CENTRAL AFRICA:
CRISIS, REFORM AND RECONSTRUCTION

Edited by
E.S. D Fomin & John W. Forje

CODESRIA COUNCIL FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF
SOCIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH IN AFRICA
Contents

Introduction
E.S.D. Fomin and John W. Forje ................................................................. 1

Section I
Nation Building and Regional Integration:
Problems and Prospects

Regional Economic Blocs in Central Africa:
What Went Right and What Went Wrong?
Arsene Honore Gideon Nkama ............................................................... 17

The Paucity and Irregularity of Anglophone Newspapers in Cameroon
Victor Cheo and Henry Muluh ............................................................... 31

The Management of Ethnic Diversity in Cameroon:
The Case of the Coastal Areas
Emmanuel Yenshu Vubo ................................................................. 41

Effects of the Foreign Debt Burden on Saving Ratios
in the CEMAC Zone
George Ndoh Mbanga ................................................................. 64

The NEPAD Initiative: A Basis for Fostering Economic Recovery
in the CEMAC Zone
Ntangsi Max Memfih ................................................................. 80

Checking Rebels or Chasing Fortunes: Foreign States’ Elites and the DR Congo Conflict (1997–2002)
Oladiran W. Bello ................................................................. 105
The Youth and Environmental Education in Cameroon:
A Study of Secondary School-based Environmental Clubs
Andrew Wujung Vukenkeng ................................................................. 122

From Village to National and Global Art: Whose Art?
Walter Nkwi ........................................................ 133

Section II
The Weird Wind of Democratisation and Governance

Traumas, Memories and ‘Modern’ Politics in Central Africa
E. S. D. Fomin ................................................................. 157

Tribulations of a Democratic Transition:
The Cameroonian Experience
Valentine Ameli Tabi ................................................................. 175

Protection against Human Rights Abuses in the Central Africa Sub-Region: The Case of Children
Margaret Ayike ................................................................. 189

The Vicissitudes of Cameroon Civil Society in the 1990s:
What Lessons for the Central African Region?
Susanna Yene Awasom ................................................................. 210

Rethinking Political Will and Empowerment as Missing Dimensions in Post-Conflict Reform and Reconstruction in the Central African Sub-Region
John W. Forje ................................................................. 223

Conflict and Violence in Central Africa:
The Political Economy Behind Internal and External Networks in Fomenting War in the Sub-Region
Ian Taylor ................................................................. 241