and Eastern Germany	123
	9.1 The Regeneration of Cities in Decline – a Subject of International Interest	123
	9.2 The Concept of Strategic Planning	126
	9.3 Urban Regeneration in Northern England	128
	9.4 „Stadtumbau“ in Eastern Germany	131
	9.5 Comparison and Conclusion	134
10	Monika Meyer-Künzel Urban Development with Olympic Games and World Exhibitions – is it Possible to Plan Usage?	139
	10.1 Urban Improvement and the Planning of Open Space	140
	10.2 Instrumentalisation of Urban Development for the Benefit of the City	145
	10.3 Discussion of Large Scale Events in Europe	149
11	André Müller Countries Undergoing Transformation – „New“ European Neighbours in Spatial Planning	155
	11.1 The History of Planning in the EU’s Neighbouring Countries – Spatial and Structural Characteristics	157
	11.2 Options for Future Planning Processes	159
12	Hans Joachim Kujath, Sabine Zillmer Spatial Development Strategies in the New EU Member States: EPSON Project 2.2.2 on Pre-Accession Aid Impact Assessment	163
	12.1 Potential Orientated Policy Impact Assessment	164
13	Burkhard Lange The Knowledge Society and Spatial Development	167
	Appendix
	Biographies and Publication List’s of the Authors	173