

UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE ON TRADE AND DEVELOPMENT

Geneva

803 487 69X

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT
IN AFRICA

Doubling Aid:
Making the "Big Push" work

UNITED NATIONS
New York and Geneva, 2006

CONTENTS

	Page
A. Overview	1
B. Aid to Africa	9
1. Aid in an historical perspective	9
2. Some summary statistics	14
3. Africa’s aid requirements	24
C. The “big push” revisited	25
D. Putting aid to work: issues at stake	35
1. Absorptive capacities	36
(a) Supply constraints and distorted incentives	37
(b) Institutional and personnel constraints	45
2. Aid delivery	50
(a) Politics and public goods	50
(b) Grants and loans	54
(c) Projects and budget support	56
(d) Reformers and performers	58
E. Rethinking the aid architecture for Africa	62
1. Market versus planning approaches	63
2. Lessons from the Marshall Plan	66
3. Elements of a new architecture	72
4. Some unresolved architectural details	77