Management Education in Japan

NORIO KAMBAKYASHI
MASAYA MORITA
AND
YOKO OKABE
Contents

List of figures and tables .......................... vii
About the authors ................................ ix
Acknowledgements ................................ xi
List of acronyms .................................. xiii
Preface ............................................... xv

1  Business education and human resources development in Japan: issues and challenges ................................. 1

   Business education and corporate human resources development ................................................................. 1
   The trend towards adult re-education .......................... 3
   The target and scope of business education .................. 7
   The issues and analytical perspective of this book .......... 9
   The basic theory of business education ...................... 14
   Comparison of the curriculum of top business schools .... 17
   The structure of this research .............................. 26
   Notes ............................................... 28

2  What do Japanese companies look for in MBA holders? ................................................................. 31

   Introduction ......................................... 31
   Types of MBA students .......................... 32
   Promotion and wage systems in Japanese HRM schemes .. 35
   Present state of despatched MBAs in Japan .............. 42
   Discussion ......................................... 50
   Conclusion .......................................... 53