Report of the High Powered Expert Committee on Making Mumbai an International Financial Centre

Ministry of Finance
Government of India
New Delhi

SAGE Publications
Los Angeles • London • New Delhi • Singapore
Contents

Executive Summary xiii
1. International Financial Services (IFS) and Centres (IFCs) in Perspective, xiii.—2. Implications for India and Mumbai, xiv.—3. The difference between BPO and IFS, xv.—4. What are International Financial Centres (IFCs) and Services (IFS)?, xvi.—5. Growth and globalisation drive India's demand for IFS, xviii.—6. India's competitive advantages in creating an IFC, xix.—7. Financial regime governance: policy and regulation, xx.—8. Reorienting the financial system towards IFS provision: A temporal roadmap for reform, xxiv.—9. Urban infrastructure and governance in Mumbai, xxviii.—10. The choice, xxx.

1. The Emergence of IFCs: A brief history 1
1. Meeting cross-border trade, investment and other needs, 1.—2. Evolution of international financial services (IFS) and centres (IFCs), 1.—3. The first round of globalisation: circa 1860-1914, 2.—4. An interregnum, the second round of globalisation (1945-71), and beyond, 3.—5. The 'take-off' of second round globalisation after 1980, 5.—6. Classification of IFCs, 6.—7. Why did Tokyo and Frankfurt not emerge as credible GFCs?, 8.—8. The Race to establish more IFCs around the world, 10.—9. Implications for India and need for Mumbai to emerge as an IFC, 11.

2. 21st Century IFS provided by IFCs 17

4. Domestic and Offshore demand for International Financial Services (IFS) in India 49
1. Implications of a large, rapidly growing home market for IFS, 49.—2. India's growing integration with the world, 50.—3. The impact of globalisation on IFS demand and on IFCs, 54.—4. Estimates for IFS consumption by India, 57.—5. Projections for IFS consumption by India, 58.—6. Implications for India's aspirations to create an IFC in Mumbai, 62.—7. IFS customers outside India as a market for an IFC in Mumbai, 63.—8. International comparisons, 64.

5. Augmenting IFS provision via BPO 65

6. Market deficiencies in Mumbai that inhibit the provision of IFS 75
1. The context in which Mumbai must develop and evolve as an IFC, 75.—2. Inadequate currency and bond markets (BCD Nexus), 76.—3. Missing currency & derivatives markets: An illustration, 79.—4. The market weakness of institutional investors, 82.—5. A cross-country comparison, 84.
7. The macroeconomic fallout of an IFC

8. Financial Regime Governance: Its role in an IFC and a comparative perspective 103
   1. The intrinsic value of regulation for IFS production, 103.—2. Three levels of international competition on regulation and law, 105.—3. Where does India stand? An illustrative bird’s eye view, 106.—4. The overall legal regime governing finance, 110.—5. Summary of cross-country comparisons, 114.

9. What are the limitations of financial regime governance? 115

10. Why does financial regime governance have these limitations? 131

11. Reforming financial regime governance 141

12. Tax policy for an IFC in Mumbai 157

13. A perspective on Mumbai’s strengths 171

14. Urban infrastructure and governance 179

15. The HPEC’s recommendations 187
    1. The general macroeconomic environment, 188.—2. Further Financial System Liberalisation and Reform, 193.—3. The challenge of urban infrastructure and governance in Mumbai, 206.

Selected Bibliography 211

A. The Committee 219

B. Comparing existing IFCs against Mumbai 221
C. Comparing emerging IFCs against Mumbai 225

D. Chronology of events associated with the effort by Benchmark Asset Management Company (BAMC) to start an Exchange Traded Fund (ETF) on Gold 229

E. Activities of various financial firms in the areas of operation at an IFC: Wall chart 231

F. Abbreviations 245