The Least Developed Countries and World Trade – Second Edition

STEFAN DE VYLDER
Contents

FOREWORD BY SIDA ................................................................. 4
EXECUTIVE SUMMARY .......................................................... 11
INTRODUCTION AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS ............................... 17
OUTLINE OF THE STUDY ....................................................... 21

1. PRESENTATION OF LDCS .................................................. 25
   1.1 Key data ........................................................................ 25
   1.2 Trends in the last few decades ........................................ 26
   1.3 The concept of LDC and the advantages and disadvantages of LDC status ............................................. 30
   1.4 LDCs and WTO – an introduction .................................... 33

2. TRADE AND DEVELOPMENT ............................................. 36
   2.1 Foreign trade theory: a brief review ................................. 36
      2.1.1 Ricardo and comparative advantages ....................... 36
      2.1.2 Static and dynamic effects ...................................... 37
      2.1.3 Is free trade always good for everyone? Some critical views ...................................................... 39
      2.1.4 Where do we stand today? What issues remain? .......... 41
   2.2 International trade and certain specific development issues ................................................................. 45
      2.2.1 International trade, income distribution and patterns of growth ...................................................... 45
      2.2.2 Trade and the environment with emphasis on LDC imports and exports ........................................... 46
      2.2.3 Gender aspects of international trade .......................... 50
      2.2.4 Trade and child labour ............................................ 52
      2.2.5 Trade and foreign direct investment ......................... 53

3. GROWTH, GLOBALISATION AND WORLD TRADE – GENERAL TRENDS ...... 56
   3.1 Patterns of growth ......................................................... 56
   3.2 Globalisation ............................................................... 59
      3.2.1 Technological and economic driving forces ............... 59
      3.2.2 The growing role of financial markets ..................... 60
      3.2.3 Globalisation: key actors ....................................... 61
      3.2.4 The implications of globalisation for world trade ........ 61
   3.3 The LDCs in world trade: an overview ............................. 63

4. TRADE POLICY REFORMS AND EXPORT OPPORTUNITIES IN LDCS .......... 66
   4.1 Trade policies liberalised in most LDCs ............................ 66
   4.2 Some underlying causes for LDCs’ declining share of world trade ......................................................... 69
   4.3 Trade liberalisation problems in LDCs: tariffs and government revenue ..................................................... 70
   4.4 Debt and financing issues as obstacles to trade in LDCs ................................................................. 72
   4.5 Future export opportunities for LDCs: traditional areas and new niches .................................................. 74
      4.5.1 New niches for LDCs – the example of organic products ................................................................. 75