Contents

Acknowledgements ix
Contributors x

Introduction 1
DAVID WALKER

The century of Marxism 1
Marxism in the nineteenth century 2
The death of Marxism? 3
Marxism: a twenty-first-century perspective 5
Note 12
References 12

PART I

1 Lenin and Marxism: class struggle, the theory of politics and the politics of theory 15
   ALAN SHANDRO

   The politics of class consciousness 16
   The struggle for hegemony 18
   The logic of imperialism 20
   Revolution and counter-revolution 22
   Class struggle and freedom of criticism 24
   Note 28
   References 28

2 Left-communism: Rosa Luxemburg and Leon Trotsky compared 30
   IAN D. THATCHER

   Introduction 30
   Reform or revolution? For a revolutionary Marxism 31
Contents

- Party organization 32
- The 1905 Russian Revolution 34
- The First World War 36
- The Russian and German revolutions 38
- Conclusion 40
- Notes 42
- References 44

3 Right-wing Marxism

Jules Townshend

- Karl Kautsky 48
- Bernstein 50
- The Mensheviks 52
- Assessment 54
- References 57

4 Soviet and Eastern bloc Marxism

Mark Sandle

- Introduction 59
- Understanding Soviet Marxism: the paradoxes of an 'official' body of thought 60
- Developments in Soviet and Eastern bloc Marxism 1938–85 66
- The demise of Soviet Marxism–Leninism 1985–91 74
- Soviet and Eastern bloc Marxism: an appraisal 75
- Notes 76
- References and further reading 76

PART II

5 Eurocommunism

Rick Simon

- Eurocommunism and the USSR 82
- Eurocommunism and the capitalist state 88
- Eurocommunism, post-communism and social democracy 91
- References 93

6 Western Marxism

Joseph Femia

- Hegelian Marxism 99
- The Frankfurt School 104
- Existentialist Marxism 111
- Structuralist Marxism 113
7 African Marxism's moment  118
DARYL GLASER

'African socialism' 118
Marxist theory about Africa 120
Marxism’s missionaries 121
Coup d’état versus people's war 124
Exceptional cases: South Africa and Ethiopia 127
Was there a distinctive African Marxism? 129
Decline and fall 130
Notes 135
References 137

8 Applying Marxism to Asian conditions: Mao Zedong, Ho
Chi Minh and the ‘universality’ of Marxism  141
NICK KNIGHT

Marx and Europe, Marxism in Asia 142
Mao Zedong and the Sinification of Marxism 144
Ho Chi Minh and Vietnam’s revolution: patriotism and proletarian internationalism 148
Applying Marxism to Asian conditions: critical evaluation 150
Note 152
References 152

9 Marxism in Latin America/Latin American Marxism?  154
RONALDO MUNCK

Marx in Latin America 154
Marxistegui and ‘national Marxism’ 156
From Stalin to Castro 158
Renovadores and Zapatistas 161
Intellectual contributions 163
Reinventing revolution 165
Prospects 167
References 170

PART III
10 Marxism and socialism  177
HOWARD CHODOS

Marx and socialism as working-class power 178
Contents

Marxism and revolution 180
Assessing the Soviet experience 181
Marxism and socialism 187
Marxism and socialism in the twenty-first century 190
Notes 194
References and further reading 195

11 Marxist theory, Marxist practice 196
DARYL GLASER

Marxism, democracy, epistemology 197
Two rules 199
Three hats 201
Theoretical stocks 204
Conclusion 208
Notes 209
References 210

12 Marxisms and capitalisms: From logic of accumulation to articulation of class structures 212
YAHYA M. MADRA AND FIKRET ADAMAN

Some basic concepts of Marxian economics 212
Marxism as a theory of accumulation: crisis theories 216
Interlude: colonialism and imperialism 220
Marxism beyond capitalism 221
Conclusion: theories and strategies 224
Notes 224
References 227

13 Marxism and method 230
DANIEL LITTLE

Introduction 230
"Methodology for social science research?" 231
The social science aim of Marxism 232
The twentieth-century trail breakers 236
Marx's influence on twentieth-century social science 240
Conclusion 242
Notes 243
References 243

Index 247